GRANT ONLY FOUR CLAIMS

Charles Taft Did Not Intercede with Brother to Obtain Favor for Certain Men.

LETTER QUOTED NOT IN FILES

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., July 10.—[Special.]—The Controller bay incident promises, after the dust has cleared away, to go down in history as an attempt to make a mountain out of a mole hill.

The vital question involved is whether or not the president and former Secretary of the Interior Richard A. Ballinger gave a monopoly of exit to the sea for a railroad connecting with the rich coal mines of southwestern Alaska. No such monopoly has been granted.

The shore line of Controller bay is twelve miles in extent. Up to date only four claims, aggregating less than 640 acres, with a shore frontage of less than 500 rods, have been filed. These have not been approved.

There remains, consequently, a long shore line available for other railroads. Four proposed lines have made approximate locations within six miles of the entire Controller bay shore line.

Must Consider Public Interest.

Even admitting that only one railroad terminus were possible upon Controller bay, the question the president and the secretary of the interior would have to decide, if a claim were filed upon that location, would be whether the public interests justified them in approving the claim and thus permitting a monopoly.

In other words, would it be proper for them to deny the claim, thereby closing the exit for Alaskan coal, and advantaging the coal properties of the United States. The answer to this is obvious.

The president and Secretary Fisher will send to both houses of congress within the next day or two detailed responses to the resolutions passed by both the senate and house with reference to the railroad situation at Controller bay. They are confident the policy pursued by the administration in this matter will be approved by the country when understood.

Roosevelt Made Forest Reserve.

Shortly before the Cunningham coal claims, which are located in the hinterland of Controller bay, became a subject of such bitter controversy, President Roosevelt issued an order creating what is known as the Chugach National Forest, which extends from the shore of Controller bay back into the interior of Alaska.

James J. Ryan, promoter of the Controller Railway and Navigation company, sought to obtain a terminus on Controller bay for the railroad. Ryan saw Mr. Ballinger, then secretary of the interior, and subsequently President Taft. He claimed he was not a representative of the Guggenheims, and indeed it was the understanding that he and the financiers behind him were antagonistic to those interests.

As a matter of fact, the Guggenheims already had built or were building a railroad in southwestern Alaska and it was hardly likely they would want another penetrating the same region when they could have fun a spur from their line to the Cunningham mines in case their efforts to obtain those mines had been successful.

Brother Did Not Advise Taft.

The president received no representations from his brother, Charles P. Taft, at Cincinnati, in behalf of Ryan, and neither he nor the interior department knows anything of an alleged postscript on a letter written by "R. S. Ryan" to Mr. Ballinger dated July 18, 1910. The postscript which Miss M. F. Abbot, a weekly magazine representative, claims to have copied from the official document, is as follows:

Dear D.: I went to see the president the other day about this Controller bay affair. The president asked me whom it was I represented. I told him, according to our agreement, that I represented myself. But that didn't seem to satisfy him. So I sent for Charles Taft and asked him to tell his brother who it really was I represented. The president made no further objection to my claim. DICK.

According to Miss Abbot, the letter to which the above postscript was attached was signed "R. S. Ryan," while the claimant to the Controller bay holdings is "James J. Ryan."

Decides to Permit Entries.

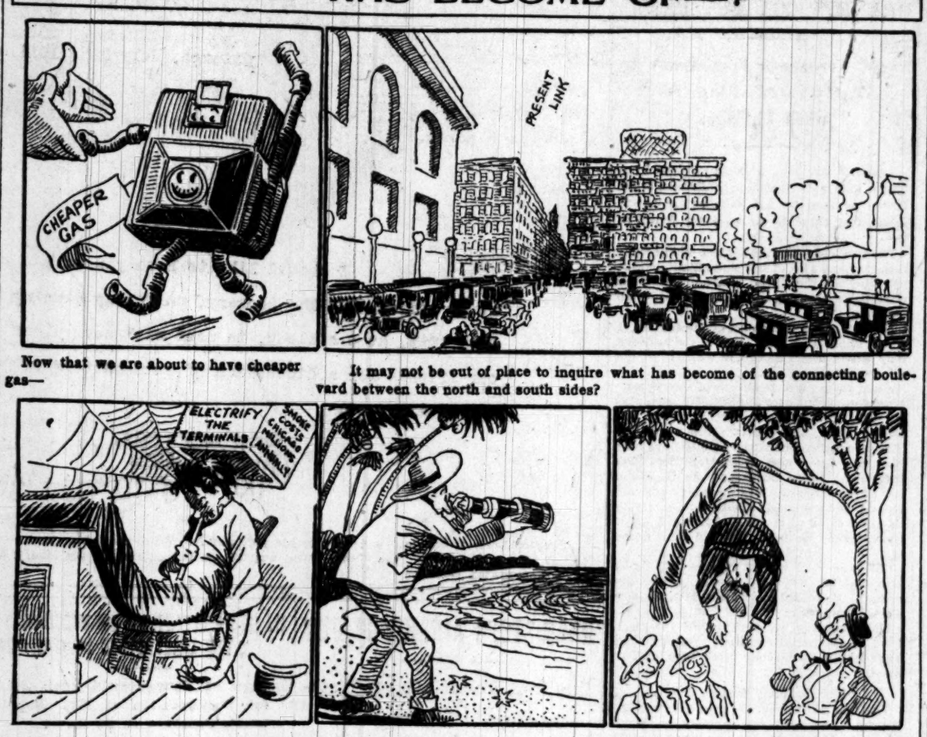

The president carefully considered the matter of granting Ryan's application and the interests involved were so important that he took the question up at a cabinet meeting. It was decided to permit claims to be filed on the shore of Controller bay, which, not being frustrated, could not legally be reserved from public entry, but to enforce the law that no entries should be allowed exceeding more than 160 rods along the shore of any navigable waters, and along such shores a space of at least eighty rods should be reserved from entry between all claims.

On Oct. 28 last the president issued a proclamation opening to entry a section of the Controller bay land. Shortly thereafter four claims were filed, two in the name of Ryan, one behind the other, he having urged he must have 320 acres instead of the usual 160, and two under soldiers' additional homestead acts.

"WHAT HAS BECOME OF—?"

Now that we are about to have cheaper gas—

It may not be out of place to inquire what has become of the connecting boulevard between the north and south sides?

Also, what has become of the electrification movement?

And we never have heard whether the treasure expedition that found the $60,000,000 treasure in Honduras ever reached port.

And we never heard whether the Danville vote scandal ever got anywhere. Is it still up in the air?

And what has become of those big legislation bribery cases in Ohio?

And where is the Jap war scare summering? We've completely lost track of it.

And the man who was going to cross the Atlantic in an airship this summer? We haven't heard anything further about that for months.

REPORT BOMB NO. 7 FIRED.

Latest Commonwealth Explosion Thought to Have Occurred in Locality of South Chicago.

It was reported at 1 o'clock this morning that another manhole over a conduit carrying wires belonging to the Commonwealth-Edison company had been damaged by the explosion of a bomb, the seventh in the series. According to the lighting company the explosion occurred in or near South Chicago. The police had no report of the blast, which was felt as far north as Chicago avenue.

4 DROWN; 3 SAVED ON SUMMER LAKES

Two Chicagoans Lose Lives on First Day of Vacation; Third Watches.

FISHERMAN RESCUES TWO

Four Chicagoans have been drowned and three more narrowly escaped drowning, within the last forty-eight hours.

The first day of vacation for three Chicagoans was transformed into a day of tragedy yesterday. Two were drowned in Lake Marie, near Antioch, Ill., a few minutes after starting on a fishing trip. The accident happened as the result of attempting to change seats in a rowboat.

Went for Week's Outing.

The trio went to Dressel's hotel at Lake Marie on Sunday afternoon, intending to spend a week at the resort. When Wilson and Wagner started out on the lake in a rowboat, Ackerly walked along the lake shore. Soon he heard cries for help and saw his two companions struggling in the water, their rowboat floating overturned a few feet away.

Ackerly hastily secured another boat and with others rowed to where the men were seen. By the time they arrived at the spot, however, both had disappeared. The body of Wilson was recovered, but up to a late hour Wagner's body had not been found.

Boy Seized with Cramps.

Eugene Kennedy, who lived at One Hundred Thirty-fifth street and Sawyer avenue, was drowned Sunday afternoon while swimming in a clay hole in the Fox stone quarry. He was 19 years old.

Boy Scouts camping at Druce Lake, near Waukegan, made ineffectual efforts to save Louis Koraleski of Chicago from drowning Sunday afternoon. Koraleski, who was 23 years old, had gone to Waukegan for an outing. Two friends who had accompanied him had rowed out in the lake, while he swam near the boat. Suddenly he sank.

Fisherman Saves Two.

Almost exhausted by clinging to their capsized boat in the lake about a mile off Castlewood terrace, W. T. Schulties, a real estate dealer, Winthrop avenue and Winona street, and A. J. Kutschera, a garage owner, 4222 Evanston avenue, were rescued yesterday afternoon by Peter De Rock, a fisherman. Ernest Raymond of Chicago was rescued from Lake Michigan yesterday afternoon.

Startling from Michigan City, Ind., in a shall boat, he had planned to spend the afternoon fishing. Some distance from shore he lost control of his small craft and, at the mercy of a strong off-shore wind, was carried rapidly out in the lake.

Powerless to aid himself, he had drifted almost out of sight, when Daniel Holandsworth, James Benson, and Bert Silvey of Logansport put out to rescue him. Fully fifteen miles they pursued him in a small sailboat before they finally overhauled him.

COUNCIL PUSHES PLAN FOR MAKING LAKE SHORE LANDS

BIG STABLES FACE FIRE INSPECTION

WHAT THE COUNCIL DID.

Ordered starting of "Wacker plan" to build lake front park of city's refuse.

Received opinion from corporation counsel that city may build and own subways, issue bonds and secure them with the traction fund.

Refused to arbitrate gas rate.

Considered new automobile regulations.

Approved appointment of Osborn Monnett as smoke inspector

Ordered fire inspection of all large stables.

Deferred fixing date for adjournment

Filed petition of Matthias Mueller contesting seat of Ald. Felix B. Janovsky.

By virtually unanimous action the city council last evening took the first step to create and develop with the city's waste long stretches of public lands along the Chicago lake shore.

A few desultory attacks were made, on such charges as that this work might interfere with the construction of an outer harbor and that it might pollute the city's water supply, but they disappeared, and only two aldermen voted against Ald. Charles M. Foell's resolution requesting important reports on the subject from city officials and others.

His presentation of the subject to his associates, with a strong plea for its adoption, followed a study of the possibilities in this direction appearing in THE TRIBUNE after the plan had been brought to the public eye by Charles H. Wacker, chairman of the Chicago plan commission.

Says 100 Acres Can Be Built Annually

In support of his motion Ald. Foell urged that 100 acres of land could be built annually by using dirt from building excavations and similar work, and that the present method of dumping it in the lake eight miles from shore is a menace to the public health.

"Hundreds of acres of land have been created by the Lincoln park commissioners and the south park commissioners," he began, "and we are throwing away millions of cubic yards of material such as they used in this work. Some of it is deposited in the lake beyond the eight mile limit as required by the recent federal act, and the rest is removed to distant portions of the city, in both cases at an unnecessary expense and with no resultant utilization of such material for any public purpose.

Federal Act Permits Plan.

"This same federal act permits the dumping of this material behind suitable breakwaters and the disposition of it in this manner would result in the creation of large areas of immensely valuable land along the lake shore, ideally suited for public parks and playgrounds, and readily accessible to the great mass of the people. We should seize the opportunity at once."

His resolution directed the corporation counsel to report upon the city's powers to empty its refuse behind breakwaters as he proposed, it directed the commissioner of public works to report the amount of waste material suitable for this work, the cost of its removal by the present methods, the saving that would be made by the proposed methods, the extent of the land that could be created, and its value.

Looks to Help Harbor Plan.

It also asked whether such waste could not be used in filling in between the mouth of the river and Randolph street, the land to be used in connection with prospective harbor development.

It also requested Health Commissioner Young to report whether the breakwater method would endanger the water supply, and on the relative results from a sanitary standpoint of the present and the proposed methods.

The resolution also invited the Chicago plan commission to advise the council whether the suggested mode of disposing of the city's waste could be used in conjunction with the commission plan for the development of outer driveways.

Favors Bauler Gas Rate.

The city council manifested its intention of passing the Bauler gas ordinance, which fixes the rates to be charged for gas at an average price of 70 1-5 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for the next five years.

The proposed ordinance was submitted to the council by Ald. Charles Twigg, chairman of the gas, oil, and electric light committee, which recommended its passage at a meeting held in the afternoon. It was ordered deferred and published and if present plans are followed it will be called up for passage at the last council meeting before the summer vacation, which will be held next Monday night.

The council turned down Ald. A. J. Fisher's plan of arbitrating the differences between the People's Gas Light and Coke company and the city. Ald. Fisher introduced a resolution providing for the selection of five commissioners to determine a fair rate to be charged for gas. By coöperation between

LORIMER SPEAKS IN SECRET PARLEY

"GUS" NOHE GUARDS DOOR

All Silent as to Session; Petit, Newcomer, Haneey, and Many Ex-Jobholders There.

Senator William Lorimer held an important secret conference last night with his legal and political lieutenants.

Thirty or forty men were present and listened to addresses from Mr. Lorimer and others, but the purpose and meaning of the meeting was not given out to the public. Reporters were not admitted and the doors were guarded carefully.

The conference was held in Mr. Lorimer's offices in the Rookery and lasted from 8 o'clock until nearly midnight.

The invitations were sent out by the senator himself, written on letter heads of the United States senate committee on expenditures in the navy department. The letter said:

I should like to have you call at my office, 947 The Rookery, on Monday evening, July 10, at 8 o'clock, to meet with several of our friends for a discussion of some matters of mutual interest. Yours very truly, WILLIAM LORIMER.

Subject Discussed Not Learned.

The serious purport of the meeting was recognized and the invited Lorimerites were prompt in arriving. What Mr. Lorimer discussed in his talk could not be learned. Whether it concerned his course in connection with the senate inquiry and its prospective outcome or was a call to arms for the next campaign under the banner of the "Lorimer-Lincoln" league couldn't be determined.

Aside from Mr. Lorimer's speech talks were given by former Judge Elbridge Haney, counsel for Lorimer before the senate investigating committee in Washington, and former Congressman Fred Lundin, a frequent companion of the senator in his journeys to and from Washington.

Shortly before midnight Senator Lorimer, Mr. Haney, and the others emerged from the Rookery, glum and silent.

"Will there be a statement issued by any one?"

"There will not," came from Senator Lorimer.

Attorney Haney was asked for an indication of what the addresses concerned.

"You heard what the senator said," was his answer. "I am no court of appeals."

Discussion with the thirty Lorimer leaders, representing most of the wards, disclosed a conflicting lot of ideas as to what really happened behind the doors which "Fire Escape" Gus Nohe guarded as sergeant at arms.

Talk of "Lincoln League."

Some said it was for the purpose of perfecting the Lincoln league, an organization of Lorimerites, which will buck the Progressive league. Others intimated that it had to do with the financial end of the senatorial investigation now in progress. Still others suggested that the talk was about a probable slate for Superior court judges and for a Lorimer ticket for next April's primaries.

Municipal Court Judge John R. Newcomer was one man present who couldn't remember anything that happened except that William Hale Thompson presided, that Chris Mamer was secretary, and that Senator Lorimer made a speech. Judge Newcomer couldn't say what Lorimer talked about and he wished the newspaper boys please wouldn't say he had been on the job. Newcomer just happened in, he said, because he had been invited to attend a meeting of the Lincoln league, and he wanted to see what the league was for. He said he hadn't found out.

Nearly all the conspicuous lieutenants of the old Lorimer machine were permitted to pass Gus Nohe's eagle eye.

Some of Those Present.

Besides Mr. Haney, Mr. Lundin, and Mr. Thompson, these were noted as among those present:

Representative David E. Shanahan, former Criminal Court Clerk William C. Lawson, William J. Cooke, former superintendent of the west parks; former Congressman William J. Moxley, ex-Ald. John H. Jones of the Eighth ward, former Representative "Al" Glade, former Supreme Court Clerk Chris Mamer, former Justice of the Peace John Richardson, former State Senator Charles E. Cruikshank, former Deputy Sheriff Thomas Finucane, former Deputy Sheriff Thomas J. Magner, former Representative E. C. Fitch, former member of Gov. Yates' staff, David L. Frank; former Deputy Sheriff James A. Fleming, Representative Frederick E. Erickson, Representative Benton F. Kleeman, former Grain Inspector Joseph E. Bidwill, the Rev. A. J. Carey, sole representative of the colored men, and Circuit Judge Adelor J. Petit, who issued the habeas corpus writ for Edward Tilden.

There were others. The proportion of "former" officeholders held good through the whole list.

200 FLEE EARLY MORNING FIRE; TWO WOMEN ARE BURNED.

One hundred and fifty families were driven from the six story Norwood apartment building, 3000-3006 Indiana avenue, early this morning by fire.

Two women were burned. They are:

Mrs. Lucile Smith, hair burned off.

The upper three stories of the building were destroyed and the loss will exceed $25,000. The cause is unknown.

The building contained twenty-four apartments. The fire is believed to have been caused by crossed wires on the fourth floor. It broke out at about 2 o'clock in the morning and was through the roof before all of the occupants had escaped.

They found egress by the stairways, elevators, outside fire escapes, and others were carried down by firemen.

TWO BANKS ARE INTERESTED

Officers of First National and of the Corn Exchange Hold Meetings; Say They Are Secured.

RUMORS OF SUICIDE ARE DENIED

Close upon the death of James Pettit, who was found dead from drowning in Lake Michigan near the Moraine hotel Saturday morning, came an announcement yesterday of the retirement from business of the firm of which he was president and general manager.

At 5 o'clock last evening a number of telegrams were sent out by the Peavey Grain company to its agents and customers all over the country. It was stated that owing to the death of Mr. Pettit the company had decided to retire from the commission business in Chicago.

The Peavey Elevator company, which is a separate corporation and whose trademark (PV) may be seen on the elevators of almost every agricultural center in the country and on lake and Mississippi steamboats, is not affected, however.

The retirement of the grain company followed meetings of officers of the First National bank, the Corn Exchange National bank, and possibly other Chicago financial institutions yesterday afternoon.

Inquiry of Banks Follows Death.

The tragic ending of Mr. Pettit's life is said to have a significant bearing on this action. It is pointed out that the inquiry was set afoot by the banks on the first business day following his death.

An official of the Corn Exchange bank put the amount of the money involved at $750,000. He said, however, that he thought the banks would be secured by the warehouse certificates for wheat put up as collateral and also by the Peavey interests in Minnesota, though the Peavey Grain company is a separate corporation from the Peavey Elevator company.

"Our directors held no meeting today," said this Corn Exchange official, "but some of the officers of our institution got together and discussed the matter of the Peavey company's debt to the bank. I think a committee was appointed to look further into the matter."

"The Peavey Grain company has done a big business with us for a long while," said an officer of the First National bank. "These loans were not under my care and I knew practically nothing of them until a short time ago, further than that they existed. I do not believe loans of such an amount would have been made had the security not seemed ample."

The statement that the banks were fully protected from loss was emphasized.

Denies Suicide Rumors.

These developments cast a shadow of mystery back over Pettit's death. Rumors of suicide began to circulate as soon as the matter with the banks became known. They were not based on any known evidence and simply were the result of the queer, lonely drowning of Pettit, plus the suspicions that come with the knowledge of a financial tangle.

"I don't believe it," said George E. Marcey, president of the Armour Grain company, the last man to talk to Pettit and also a lifelong friend. "He came to me in the dining room of the Moraine hotel, where I was getting my breakfast, sat down at my table, and talked of his early morning dips in the lake. He invited me to go with him then, but I told him I couldn't. We made an engagement for the next morning. Jim Pettit didn't kill himself."

Question of His Insurance.

Intimate friends of Mr. Pettit last night said that he had only a small amount of insurance, which he had carried for some time.

"That may be so," said another friend, "but I heard today that he got $20,000 only three months ago in the New York Life."

In one of Pettit's life policies his little son is the beneficiary, the amount being set apart as a trust fund to educate the boy. Another policy was made in favor of Mrs. Pettit. Also there is a Fidelity and Casualty policy for $25,000. The company has secured a copy of the inquest proceedings and will demand a post-mortem examination.

Office Force Busy at Night.

It was at 5 p. m. yesterday that the Peavey Grain company sent out telegrams to agents and customers stating that, owing to the death of Mr. Pettit, the company had decided to retire from the commission business in Chicago, confining its efforts in the future to elevator operations.

Customers with open accounts were requested to transfer them to other firms. The notice was signed by F. T. Heffelfinger and F. B. Wells of Minneapolis, who have been in charge of the business since Mr. Peavey's death. Mr. Heffelfinger is the husband of one of the Peavey girls of Minneapolis.

The notice of suspension read:

Owing to the death of our president, Mr. Pettit, we have concluded to retire from the commission business, confining ourselves entirely to our elevator business.

You will kindly either transfer your open trades to other firms or we can close them for you, if you prefer us to do so.—Peavey Grain Company.

The offices of the Peavey Grain company, 915-917 Postal Telegraph building, were open until late last night. Samuel T. Graff of Hinsdale, secretary of the company, and a Mr. Livingston, its local manager, were there until late in the evening.

Work Long Over Books.

In the meantime the full office force was kept busy going over the accounts, checking up on daybooks and ledgers, new and old, and preparing a statement of the standing of the company as they found it. One of them said he did not know whether it would be his last day's work or not.

The Peavey company did an immense business on the board. When incorporated it was with a comparatively small capital. Soon the volume of its transactions grew so large that some surprise was expressed that so much business could be done on so small a capital. Shortly after this comment began general the capital stock was increased.

Brokers conversant with the firm's business last night expressed surprise at the news of its retirement from business. They were not greatly surprised, however, to hear of the banking situation revealed by Pettit's death.

"There have been a lot of things going on that we did not understand and could not figure out," said a heavy operator. "We knew the firm must have lost heavily in the last two years on 'straddles,' but we guessed that what we saw was only one-half the trade—that is, that while they lost here the other end of the trade was in Minneapolis, where they made up their Chicago losses."

The company was not spoken of as being a heavy dealer in the big line of May wheat.

Mr. Pettit himself was not a wealthy man. He rose in the ranks of the Peavey Elevator company, coming to Chicago from Minneapolis to take charge of the grain company. He is said to have had a small interest in the firm, deriving his actual income from his salary as manager of the firm.

Quitting Commission Business.

C. W. Lane, associated with Mr. Pettit as manager of the commission branch of the grain company, said last night that the main office in Chicago dealing in future commissions, as well as all the branch offices of the company engaged in the same form of trade, located in Buffalo, New York City, St Louis, and Minneapolis, would be discontinued at once. The Chicago office of the Peavey Grain company, he said, would merely be concerned taking care of the South Chicago elevators and other country elevators in the tributary to Chicago.

"We are retiring from the future commission business because Mr. Pettit was the only man connected with the Peavey Grain company who was familiar enough with the future market in Chicago to operate the entire commission business of the company. The Chicago speculative market is different from that of any other section of the country, and we had no one to take Mr. Pettit's place.

"Then, again, we are cash grain people and we operate grain warehouses and country grain elevators. That is our original field and we are going back to it exclusively.

"The books of the company are being audited. We have been working on them ever since I took charge of the office. When a man in charge of such a large business as Mr. Pettit dies suddenly, it is usual to audit his books. We have found everything in excellent shape as far as we have gone in looking over the books.

"As a matter of fact, we would be auditing the books about this time if Mr. Pettit had lived, for this is the closing season for last year's crop and the opening up of the new crop."

Drowns in Two Feet of Water.

Mr. Pettit's body was found face downward in about two feet of water off the beach at the Moraine hotel in Highland Park Saturday morning, about an hour and a half after he is thought to have entered the water.

There was a heavy contusion on the right temple, swollen and discolored as is possible only when received during life. This kept the coroner's jury in session for some time before the verdict of "accidental drowning" was reached. The presence of the mark was explained by the nearness of a floating log.

Mr. Pettit's failure to be ready for his automobile at the time he was in the habit of starting for his office in the city started his chauffeur on a search for him, and Mrs. Pettit remembered her husband had spoken of going to the lake for a swim. The chauffeur discovered the body floating a little later.

He had been a member of the board of trade for several years, and was prominent in business affairs even outside of his connection with the big grain concern. He also was a member of numerous clubs, among them the Union League, Chicago, University, Midday, South Shore Country, Exmoor, and Chicago Yacht clubs.

Mr. Pettit was born in Alliance, O., forty-two years ago. He attended the University of Minnesota and later received the degree of bachelor of philosophy from Oberlin college, Ohio. Immediately after graduating he entered his father's office with the Minnesota and Dakota Elevator company at Minneapolis. Since 1901 he had been president of the Peavey Grain company.

Heffelfinger at Funeral.

Frank T. Heffelfinger, president of the Peavey Elevator company, came from Minneapolis Sunday morning to consult Mr. Lane regarding the closing up of the company's commission business, and to attend the funeral of Mr. Pettit. He acted as pallbearer at the funeral of Mr. Pettit and left last evening for Minneapolis.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock with services at the Chicago residence, 49 Cedar street. The body was interred in Rosehill cemetery. The funeral was attended by all the officers and employés of the Peavey Grain company.

WILL CONTINUE ELEVATORS.

St. Paul, Minn., July 10.—[Special.]—According to announcements here the death of James Pettit caused the decision of the Peavey Grain company of Chicago to discontinue its brokerage business. The company will continue operating its terminal elevators in Chicago and will conduct a general warehouse business, according to F. B. Wells, vice president of F. H. Peavey & Co. of Minneapolis.

"Mr. Pettit managed our brokerage business down there," Mr. Wells explained, "and when he died there was no one available to succeed him in that department, so we decide to discontinue it.

"Mr. Pettit was president of the Peavey Grain company, the stock of which, though it is an independent concern, is owned by F. H. Peavey & Co. The books of the Chicago company have not been seen here and consequently we know nothing of the details of its condition.

"Creditors of the Peavey Grain company may be assured of one thing, however, if the company is found to be involved, it will not in any way affect F. H. Peavey & Co., and the creditors of the Peavey Grain company will lose nothing."

ATTACKS CITY PENSION LAW.

Edward J. Hughes Alleges $2 Collection for Fund Violates Constitution.

Validity of provisions in the new municipal employés' pension fund act is questioned in an action begun yesterday in the Circuit court by Edward J. Hughes, a stenographer for the board of examining engineers. The law calls for $2 a month being deducted from salaries and applied to the fund. Execution of this provision, Hughes contends, is unconstitutional.

CITY HAS POWER TO BUILD SUBWAY

Corporation Counsel Tells the Council It Also Has Right to Issue Bonds.

CAN USE TRACTION FUND.

No Legislation Needed; May Allow Public Utilities to Use Bore Space.

Chicago can build its own subway system, it may issue bonds for that purpose, and it may use the traction fund to secure the bond issue.

These findings were sent to the city council last evening as the opinion of the municipal law department. Several weeks of study were devoted to the subject by Corporation Counsel Sexton and two assistants, John W. Beckwith and Frank Johnston Jr.

The opinion was made public following a final public hearing on the subway question by the committee on local transportation. Declarations that the council now is in a position to "get down to hard work" and formulate its final plans for its underground traction system followed.

What City Has Right to Do.

The conclusions of the opinion:

The city has the general power, without further enabling legislation, to own and construct a system of subways.

The city has the right to construct a system of subways by day labor if the statute passed by the last general assembly is a valid one. In the absence of such legislation the city would not have the right so to do.

The city has the right to construct a system of subways by contract for local transportation of passengers.

The city has no right to construct or own a system of subways for the transportation of merchandise.

The city has the right to provide for underground municipal utilities owned by the city.

The city, in the construction of the system of subways, is not limited to its present needs, but may provide for its future growth.

The city may allow utilities owned by individuals and private or quasi-public corporations to use a portion of the space in the subway, provided such use does not in any way interfere with the primary object of street railway transportation. The expense, however, of reconstruction and readjustment of such utilities must be borne by such individuals or corporations.

Has Power to Lease System.

The city has no power to operate a street railway in the system of subways without a popular vote approving of the proposition. The question was submitted to the people and was defeated.

The city has the power to lease the system of subways constructed by it to railways incorporated under the laws of the state for the purpose of operating street railways for a term not exceeding twenty years.

The city has the power to issue bonds for the construction and equipment of subways, provided said bonds are a lien upon such property and income only, and are not included in the bonded debt of the city.

The city has the right exclusively to pledge and pay the traction fund as interest upon such bond issue and to use any portion of such fund for the purpose of funding such bonds.

The city has the right further to use any net revenue received, either from the operation or the leasing of such subways when constructed, for the purpose of retiring such bonds.

How Bond Issue Can Be Used.

The city has the power to pay out of such bond issue the cost of reconstruction or replacement of underground municipal utilities owned by itself which may be disturbed by the building of the subways.

The city has no power to pay out of such bond issue the cost of reconstruction or replacement of underground municipal utilities owned by individuals and private or quasi-public corporations which may be disturbed by the building of the subways.

For the information of the council upon the city's present unexercised bonding power, Corporation Counsel Sexton appended a report of City Controller Traeger that $12,700,385 in bonds would be available for immediate use in subway construction if the voters should approve such an issue.

Gives Harbor and Subway Plan.

A comprehensive plan, including a passenger subway system, an outer harbor, a boulevard link between the north and south sides with large warehouses and a high permanent bridge over the Chicago river, was explained to the council local transportation committee during the day by Shirlaw D. Gookins, secretary of the Chicago Subway Arcade and Traction company.

All these things, Mr. Gookins says, can be built for $95,912,000. Financiers in New York and England are ready to furnish the money, J. P. Morgan was mentioned as one of the backers.

Mr. Gookins' plan provides for a subway system, 50 miles in length, stretching out from the downtown district under the principal thoroughfares of the city. The cost is estimated at $71,912,000.

Construction of an outer harbor is made a part of the plan because the dirt removed in the construction of the subway can be used at building it. The cost of constructing the harbor is estimated at $9,000,000.

$15,000,000 for Boulevard Link.

The boulevard link, with warehouses and a bridge over the river will cost $15,000,000, according to the plans. The subway system provides for a number of loops and transfer points in the downtown district. A number of through routes also are proposed, as well as a terminal in Grant park, between Monroe and Randolph streets.

BID FOR 10,000 STREET LIGHTS.

Two Concerns So Near Together on Figure Sanitary Trustees Will Hold Special Meeting.

Contracts for 10,000 additional street lights for the city will be discussed at a meeting of the engineering committee of the sanitary board of trustees today. The bidders for the contract are the General Electric company and the Steve Arc Light company, and the bids are so close together that at a meeting of the committee yesterday it was impossible to reach a conclusion. A special meeting of the trustees will be held Thursday. Action upon the report of the engineering committee will be taken.

JAMES PETTIT

the city and the gas company, Ald. Fisher said, protracted litigation could be avoided. He asked for the passage of the resolution under suspension of the rules, but his motion was defeated by a vote of 61 to 6. His resolution went to committee.

In asking for arbitration as a means of determining a proper rate for gas, Ald. Fisher declared that the passage of the Bauler ordinance would mean long and expensive litigation during which time the gas company would continue to charge the present rate of 85 cents for gas.

He asked that two commissioners be appointed by the city and two by the gas company. His resolution provided that the four commissioners were to select a fifth member and after deciding on a gas rate to report their findings to the gas, oil, and electric light committee.

Seventy-five cents for the first year.

Seventy cents for the second and third years.

Sixty-eight cents for the fourth and fifth years.

It was recommended for passage by the gas, oil, and electric light committee by a vote of 9 to 2. At the suggestion of Mayor Harrison, Maclay Hoyne, first assistant corporation counsel, had copies of the proposed ordinance printed and distributed at the council meeting.

The new ordinance, which was prepared by Mr. Hoyne, prohibits the gas company from imposing penalties for delays in the payments of bills. It provides a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $200 if a rate in excess of the maximum is charged.

Votes for Repeal Ordinance.

The committee also voted to recommend for passage a repealing ordinance submitted by Mr. Hoyne. The proposed ordinance, if passed, will repeal sections 6, 7, and 9 of the ordinance passed Feb. 14, 1906, and regulating the price of gas for five years.

The repealing of these sections will be another blow at the People's Gas Light and Coke company. Section 6, which it is proposed to eliminate, approves the consolidation and leasing of gas companies. This right already exists by virtue of a state law, it is declared, but the present ordinance is a recognition of that right. Therefore it is planned to eliminate that recognition from the ordinance.

Section 8 released the Ogden and the Universal gas companies from making payments of 3½ per cent of their gross earnings to the city, as required by their franchise ordinances. If this section is repealed the city may be able to collect approximately $30,000 annually from the Ogden Gas company.

Draw Up New Auto Laws.

The first systematic plan for utilizing the recent grant of increased powers in the regulation of automobiles by the legislature was presented to the council and a proposed ordinance approved by representatives of the police of the city and the three park boards. It embodies all of the suggestions already presented to the council and includes several other regulations.

Among its prohibitions are the following:

"Cutting out" of mufflers.

Noxious smoke, gas, steam, or odor.

Discharge of embers, oil, or fuel.

Siren whistles and "loud or unnecessary" noise.

Arrest Made Easier.

The manner of prosecution for all offenses will be changed by the ordinance. It provides that an offender shall be asked for his license card and that upon the policeman's being satisfied that he is the owner of the card he shall be notified to appear in the Municipal courts the following morning. In the event that he does not appear the policeman will swear out a warrant for his arrest. The fines provided range from $5 to $100 for each offense. It was referred to the judiciary committee.

Health Commissioner Young's request for an ordinance authorizing his department to control the issuance of bathing suits at private beaches was referred to the health committee. Ald. Ellis Geiger's resolution for an investigation by the fire and buildings departments of all stables housing more than four horses was sent to the building committee. It was based on the Dixon and Reebie fires.

Janovsky Held in Seat.

Little old business was called up for passage, as matters presented at the previous meeting Thursday, July 6, had not been published a sufficient length of time. The one important exception to this was the contest of Matthias Mueller for the seat of Ald. Felix B. Janovsky of the Twenty-ninth ward. A majority committee report recommended that the petition be filed, and despite the minority report that this action was based on party lines instead of the merits of the case, Janovsky was held in his seat. The vote was along party lines except for Ald. Harding Shufelt, Pringle, and Long, Republicans, who supported the majority report.

It was a shirtsleeve session after the first half hour.

SEVEN AT NIGHT IN BIG AIR RACE

BENNETT CONTEST PRIZE.

Noted Aeronauts Participate in Feat; Craft Sailing Toward Chicago.

Kansas City, Mo., July 10.—Driven by a fifteen mile wind from the southwest, seven 88,000 feet capacity gas balloons and one of 40,000 feet capacity sailed away today in the national balloon race.

The two leaders in the contest will be privileged to sail two of the three balloons that wil represent the United States in the James Gordon Bennett cup race, which starts from here next Oct. 4.

As distance is the object of the contest, it is not improbable that some of the balloons may travel near Chicago, in which direction all are sailing tonight.

When last heard from four of the contestants were sailing over Gallatin, Mo., seventy-six miles northeast. Two other racers had passed Holt, Mo., thirty miles northeast. The seventh balloon is reported to have been last seen going east from Hamilton, Mo., forty-eight miles northeast. At Hamilton one of the aeronauts was scooping out much ballast and gradually rising, apparently in an effort to find a better air current. None of the balloons has been identified while in the air.

Only one balloon that left the field today has alighted. That is the pilot balloon Topeka I. It landed near Polo, Mo., about 8 o'clock tonight.

Not a serious accident marred the start. Five of the aerial craft got away in what experienced balloonists said were perfect starts.

Pilot Balloon Makes Start.

The first balloon to leave the field was the Topeka I., of 40,000 feet capacity, and not a regular entrant. It was permitted to start as a pilot balloon to the Topeka II.

At 4:47 o'clock the pilot balloon Topeka No. 1 was sent up. W. F. Jacobs, Topeka, Kas., was pilot; Carl Dienstback of Berlin aid, and F. W. Stein of Atchison, Kas., passenger.

The Kansas City, the first official entry in the race, soared away at 5:10 o'clock, taking a northeast direction. H. E. Honeywell of St. Louis is pilot and John Watts, Kansas City, aid.

With William F. Assmann as pilot and John M. O'Reilly as aid, the Miss Sofia, representing the St. Louis Aero club, left the ground at 5:20 p. m.

The Topeka No. 2, which got away at 5:26 p. m., hung on the fence surrounding the balloon grounds fully a minute, when it rose. It finally released itself. Frank M. Jacobs is pilot and Raffe Emerson aid.

One Requires Two Starts.

The Million Population balloon had to have two starts before it would rise. At first the bag clung to the earth, rising only two feet. It was brought back after going fifty feet and given a new start. It got away finally at 5:36 o'clock. John M. Berry is pilot and McCullough is aid.

The Buckeye of the Cleveland [O.] Aero club rose at 5:43. G. H. Wade is pilot and R. H. Hitchcock aid.

The St. Louis IV., Lieut. Frank J. Lahm, pilot, and Lieut. John P. Hart, aid, sailed away at 5:48. It rose the highest of any of the balloons as the band played "Casey Jones."

The last bag to go aloft was the New York, Clifford B. Harmon, pilot; Augustus Post, aid. It rose at 6:02.

Pilot, Ill, Starts First Trip.

Shortly after 8 o'clock tonight J. Cowan Hulbert of St. Louis left the field in his 40,000 foot balloon Missouri in an effort to break the distance record for balloons of that size. The record is 325 miles. Hulbert was accompanied by Henry Weber of St. Louis.

The pilot was ill when he ascended, but he refused to abandon his flight. This is Weber's first balloon trip.

In the Bennett cup race, an international event, three pilots, the two leaders in the national meet and Alan R. Hawley, will sail under the stars and stripes. Hawley piloted the America II. to victory in the Bennett cup race last year by making a spectacular flight of 1,171.13 miles into the Canadian wilds. On account of this performance he is eligible to fly in the international contest this year without making a preliminary trip.

Distance traveled alone will be considered in determining the leaders in the contest. Kansas City, on account of its inland location, is believed to be an ideal starting point for a race under such conditions. With a good north or northeast wind, followers of aeronautics believe, several long flights will be made.

Other Prizes to Be Gained.

The honor of competing in the Bennett cup race is the big plum for which the pilots in the contest today are striving, but there are other prizes to be gained. Each pilot, regardless of his showing in the meet, will be given $100. Silver cups will be awarded to the two leaders.

ARREST GIRL IN TROUSERS AS SHE LEAVES BOX CAR.

Mrs. Hazel Decker Lancaster Comes from Charleston with Companion and Meets Police.

Disguised as a boy, Mrs. Hazel Decker Lancaster and Thomas Brewer were arrested yesterday in the Illinois Central railroad station at Kensington. The young woman, who is 17 years old, lives at Charleston, Ill. The man, 21 years old, is from Toledo, Ill. They said they were on their way to Wyoming.

The girl was sent to the juvenile home and the young man sent to the Hyde Park police station, awaiting a hearing before Judge Fry on July 14.

"My husband was an actor," she said. "We were married when I was 15 years old. He got into trouble and was sent to the reformatory. I have not seen him since.

"I met Tom last New Year's. Recently we planned to go west. We were going to go to Casper, Wyo., where he expected to work on a ranch.

"We left Charleston Thursday night and rode to some station quite a distance from there before they put us off. Tom cut my hair because it was in the way. We had enough money to buy meals and rent rooms and we slept during most of the days, leaving the traveling to be done at night.

"I do not think my father will send for me to come back. I do not know what I will do when they let me out, but I suppose I will go to work in Chicago. I do not want to go to Wyoming now."

Lorimer's "Call" to Political Clans for "Secret" Meeting in His Bank.

WILLIAM LORIMER, CHAIRMAN.

United States Senate,
COMMITTEE ON EXPENDITURES IN THE NAVY DEPARTMENT.

Chicago, July 8th, 1911.

I should like to have you call at my office, 947 The Rookery, on Monday evening, July 10th, at 8 o'clock, to meet with several of our friends for a discussion of some matters of mutual interest.

Yours very truly,
Wm Lorimer

Senator Lorimer sent out a "call" to his political friends to meet him in a conference in his own bank. The "call" was written on the committee stationery of the United States senate.

HEAT STOPS AIRSHIP FLIGHT

Trip from Atlantic City to Washington Interrupted.

FIGHT AGAINST RIG ODDS.

Journey Will Be Resumed Today by Atwood and Hamilton.

Baltimore, Md., July 10.—[Special.]—For the first time in the history of aviation, hot weather has stopped an airship flight.

Harry N. Atwood and Charles K. Hamilton, who left Atlantic City, N. J., at 5:04 a. m. today in the latter's biplane, bound for Washington, were forced to descend at Stemmer's Run, Md., on account of the intense heat and the accompanying humidity.

Stemmer's run is eight miles from Baltimore. The aviators traveled approximately 148 miles with only one stop, that at Farnhurst, Del., for gasoline.

Will Try Again Today.

Four futile attempts were made during the day to start. Besides the absence of wind, the aviators suffered the handicap of tall grass, which interfered with their operations. The attempt to fly to Washington tonight was abandoned, and an effort will be made to get away at 4 a. m. tomorrow. Atwood said they would stop at College park.

The tale of the aerial journey as told by Atwood was one of a fight bitterly contested against heavy odds.

"We worked over the machine until after 12 o'clock last night," said Atwood, "and it was nearly 1 o'clock when we retired. We had several hours' sleep, and had little trouble in starting.

First Part of Flight Delightful.

"The first part of the flight was delightful. The morning air was not so warm, but the humidity was high, and even at first we had a great deal of trouble in getting any speed or elevation. At no time during the flight did we reach an elevation of more than 250 feet.

"Striking out along the line of the Pennsylvania railroad, we followed the tracks and fought to get elevation enough to clear the telegraph wires. Sometimes we were obliged to leave the railroad tracks because we were dangerously near the ground. We were racing trains, too, and we could not get on the track for that reason.

"One hour on the line was passed with clearance of only about eighteen feet, and the trees almost brushed the wheels of the machine at some points. We landed at Stemmer's run simply because the machine would not go any further under the weather conditions."

MARY HARRIMAN'S HUSBAND INJURED DURING POLO GAME.

C. C. Rumsey Carried Unconscious from the Field After Collision Between Two Ponies.

New York, July 10.—[Special.]—In a polo game today at the Rockaway Hunting club, C. C. Rumsey was hurt in a collision with Malcolm Stevenson and taken in an unconscious condition from the field. They were on the same team.

Mr. Rumsey is the husband of Miss Mary Harriman, daughter of E. H. Harriman.

Mr. Rumsey and Mr. Stevenson were on the Cooperstown team, which opposed the Meadowbrook Magpies. The mishap occurred in the fourth period, and it ended the game, the score then favoring the Magpies by 6½ to 6 goals.

On lookers say Stevenson had the right of way with the ball and that Rumsey had crossed him at the dangerous angle forbidden by the rules.

Dr. William Anderson of Cedarhurst was one of the onlookers and he ordered Rumsey carried on a stretcher to the clubhouse. At a late hour tonight it was said no bones had been broken and that the injuries were not deemed serious.

HUSBAND COLT GETS READY TO FIGHT BARRYMORE SUIT.

Papers Reach New York and Defendant's Lawyer Prepares to Contest the Theatrical Star's Divorce Action.

New York, July 10.—Confirmation of the report that Miss Ethel Barrymore, the actress, is to sue for a divorce from Russell Griswold Colt, her husband of over two years, was given here today when material from which Miss Barrymore's lawyers expect to prepare and file tomorrow initial papers in the action reached the city from Los Angeles, Cal.

The suit is to be for absolute divorce and will be formally contested. It will be filed in New York county. The summons and a copy of the complaint are awaited by Colt and his lawyer.

Frank M. Patterson, Colt's lawyer, so declared today, after being closeted for more than an hour with his client.

U. S. PETITIONS FOR WOMAN STIR CRITICISM IN CANADA.

Deluge of Newspaper Coupon Pleas for Commutation of Mrs. Napolitano's Sentence in Disfavor.

Ottawa, Ont., July 10.—[Special.]—Hundreds of petitions from Chicagoans are reaching here urging the commutation of the death sentence of Mrs. Angelina Napolitano, who was convicted of the murder of her husband. The most unusual interest displayed by the American press in the case of the woman, which is now before the government here, is of a character to excite considerable criticism.

Many American newspapers are printing coupon petitions for clemency. By the thousands these are cut out and sent here. Over 100,000 have been received.

As a matter of fact they are likely to cut little figure in the case. In due time it will be considered on its merits and without reference to the agitation about the matter across the line or even to that on this side.

Probably the death sentence will be commuted, but meanwhile the opinion is widely expressed that the petition business, especially the newspaper coupon part of it, is being overdone.

GOODWIN PEEVED OVER NOTORIETY

NEW BEAUTY ON SCENE.

Mysterious Blonde, It Is Said, May Be "No. 5"; He Believes Literature His Forte.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 10.—[Special.]—Nat Goodwin is sick of notoriety. He says so himself. Comment on his marrying habit aroused by published excerpts from the autobiography he is writing, has rolled his histrionic soul and he now threatens to flee to the wilds to escape it.

Goodwin was asked today what he thought of the comments of Maxine Elliott, who said "Isn't it rich? Poor old Nat," and those of Edna Goodrich, who was quoted as saying, "As a matter of matrimony, Nat is a joke."

"I'm sick and tired of it all," he replied, "and Tuesday I'm going out on the ranch and among the hills—to get away from this sickening notoriety. I don't want any more talk about myself and my former wives. I just won't have it.

"I don't think Maxine would say that about me. Maxine is too much of a lady to use any such expressions as are attributed to her. As for the other one—Edna—it does not matter."

Believes Literature His Forte.

Goodwin has found so much gratification in writing his book that he now believes, despite his histrionic success, that his forte is literature.

"I want to correct an error the public is being led into," he said today. "My book is not to be made up solely of my experience with the women who have been my wives. It is an autobiography in which there are but scant references made to these women. The book is compiled chiefly from my other experiences, views and opinions of prominent people, my theatrical and earlier career and anecdotes which do not deal with my marital ventures."

Exercises to Reduce Weight.

All of Goodwin's time at his seashore home is divided between calisthenics to reduce his weight and writing. In the rear of his home is a completely outfitted gymnasium in which he spends an hour every afternoon three months of the year.

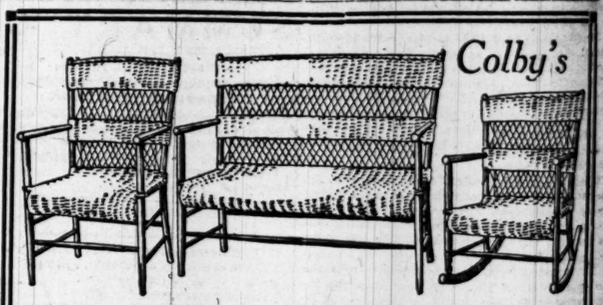

Most of his afternoons are spent on his book, which, so far as composition goes, has been completed. In fact, he has written enough autobiography to make a set of volumes, but he has selected what he thinks is the cream of his efforts, and these he is ready to send to the publisher. The other articles will be offered to magazines.

Mr. Goodwin declares that after retiring from the stage he will devote the remainder of his life to writing.

During the last few days he has been taking his exercise with a mysterious—and again beautiful—young woman who has been one of a house party at his home. Her name has been guarded, the actor fearing the inevitable report that she would be number five. But, despite his care, the report over the beach is that this pretty young blonde woman is to be the successor of Edna Goodrich.

Killed by Fall from Train.

William J. Butts, a former soldier, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was killed instantly at midnight when he fell from the top of a Burlington railroad train near Taylor street.

STIPATION

Many Drop Dead and Others Succumb After Day's Fight for Life.

RAILROADS USE UP ICE.

Make Chicago Firms Fill Refrigerating Cars for Movement of Fruits.

Thirteen more victims were added yesterday to the list of dead victims of the continued heat.

There is little probability of relief today or tomorrow, Maj. Hersey of the weather bureau predicting that today will be warmer.

At 7 o'clock yesterday morning the thermometer registered 75 degrees. It continued to rise, however, and reached the high mark—91 degrees—between 4 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Victims of Hot Wave.

Those who died during the day as the result of the heat were:

ANTEON, HANS P., 2309 Rockwell street, was overcome by the heat and died at his residence in the morning.

CZERWINSKI, JOHN, 2220 West Twenty-third place, dropped dead at his residence from heart disease brought on by heat.

DJUR, THOMAS, 4821 Throop street, laborer, overcome by the heat on Sunday afternoon, died at his residence on Monday morning.

KOMERICK, JOHN, 2655 Whipple street, overcome last night while in the saloon of Vaclav Ortciger, 2657 South Troy street; taken to the county hospital, where he died a half hour later.

NEGELE, OTTO, 3839 Lincoln place; died suddenly, heat given as the cause.

AN UNIDENTIFIED MAN, about 35 years old, overcome by the heat at Hood and North Clark streets in the afternoon; died in ambulance.

WALKIEWICZ, ANTHONY, 8917 Superior avenue, a laborer, was found dead in bed in the morning from heart disease, superinduced by the heat and alcohol.

"Rain Would Add to Suffering."

Even if the thunderstorm, which threatened during the day, should materialize, it would not aid any, Major Hersey says. It would add to the humidity and increase the suffering, he thinks. The humidity during the day was slight, varying from 45 to 50 degrees.

Throughout the middle west the hot wave has made itself felt. During the twenty-four hours preceding midnight, there was a rise of 10 degrees in the thermometer.

Municipal Judge Stewart of the Desplaines street court allowed a lapse in discipline on account of heat. He informed the men visiting his court that they might take off their coats. He set an example and the others were not long in following.

Railroads Lower City's Ice Store.

The famine in ice, which threatens to make this a record year for infant mortality in Chicago and nearby places, is due to a heavy demand made upon large ice companies by great railroads of the country. Railroad companies have contracts with the ice companies, and their orders must be filled before all others.

If it were not for the necessity of supplying extra demands of transportation companies for refrigeration there would be no danger of a shortage. This is admitted by officials of both the ice companies and of the railroads. The ice is needed to save the railroads from heavy loss in the shipment of perishable freight.

Movement of Fruits East Takes Ice.

The great movement of deciduous fruits from the Pacific coast is under way, and will be heavier from now until September. Under the ruling of the interstate commerce commission, where through rates for refrigerating are quoted any loss in transit must be borne by the carrier.

Notwithstanding the fact that the railroads have icing plants outside of Chicago, many of them are passing their regular stations and calling upon Chicago ice companies for the fulfillment of their contracts, in order to conserve their own supply.

"I suppose the public will blame the railroads for this shortage in ice," said E. F. McPike, refrigerating agent of the Illinois Central railroad, "and I guess, to an extent, we are responsible, but if we didn't call on the companies for ice the country would face a shortage in fruit and fresh vegetables."

President John S. Field of the Knickerbocker Ice company says the only places actually suffering for ice now are the small towns in Indiana and Ohio and elsewhere east of Chicago. They are calling upon the Chicago companies in vain for ice.

CONFISCATE 4,000 TONS OF ICE.

Cleveland, O., July 10.—[Special.]—Four thousand tons of ice on the way here from Michigan to relieve the famine in Cleveland has been confiscated in Toledo to help out the situation there, and President Norvell of the City Ice Delivery company has asked Mayor Basher to communicate with the Toledo authorities in an endeavor to get the ice. The Toledo officials deny they confiscated the ice.

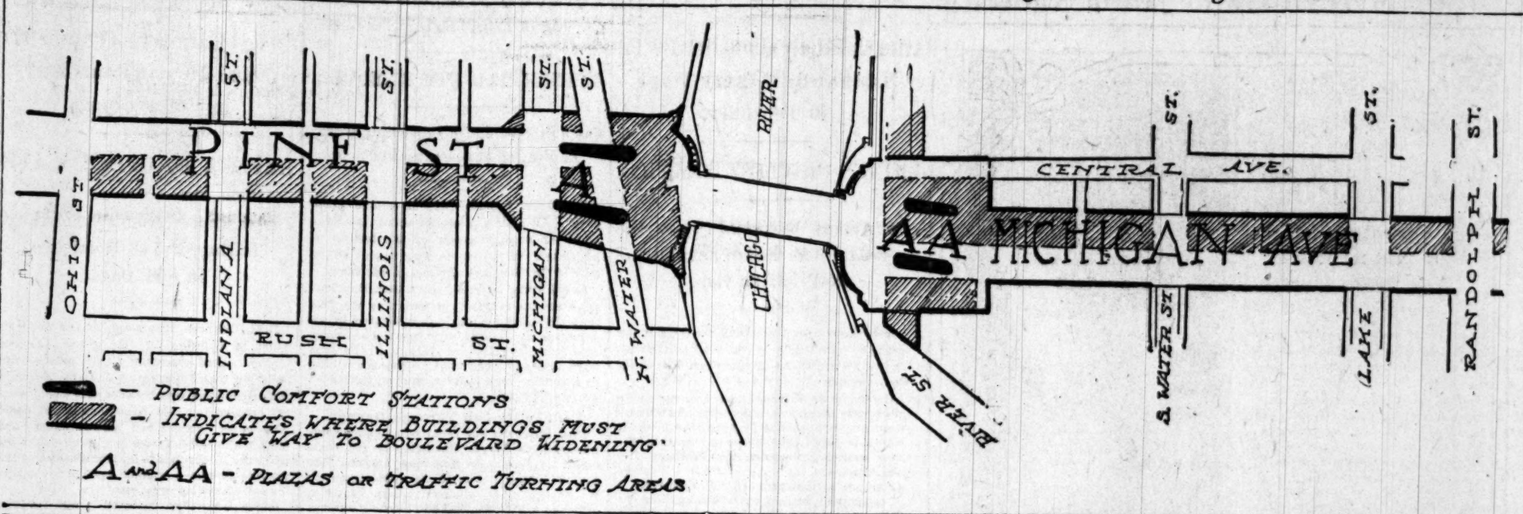

Eggs are rotting by the thousands because of a lack of ice in refrigerators. Meat and vegetables are spoiling and the price of food is rising as a consequence. The supply of ice for household consumption has been greatly reduced, the hospitals receiving first consideration.

Fifteen babies died of the heat and three adults were prostrated today. All the city's milk is being stored in breweries and in the packing companies' refrigerators until delivery time. This is the only way the milk supply of the city can be saved.

Ice $25 a Ton in Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 10.—[Special.]—Ice was selling in Pittsburg today at $25 a ton. Its regular price is $2.50 to $3 a ton. Ice dealers declare the famine has assumed such a grave aspect now that cooler weather would not materially relieve conditions. Physicians are finding it necessary to write prescriptions for ice for babies and the many sick. So desperate are the people in their demand for ice that the police found it necessary this afternoon to guard a number of ice peddlers in the hill district from being mobbed.

GAMBLERS TAKEN IN RAIDS

Handbook Men Arrested Following Chief McWeeny's Order.

HAWTHORNE PARK MUDDLE.

Sheriff Says He'll Stop Betting at Track if It Takes Whole Staff.

While Tom Carey and Sheriff Zimmer were engaged in a tug of war yesterday over whether horse racing shall or shall not be revived at Hawthorne park, Chief McWeeny took a whack at the "kingly sport" by raiding three poolrooms conducted by handbook men.

The outcome of the Zimmer-Carey see-saw of words was that the sheriff declared that there would be no races at Hawthorne park because they could not be run profitably without gambling and that they would not be run with gambling if it took the whole sheriff's force to prevent it.

Friends of Carey say racing will be revived despite the sheriff's attitude.

Police Raid Three Places.

The three places raided were:

John V. Burns, Thirty-eighth and State streets, poolroom, operated by William Stevens at 3908 State street; John White, 819 East Thirty-ninth street, and William O'Leary, 400 West Sixty-third street; raided and arrested by Detectives Schwigert, Mason, Miller, and Atkins.

Irvine hotel, 71 Van Buren street, supposed to be owned by Richard Irwin, who, with "Mont" Tennes, is alleged to conduct the bureau serving patrons throughout the loop with racing news. Those arrested were Mike Henderson, keeper; James Smith, J. Wilson, and George Thompson.

Dennis Foley's, Thirty-first and State streets. This raid was made after Detective Sergeants Thomas Tully and Richard Wolfe had gained access to a room in which fifteen negroes were making bets on the races. Two of the negroes fainted. The police arrested four men interested in the game and let the rest escape through windows.

Track Men Get Delays.

The three alleged racetrack gamblers, Jerome Held, Immanuel Marks, and William Howell, who were arrested at the Hawthorne racetrack last week, were brought before Justice Edward Kendall of Oak Park yesterday afternoon and all three asked for a change of venue. This was granted and the cases will come up before Justice Frank A. McKee of Oak Park on July 18.

Dr. H. G. Fitzpatrick of Chicago, who was arrested under the name of W. G. Miller, was brought before Judge Kimball. Although he protested his innocence of any betting, he pleaded guilty on the advice of his counselor, Ross C. Hall of Oak Park.

MAN HELD ON GIRL'S CHARGE.

Peter Kessner, Charged with Enticing 16 Year Old Girl from Home, Goes to Jail.

Assertion that rental for rooms over a wineroom on West Randolph street, between Sangamon and Morgan streets, is paid direct to Sam Miller, who runs the saloon, is made by Bertha Jackson of Fort Wayne, Ind. The girl, who is 16 years old, is being held by the federal authorities as star witness against Peter Kessner, 13 South Throop street, charged with violation of the Mann act.

Miss Jackson says she has been in Miller's resort for the last two weeks, Kessner having sent her a ticket to come here from Detroit. Kessner yesterday was held in $5,000 bail for the federal grand jury.

WIFE SEEKS KANSAS CITY MAN.

Mrs. C. B. McMahan Asks "The Tribune" to Aid in Search for Husband.

Mrs. C. B. McMahan, 1219 Admiral boulevard, Kansas City, Mo., has written to THE TRIBUNE asking its aid in efforts to locate her husband, who went to Kansas City from Fort Sam Houston, Tex., on May 12. She says he intended to come to Chicago to meet her ten days later. She states that he did not reach this city, and she fears that he has met with an accident. She asks that any one who is acquainted with his whereabouts communicate with her at her Kansas City address.

WOMAN WORSTS FLAT INVADER.

Arpa Ryman Hits Unwelcome Visitor with Carpet Beater—To Hospital, Thence to Station.

James Walker, 2115 West Monroe street, entered the flat of Miss Arpa Ryman, 2011 Washington boulevard. He was struck on the head with a carpet beater before he got fairly in. After having his wounds dressed at the county hospital, Walker was locked up at the Lake street police station, and Miss Ryman says she believes he tried to burglarize the flat. Walker said he was engaged to his assailant at one time.

"The heat of battle is mild compared with the temperature of Chicago," according to Rear Admiral Fredrick Singer, retired, United States navy, with Admiral H. Truppel of the German navy, he is at the Hotel La Salle. The former is on a trip to the Pacific coast, and the latter is on a tour of the world.

LIFTS PEDDLERS' NOISE LID

Council Committee Fixes Hours from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M.

VOTE 6 TO 4; UP TO BOARD.

Amendment Indorsed Suspends Ordinance Up Before.

Whistles, rattles, bells, gongs, clappers, drums, horns, or any other similar mechanical device may be used to advertise the selling of wares if the "peddlers' ordinance" approved by the council committee on judiciary yesterday becomes a law.

Warned that they could not exempt the peddlers from the general provisions of the anti-noise ordinance, the friends of the venders shifted their support to a revised amendment suspending the entire ordinance from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. on all days, including Sundays.

Geiger Changes His Vote.

It was recommended for passage through the action of Ald. Ellis Geiger, who hitherto has opposed the noise nuisance. His change of vote left the committee 6 to 4, while if he had maintained his former position there would have been a tie, requiring the vote of Chairman Donahoe, a consistent opponent of "the disturbers."

Ald. W. J. Pringle and Ald. John Powers were "paired" by their absence so that no other result would have come had the entire committee been present.

The roll call showed Mahoney, Fick, Utpatel, Danisch, Mahoney, and Walkowiak voting for the peddlers and Murray, Thomson, Fisher, and Forsberg attempting to defend the sleep of the night worker.

The action was to approve the report of the subcommittee composed of Fick, Geiger, and Thomson, which was appointed to investigate the possibility of an ordinance after the law department had given its opinion that to add merely an amendment that licensed peddlers should be permitted to cry their wares between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. would constitute class legislation as it would give to them a right refused other persons.

Lifts the Noise Lid.

It was expected that the report at its worst would be a discovery of some method affording relief for the peddlers without repealing the entire ordinance, so the new amendment was a surprise.

"Why, this lifts the entire noise lid for the greater part of the day," said Ald. Pringle, "and I cannot believe that a majority of the council will approve of it."

MAYOR HAS SECRET DETECTIVE; "KNOWS WAY AROUND TOWN."

Mysterious Sleuth Responsible for the Order to Saloonkeepers to Keep Women Out of Places.

Mayor Harrison has a "real sleuth" on his staff.

"I am the only one who knows who he is, and he will report to no one but me," said the mayor. "He knows his way around town all right and he will keep me in touch with conditions. He's not a volunteer, and he'll be on the pay roll. He will do real secret service work."

It was from this person that the mayor received his information which led him to send warnings to saloonkeepers Saturday that unless they conducted their places in a different manner their licenses would be revoked.

This information, he said, included the facts that certain of these places harbored women and that others sheltered bookmakers and games of chance.

"When I say unescorted women," was the explanation, "I do not mean that the 'paid escort' game will be accepted as a satisfactory compliance with the order to keep them from these places.

"I shall not be satisfied if a woman enters a place with a waiter or a musician or some acquaintance who sits with her until a stranger comes along to whom she can talk."

The mayor mentioned George Silver's, the Log Cabin, and the Princeton cafés as among those he had ordered to "clean up."

WAKES SLEEPER; LOSES EAR.

Elevated Guard Stirs Slumbering Man, and Latter Bites Off Member—Arrests Made.

For endeavoring to awaken a man whom he saw asleep on a bench on an elevated platform and who he believed might want to take a train that was coming, Charles Fleming, a Union Loop company guard, lost one of his ears last night. It was bitten off by the erstwhile slumberer.

The episode was staged at the Dearborn street station shortly after midnight. In addition to the loss of the ear, both men's faces were scratched and bruised in the ensuing conflict. The pair was arrested and taken to the Harrison street station.

The man who did the biting gave his name and address as William Connors, 1234 Webster avenue.

COURT REFUSES WIFE'S PLEA.

Mrs. Carrie E. Ingram Loses Suit to Have Decree of Divorce Set Aside.

Mrs. Carrie E. Ingram yesterday lost her suit to have a decree of divorce from Attorney J. E. Ingram set aside when Judge Farlin Q. Ball in the superior court sustained a demurrer to her bill filed by counsel representing her former husband.

PEKIN THEATER OWNER DIES

R. T. Motts, Negro Politician and Sporting Man, Passes Away.

GOT START IN "POLICY."

Came to Chicago Poor Boy and Attained Unique Success.

Robert T. (Bob) Motts, one of the most widely known negroes in the country and a political power in the "black belt" of Chicago, died yesterday at his home, 4110 Calumet avenue, after an illness of several weeks. He was 50 years old.

He owned and managed the Pekin theater, the only playhouse in the world managed and operated exclusively by negroes. Most of the leading actors and actresses of his race procured their start in his place. Motts was well known in sporting circles and owned a couple of saloons.

Policy Winnings Give Start.

Motts was born in Washington, Ia., on June 24, 1861. He came to Chicago twenty years ago. "Bob" was thrifty, and got his start to wealth through winnings at policy years ago, when he was associated in the game with Patsy King. When the authorities stopped the game Motts turned his attention to the saloon business.

When he sought an amusement license as a back room attraction to his first saloon the authorities laughed at him and told him such a permit would be granted provided he erected a full fledged theater, and it wasn't long before he met requirements.

Played for Mrs. Palmer.

The people he procured as attractions showed such ability that the theater soon became famed. The theater was running only a short time when Mrs. Potter Palmer engaged the whole company of negro playerfolk to entertain her guests at a lawn fete.

The poor people of his native town, who were "Bob's" childhood playmates, were regular pensioners of his. He will be buried in his home town. Death was caused by leukemi.

SUE TO SET ASIDE WILL NO. 2, FOUND AFTER NO. 1 IS BROKEN

Suit to set aside the second will of Levi Moore, a Chicago pioneer who died March 8, 1906, was begun yesterday in the Circuit court. The first will has already been set aside. Both wills left nearly all Moore's property to Mrs. Susan A. Rowlett and her husband, James Rowlett, Mount Clare, Ill.

Moore died in their house when he was 90 years old. The first will was found by the Rowletts shortly afterward. The second will is now produced after a lapse of four years, according to Attorney C. Van Alen Smith.

Mr. Smith represented William H. Moore, the son of Levi Moore's brother, William Moore, and some twenty other heirs who live in Sutton Bridge, England. He contested the first will, alleging that Levi Moore was not of sound mind when he died and that he was induced to make the Rowletts heir to his property through a subterfuge.

The present suit will be contested on a similar basis by Attorney Smith as representative of the children of Moore's sister and his two brothers. The property involved amounts to about $75,000.

NEW HAY SET STABLES AFIRE.

Attorney Sullivan Believes Dixon and Reebie Blazes Were Due to Spontaneous Combustion.

Investigation by Fire Attorney Sullivan of the fires which destroyed the barn of the Arthur Dixon Transfer company at Fourteenth and State streets and damaged the barn and warehouse of W. C. Reebie & Bro. company, 2821-2833 Sheffield avenue, leads him to believe that both were started by spontaneous combustion in new hay stored in the stables. While the work of removing the dead horses from both places was being carried on several detectives from the fire attorney's office were busy questioning witnesses on the theory that the fires might have been due to incendiaries.

TRAIN RUNS DOWN TWO BOYS.

Rock Island Passenger Kills Pair Who Walked Track Near Root Street.

Two boys were struck and instantly killed last night on the Rock Island railroad tracks at Root street by a passenger train. The bodies were not discovered until some time after the accident occurred. The names of the boys are Cornelius Sullivan, 16 years old, 4844 South State street, and Max Lieberts, 15 years old, 3823 Armour avenue. It is supposed they were walking down the track and did not hear the southbound train approaching them.

CAR TUMBLE CAUSES DEATH.

Fall from Steps Sustained by Dora Greengard Results Fatally at Hospital.

Miss Dora Greengard, 524 East Forty-sixth street, died at the Michael Reese hospital yesterday as a result of a fall from a street car at Root and South Halsted streets. She was attempting to get off the car, which is said to have started too soon, when she was injured.

'WILD WEST' AT STOCK YARDS

RUSH OVERTAKES ONE MAN.

Cowboys Finally Round Up Herd, After 3 Animals Die on Tracks.

Chicago furnished its own wild west show in the stockyards district yesterday. Thirty steers stampeded at West Fortieth and Morgan streets and ran madly for more than a mile through busy streets. Pedestrians scampered from the path of the animals and the excited steers almost had a clear right of way.

One man, James Sullivan, West Thirty-eighth and Morgan streets, was not quick enough to escape the frenzied cattle and his scalp was ripped open by the horn of one of the leaders of the herd.

Three Killed on Tracks.

The man was taken to the Provident hospital, where it was said his injury was not dangerous. Three of the steers were killed during the stampede, two being run down by locomotives and a third by a street car.

The herd, owned by the Western Packing company, 3854 South Morgan street, was being driven from the stockyards to the pens of the company when a "long horn" leader, passing over the Bubbly creek bridge, gave a loud snort and bolted.

Cowboys Race in Lead.

Every steer in the herd followed the lead. Two of the coyboys driving the herd realizing the danger to pedestrians from the frightened animals, spurred their bronchos to a dead run and passed the animals in Morgan street.

"A stampede!" they shouted. "Get off the street."

Persons in the street ran into doorways and persons attracted by the unusual noise of shouts and trampling hoofs ran to the windows of their houses to watch the spectacle.

PLANS ACTION TO OUST JUSTICE WHO BLOCKS AUTOISTS AT NILES

Herman Bartels, a department head in the First National bank of Chicago, says he will bring an ouster action against Justice of the Peace Fred Beisswanger of Niles. The justice of the peace will be charged with malfeasance in office. He collected excessive fees, it is charged.

Bartels with a number of others was arrested two or three weeks ago for violating the speed law when, he says, he was not going faster than four miles an hour. He says efforts were made to extort $200 from him through Beisswanger's office.

Bartels says that when he showed a disposition to fight the case Beisswanger destroyed the records. Material for a change of venue was denied.

Bartels then retained Attorneys George Kandlik and Frank Kuhn, who, having failed to find State's Attorney Wayman yesterday, expect to lay the matter before him today.

Justice of the Peace Beisswanger denied during the day that he had arrested 1,000 autoists on Sunday as reported, but only fourteen. He added that auto racers who drive their machines forty miles an hour through Niles will be sternly dealt with. He said all he received in money on Sunday was a fee of $1 for each of the recognizances.

FIRM GIVES PATRONS OUTING.

Lima Concern Brings Business Men and Families from Twenty-five Towns to Chicago.

Business men from twenty-five small cities and towns of northern Ohio, with their families, are at the La Salle hotel as guests of Moore Brothers, wholesale grocers of Lima. The party numbers 275.

"It has been our practice," said John Bigley, manager of the firm, "to give our patrons who sell a certain quantity of our goods a ten days' outing.

UTILITY PROBERS TO MEET.

Legislative Committee Appointed to Investigate Public Service Situation Will Organize Tomorrow.

The joint committee of the Illinois senate and house of representatives, which is to investigate the public utilities situation in Chicago and downstate, will meet at the La Salle hotel at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. It plans to perfect its organization and arrange to begin the investigation at once. Senator John Dailey of Peoria, chairman of the joint committee, issued the call yesterday.

GIVES BOOKS OF WORLD FAIRS.

Harlow N. Higinbotham Presents 7,000 Volumes of Histories to Public Library.

Seven thousand volumes comprising complete histories of all world's fairs and expositions, bound in cloth and leather, were presented to the Chicago Public library last night by Harlow N. Higinbotham, who was president of the World's Columbian exposition. The gift was received by the board of directors at their monthly meeting.

WIDE BOULEVARD SCHEME CHOSEN

BRIDGE AT PINE STREET.

222 Foot Plaza South of Rush Street Bridge; Double Decker for Teams.

Eighteen postponed hearings of members of the Chicago plans commission probably will be "wiped off the slate" tomorrow at the meeting of the board of local improvements, and the record left showing only that the commission has unanimously indorsed "Plan No. 3" for the improvement of Michigan boulevard, the Chicago river, and Pine street as far north as Chicago avenue.

This suggestion was made just at the conclusion of a meeting of the full commission in the main dining room of the La Salle hotel yesterday afternoon by President Schilling of the board of local improvements, and was approved by those of the plans commission still present.

Just before this action was taken the commission decided to submit what is known as "Plan No. 3" to the board. There was little argument before the matter was put to a vote.

This will not interfere with action upon the plan for the widening of Twelfth street, which already has been brought to successful approval by the committee, and is the suggestion of the president of the board alone.

What "Plan No. 3" Provides.

"Plan No. 3" contemplates the widening of Michigan boulevard from Randolph street to the river, the construction of a new bridge at Pine street, instead of Rush, and the continuation of a double decked boulevard and teaming street, connecting the north with the south side by way of Pine street, as far as Ohio, and a continuation of a widened boulevard as far north as Chicago avenue.

According to these plans, Michigan avenue north of Randolph street to the river will be widened to 130 feet. Just south of the present approach to the Rush street bridge a teaming center will be created, in the form of a plaza about 222 feet square. Branching off from this will be about five driveways, so that the man with teaming to do in this part of the city will not be confined to any one line of traffic, but will have five different ways by which he may reach his destination.

Just across the bridge, on the north side, will be another plaza of this sort, to serve a similar purpose. Over here the existing tracks of the Northwestern railroad will have to be met and encountered, but the present plans do not take them into consideration any further than they are taken into consideration by the surface traffic of the present day.

There is a slight change in the grade, but it is said by the engineers of the commission that these grades are made only with a tentative purpose, so that at some time in the future a change in grade may do away with these dangerous crossings.

Breadth of Bridge 90 Feet.

The bridge included in the plan will have a breadth of ninety feet and will be of the general "jack-knife" plan—such as are in use at State, Dearborn, Clark, and other streets.

In the widening of Michigan boulevard and Pine street, the plan of the commission in "plan No. 3" is to take sixty-four feet from the east side of the boulevard—giving it its present width to the southward all the way from Randolph street to the bridge.

Diverting from the present bridge at Rush street—although not providing explicitly for this abandonment—the new plan provides for a divergance of the traffic by this "double decked" route over a bridge connecting with Pine street—one block east of Rush and at present but little used by through traffic south of Ohio street.

On the north side of the river Pine street is to be extended to a general width of 141 feet by the condemnation of seventy-one feet on the west side of the street.

Straight Route Across River.

In general, the results of the new plan, when put into effect, would be a straight "shoot" across the river from the south to the north side and a general doing away with the present conflict between teaming and light vehicular traffic.

At the present time the police traffic squad does not allow the general use of Rush street by both heavy teams and automobiles. Men are stationed along Rush street even on Sundays to prevent this conflict among two classes of traffic.

Many Offer Aid to Starving Woman Who Appealed for Some One to Give Son a Job—He's Got One.

John has a job.

He is the 16 year old son of Mrs. Mabel Sterling, 3707 Vincennes avenue, who wrote a plea for help to THE TRIBUNE. She asked some one to give her boy a position. The letter was printed on Sunday. Now he is working at the stockyards, her gas bill has been paid, a generous basket of groceries was delivered to her, and many offers of further help made.

"I can't express my gratitude," Mrs. Sterling said last night. "There have been so many kind people to see me. John was offered work at a number of places, but he chose the stockyards because he could make the most money there. The gentleman who took my gas bill said that any time in the future I need help to come to him. Wasn't that splendid of him?"

Another offer of a position for John was received by THE TRIBUNE last night. It came from Gary. Mrs. W. J. Henley sent a check for $2 for John and his mother.

John lost his job because he stayed home a day to protect his mother from his stepfather, who deserted them two weeks ago. Every day he sought employment without success.

Building Collapses; None Hurt.

Several persons escaped injury last night when a two story frame building at 1502 South Jefferson street collapsed. The building was occupied by O. Dubinsky as a rag shop. Dubinsky and his employés left the place at 5:30 and a short time later the building fell.

REFUSE TO AMEND

REFUSE TO AMEND RECIPROCITY BILL

Members of Senate Vote Down Many Changes Proposed by Cummins.

TAFT GIVES ULTIMATUM.

President Says He Will Veto Other Tariff Measures Passed in Session.

Washington, D. C., July 10.—The Canadian reciprocity bill tonight emerged unscathed from the most serious ordeal it has experienced in the senate. The series of amendments offered by Senator Cummins of Iowa and the two offered by Senator Simmons of North Carolina seeking to increase the number of Canadian manufactured articles that shall be admitted to the United States free of duty, were voted down by large majorities.

The vote in favor of the amendments was so small that Senator Cummins asked for only five roll calls, although he had previously announced his intention of asking for at least ten. The maximum vote for his tariff amendments was 14, compared to a maximum vote of 58 against.

The defeat of the Cummins amendments clears the situation in the senate and leaves the reciprocity bill much nearer final passage.

Amendment to Woolen Bill.

Senator Bailey today offered an amendment to the house woolen tariff bill, imposing a duty of 25 per cent on raw wool. He will ask for the consideration of this amendment and of his farmers' free list amendment in the near future.

Senator La Follette has not yet introduced his amendments, of which there probably are a considerable number, but these are expected within a short time.

Senator Cummins, after the first few roll call votes on his amendments today, expressed the conviction that it was the intention of the senate not to change the agreement in any particular, and that it was useless to press the senate for further votes. He finally allowed the rest of his amendments to be voted on together, without the formality of a roll call.

Cummins' Amendments Beaten.

On the proposal to put flour and cereal products on the list of articles which the United States will admit free from Canada Senator Cummins was defeated, 52 to 14; on the proposal to put agricultural implements on this list he was defeated, 53 to 12; on the proposal to put lumber on the list he was defeated, 51 to 12.

Other amendments voted down proposed to admit free from Canada, without demanding like treatment of American products, automobiles, iron ore, pig iron, coal, rubber, cotton, woolen, leather, and silk goods. Senator Bristow demanded a record vote on the rubber amendment, but enough senators would not join in the demand.

Veto for Tariff.

It developed today that President Taft has decided to veto any tariff legislation that congress may pass at this session in addition to the Canadian reciprocity treaty. The president sent this information to some of the regular Republican leaders in the senate, and immediately it was noised about that there would be an early vote allowed on the wool schedule, the farmers' free list, and such other tariff revision bills as the house may send to the senate.

With this assurance from the president the regular senators will allow the passage of any tariff bills which the porgressive Republicans and the Democrats can agree to put through. The president will be relied upon to thwart any changes in tariff duties.

The regulars, however, will fight the amendments which the progressives intend to propose to the Democratic bills. They want the bills that go to the president to be Democratic bills, for which they will declare the veto by a Republican president a logical fate.

In the event, however, that the Democrats accept the progressive amendments the tables will be turned on the regulars, and the president will be called upon to veto Republican legislation.

MICHIGAN JURIST DIES QUICKLY.

Justice F. A. Hooker of State Supreme Court Victim of Heart Trouble.

Auburn, N. Y., July 10.—Frank A. Hooker, justice of the Supreme court of Michigan, a resident of Lansing, Mich., died suddenly in the New York Central station early today.

During the night Justice Hooker suffered an attack of heart trouble and decided to return home this morning by train. He had just entered the New York Central station when he suddenly fell forward and was picked up dead.

He was elected Supreme justice for ten year terms in 1893 and 1903. From 1878 until 1892 he was judge of the judicial circuit. During 1902 and 1903 he was chief justice of the Supreme court.

OBITUARY.

MRS. BARBARA DE JONGHE, founder of and for many years in active management of De Jonghe's restaurant, 14 East Monroe street, one of the most famous French eating houses in the country, died yesterday. Mrs. De Jonghe was 88 years old and had been in excellent health up to six weeks ago. Mrs. De Jonghe came to the United States from Belgium about twenty years ago and opened the De Jonghe restaurant shortly before the world's fair. She was well known in local Belgian church circles because of her wide activity in philanthropic work. She is survived by three sons and three daughters. The funeral will be held at the Belgian church on Wednesday.

SISTER MARY VIVIAN RYAN, head nurse at the Mercy hospital since 1897, died there yesterday a victim of tuberculosis. In 1894 she was graduated as a nurse at Mercy hospital, and it was the scene of her life's work. She was 38 years old. Sister Mary Veronica Ryan, superintendent of the hospital training school for nurses, is a sister of the deceased. Requiem mass will be celebrated at the hospital at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Interment at Calvary.

JOHN R. ROBINSON is dead at his home in Farmer City, Ill., aged 65. He was chief clerk at the Soldiers' Orphans' home at Bloomington for the last year, and was for several terms a member of the Illinois legislature from the Twenty-eighth district.

JOSEPH CLARK, a veteran Kansas editor and at one time proprietor of the Leavenworth Times, is dead at Hays City, Kas., after a long illness. He served in the legislature in an early day.

PHILIP JUNG, president of the Jung Brewing company and a pioneer brewer of Milwaukee, is dead, aged 65. Death was due to paralysis of the kidneys.

Government Employe Dies in Gas.

Otis McKenna, 6145 South Halsted street, a government meat inspector, was found dead in a gas filled bedroom at his home last night and is believed to have committed suicide while despondent over ill health. He was 27 years old.

Supposed Letter Not Found.

Secretary Fisher has made a most careful search of the department files, but has been unable to find the "Dick" letter. Mr. Ballinger's private secretary, Ashmun N. Brown, saw Mr Fisher this afternoon and told him that he knew of no such letter or postscript which Miss Abbot describes.

In a statement which he gave today Secretary Fisher said he preferred to believe that Miss Abbot had not been correctly quoted in the article she wrote relating to the Controller bay matter, because it contains many misstatements of substance with regard to her interview with him and completely misrepresents the character of the interview.

"I was not only not indifferent to the Controller bay incident," continued Mr. Fisher, "but was intensely interested in ascertaining any facts connected with the matter. It is true I examined Miss Abbot's article and pointed out to her that it contained numerous insinuations but few facts, and that on this account it did not seem to me convincing. Miss Abbot frankly admitted this was true and explained that she had written the article under pressure and intended to revise it.

Pointed Out Several Errors.

"I called her attention to specific statements which seemed to assume conclusions without indicating upon what facts they were based. I told her I should be interested in the facts if she could ascertain them, but that I was not interested in unsupported conclusions. I suggested to her that she ought to check carefully the matter of an article of that character, and she admitted she had not done so, but intended doing it, and would come back again. She never came back.

"No reference whatever was made in this interview to what Miss Abbott properly calls the 'amazing postcript,' which she says she found attached to a letter to Secretary Ballinger from Mr. Ryan, nor was this postscript ever mentioned or referred to in any other interview which I have ever had with Miss Abbott or any one else prior to its publication.

Letter Could Not Be Found.

"I am told upon my return today that the most diligent search of the records of this office has failed to disclose any such document, and that every one who is known to have seen the record says most emphatically that he has never seen this postscript or any postscript or other writing of this character. This includes Mr. Brown, who was private secretary to Secretary Ballinger, and continued to act in this capacity until Mr. Gove was appointed. Miss Abbott says Mr. Brown gave her the Dick note or postscript 'with apparent reluctance.'

"Miss Abbott is made to say in the article published that she remarked to Mr. Brown 'that the report of Secretary Fisher was brief in view of what had been accumulated in the record.' Miss Abbott had the report in which I specially called the attention of the senate to the fact that the resolution to which it was an answer called only for the specific data given, and that 'additional information showing more fully the action of the department and the reasons therefor is available if desired.'

"I am at a loss to understand why she should have attached any significance to my statement that I was a bit disappointed that the senate had not called for additional information. I had been unable to find anything in the records of the interior department which seemed to me to threaten the public interest, but I am always a believer in getting all the light that is possible, and I thought if the complete information was given full publicity, and there was anything in fact wrong, somebody would surely find it out."

Figures in House Hearing.

The story of the vanishing letter figured in a congressional inquiry begun today. The testimony before the house committee on expenditures in the interior department and statements from the White House and from Charles P. Taft's offices failed to lift the mystery enshrouding the alleged letter.

Commissioner Dennett of the general land office, the only witness today, testified he knew nothing of it and that he would not necessarily know of its existence, and such a letter was not recalled in any other quarter.

CHASE BRIDAL PARTY IN TAXI

GROOM'S FATHER TO RESCUE.

Bail Put at $50 and $40 Was All Prisoners Could Produce.

William McNamee, 432 West Sixty-second street, and Mrs. McNamee, who was Miss Marian Merrill, a teacher at the Chicago Musical college, left the city on their honeymoon yesterday. But there wasn't any shower of rice to annoy them, nor any placards on their baggage to make their departure embarrassing.

The fact is that the charivari party, headed by Jack Frazee, 4048 Ellis avenue, and including Anginetta Moore, Florence Rubige, and Jeannette Bhlelen, appeared in the police court yesterday morning to answer to a charge of speeding.

They didn't spend Saturday night locked up in a police station, but that was only because the bridegroom's father was amiable enough to make up the amount of bail demanded.

After the marriage Saturday night a party of six started out to follow the bride and groom in a taxicab.

At Thirty-fifth street and Cottage Grove avenue a policeman stopped the taxi and took the crowd to the station, charged with speeding.

Bail in the sum of $50 was demanded for their appearance in court. An anxious search of the crowd produced only $40.

Finally they called up the McNamee residence and asked for help. They got it. Their explanations in court got them off.

CITY PRIMARY AIM OF PROGRESSIVES

Aldermanic Candidates to Be Launched in Every Ward in February.

MIXES CHICAGO POLITICS.

Politicians Surprised That the League Can Enter Republican Fight So Early.

Aldermanic candidates will be placed in the primary running in every ward in Chicago by the Progressive Republican league of Cook county.

Confirmation of this report came yesterday from the Grand Pacific hotel headquarters over which Paul V. Perry presides. It was accepted as definite notice that the first skirmish between the Merriam Republicans and the old guard will be staged at the municipal primaries in Feburary.

"That will be the curtain raiser for the 1912 campaign," Mr. Perry said. "In a majority of the wards now, more than half of the precinct committeemen are with this progressive movement, and they are now talking about candidates for aldermanic honors. I am not prepared at this time to indicate the wards where this sentiment has crystalized, but I am able to predict that there will be progresive candidates who can command the support of this organization in every ward in the city."

Surprise to Politicians.

By the politicians, particularly by those who do municipal politics, it had been the supposition that the Merriam Republicans would devote their entire attention to the April primaries, where the opportunity is offered to capture the regular party organization by the election of precinct committeemen under the direct primary law. Likewise to have a crack at the long list of state, congressional, legislative, and county offices which are to be filed at the 1912 election.

It is distinctly surprising as a political proposition that the Merriam wing will be in readiness to cut into the the city campaign earlier.

Figuring that the Municipal Voters' league will make its usual pre-primary report upon the candidates who will be offered for the February primaries, the announcement from the Grand Pacific headquarters seems likely to muss up badly the prospects for the municipal campaign.

M. V. L. May Indorse Machine Men.

Many outgoing Republican aldermen, under existing circumstances, will carry the full approval of the Municipal Voters' league regardless of partisan politics. At the same time most of them are strong organization men and were elected two years ago through the efforts largely of the party machinery in their wards.

Unless the ward leaders and committeemen, likewise the aldermen who will seek reelection, come into the progressive camp and sign up for the full 1912 program of the Grand Pacific management, it is perfectly understood that they will be opposed by out-and-out progressives who class up to the standard set by the policy formulators of the Progressive league.

Elect Senators in Three Districts.

There are only three state senators to be elected in the Chicago districts in 1912, coming from the even numbered districts, the Second, Fourth, and Sixth.

The Second district is now represented in the senate by Louis C. Ball, who has regularly lined up with the reactionaries and has been known in Springfield as a Lorimer man.

It is suggested at progressive headquarters that Carl L. Barnes, late congressional candidate in the Lorimer district, may become the candidate against all.

It has not been determined that there shall be a Progressive league candidate against Senator William M. Brown in the Sixth district.

The Fourth district is now represented by Senator A. F. Gorman, a Democrat. The district is overwhelmingly Democratic.

Leaders of the regular Republican organization do not appear badly worried over steps which the Progressive league has taken. Slate making has been deferred until cooler weather opens up.

BINGHAM QUITS HIS NEW JOB

GAYNOR HAD HIM REMOVED.

Couldn't Accomplish Important Work, Reason for Abandoning Position.

New York, July 10.—[Special.]—Gen. Theodore A. Bingham resigned today from the office of chief engineer of the bureau of highways, to which he was appointed on May 4 by Borough President McAneny.

In his letter of resignation Gen. Bingham gave as his reasons for resigning the fact that the methods he had instituted in his office for accomplishing things did not coincide with the administration of the borough president, and that he was not willing to hold his office further, accomplishing no important work.

Lost Police Job Through Gaynor.

Gen. Bingham was removed as police commissioner by Mayor McClellan on the complaint of Judge Gaynor, now mayor. The mayor did not object to his appointment to the office of chief engineer. Gen. Bingham still has a $100,000 libel suit pending against the mayor and has won the preliminary skirmish in the courts. Bingham tonight took pains to specify that there had been no break between himself and the man who had appointed him. Neither had any action of the mayor interfered with his work, he said.

President McAneny said Gen. Bingham had called upon him last Friday and complained that the officials of the highways department were showing no disposition to aid him in improving the condition of the city's streets and that without the full support of the bureau he was helpless.

Men Under Civil Service.

"And you let him resign?" McAneny was asked.

"I could do nothing. I couldn't remove any of the men in the bureau because they are all civil service officials."

McAneny was asked if Gen. Bingham had been hampered in carrying out his plans for the betterment of the pavements by any influence the paving companies might have been able to bring to bear.

"Not that I know of," the borough president answered.

MOB CURBSTONE ORATOR; MANY INJURED IN RIOT.

Crowd Hurls Bricks When Socialist Attacks Rival Political Parties—Ten Under Arrest.

Objection to the utterancees of a curbstone orator by some of the spectators, caused a riot last night at Noble street and Milwaukee avenue, in which bricks were hurled, a score of men injured, and ten arrested.

The trouble, it is said, was started by Joseph Rioborski, a Polish Socialist advocate. He resides at 3246 North Central Park avenue.

According to the story told by the police, Rioborski attacked the Republican and Democratic parties in a speech. Some of his listeners began to jeer. This incensed Rioborski, and, it is alleged, he attempted to stab one of the crowd.

A riot was precipitated and missiles flew through the air. The police were notified and two patrolwagons were rushed to the scene. Rioborski and nine others were locked up at the Rawson street station.

FIGHTS BATTLE WITH SOUP.

John Kucera Fined by Judge Sabath for Using Edible as Tenement House Weapon.

Municipal Judge Sabath fined a man $5 and costs yesterday for using hot tomato soup as a weapon. The man was John Kucera, 1618 South Paulina street, who was accused of throwing a packing box, a heavy bench, and other more or less common tenement missiles at Mrs. Paulina Kalefka, his downstairs neighbor. But when he sent down the soup Mrs. Kalefka objected and had him arrested.

"She called my wife names," said Kucera.

"That doesn't make tomato soup a weapon," said the judge. "It's an edible."

The remark stumped Kucera, but he paid the fine.

COURT DECLARES WAR ON 'GUN MEN'

REFERS TO CRIME WAVE.

Judge Marcus Kavanagh of the Superior court, in charging the July grand jury yesterday, called attention to an article published in THE TRIBUNE on June 16, telling of the crime wave which swept over Cook county, resulting in 548 homicides in 601 days. The court condemned pawnbrokers and others who sell firearms to minors and called upon the inquisitors to inaugurate during the present session a crusade against the carrying of concealed weapons.

Judge Kavanagh declared it was futile to fine a man $5 or $10 under the city ordinance for carrying concealed weapons. He said allowing a man to get off thus lightly was simply offering encouragement to others with criminal intent to take the chance of the small fine. The remedy is to be found, he said, in the enforcement of the state law, which provides for a fine of $200 or about nine months at labor in the house of correction.

"A Homicide a Day."

"The great number of homicides which were set forth in an article published in THE TRIBUNE can be traced directly to the frequency of people carrying concealed weapons," said the court. "If we are to seek out and destroy the root of the evil we must make special efforts to curb the sale of deadly weapons.

"There is an average of one homicide a day in this community—one instance every day where the life of one individual is sacrificed at the hands of another. If such a condition of affairs existed twenty-five years ago the whole country would be shocked. But today it receives but passing notice.

"Human passions are the same today and human motives are the same, consequently there must be some reason outside of human nature itself for the alarming increase of homicides.

Refers to Crime Wave.

"The situation is not peculiar to Chicago alone; it is much the same throughout the country. Statistics show that there were 10,000 homicides in the United States last year.

"I am firmly convinced that the cause of this universal crime wave is due to the prevalence of carrying concealed weapons. A provocation which twenty-five years ago would have been answered with a blow is now repaid with a knife thrust or a shot from a revolver.

"There must be instituted a vigorous crusade against selling firearms to minors. A boy is attracted to a revolver as a baby to a stick of candy. And most of the crimes committed in Chicago are done by boys of from 18 to 20 years old.

"The crusade should be begun by returning indictments against witnesses as well as principals when the evidence shows they were armed.

Sale of Weapons to Minors.

"Investigation should be made into the sale of firearms to minors by pawnbrokers and others. In this I hope we will have the cooperation of all the municipal and county judges.

"The criminal classes carry concealed weapons generally. It has been found that convicts out of jail for only two or three days have provided themselves with revolvers. It is my belief if you will make the carrying of concealed weapons dangerous the number of homicides will be greatly decreased. The results of a vigorous crusade will not only be relief to Chicago from this terrible crime wave, but its effects will be felt in other cities, where like campaigns will be started."

HESITATE TO ACT AGAINST "SEERS"

BAD INFLUENCE AT WORK

Both Officials Say No "Shades" Control Policies; More Clairvoyants Tell Futures.

Apparently "bad influences" brought to bear by some of the clairvoyants whom THE TRIBUNE has exposed are at work upon Chief of Police McWeeny and City Prosecutor McInerney. At least these officials, while standing by their guns, have not fired a single shot.

Chief McWeeny is waiting to hear from his own men who were detailed upon the case about the same time as the reporters for THE TRIBUNE, and hesitates to take action until these reports have been received.

City Prosecutor McInerney is under the impression that some judge in this jurisdiction has declared the municipal code upon the subject of clairvoyants to be unconstitutional and is looking up authorities on the subject.

Want to Know Ground.

Neither one of these officials will admit that the clairvoyants have the slightest influence over them. Both insist that they have never seen such a person, and that if they should see one they would have them arrested. They say, however, that they do not care to proceed until they are absolutely sure of their ground.

"We can proceed," says City Prosecutor McInerney, "under the old section concerning the obtaining of money under false pretenses. That ought to cover it. Personally I believe that the section of the municipal code is all right."

"There is no doubt that these people should be put out of business," said Chief McWeeny. "I cannot see how they can possibly do anybody any good and they are likely to do a lot of weak minded people a lot of harm."

Meanwhile it might be interesting for the reader to observe a few more cases in point—showing the existence of clairvoyants and the brazen manner in which they ply their forbidden calling.

Mme. Brown Discusses Shooting.

A reporter for THE TRIBUNE also called upon Mme. Brown, 24 Seeley avenue—a slender old woman with white hair and a way of shaking her head from side to side as she talked with him in the parlor of her rooms on the main floor of the three story stone house.

The reporter was in grave trouble again. He had shot a man and did not know whether he had killed him or not. He was anxious to know the condition of this man and also what he should do to avoid detection and punishment.

It was not necessary to tell Mme. Brown much about the affair. She knew all about it. All the reporter had to do was to agree with her general description of the affair, which she constructed for him behind closed eyelids, with only a show of disagreement with some of the minor details.

"I can see," said Mme. Brown, "that you are in serious trouble. The man you shot is not dead. But he is badly hurt. He will recover, but you must be careful. It was cowardly of you to run away before you found out how badly you had hurt him. Did you know that he had a revolver in his pocket?

The reporter had not known that before, but ventured the suggestion that he thought he might have had one.

Says "Victim" Had Revolver.

"Well, he did, and that will be a great point in your favor. You can plead self-defense if they catch you, but if you follow my instructions they will not, and you can stay away for a year or so, until it blows over. It will take about that long, and you must have a course of treatment such as I can give you to protect you in the meantime. This trouble was about a woman, wasn't it?"

The reporter admitted that this was the cause of the shooting.

"Yes, it was about a woman—about a stout woman with dark hair and brown eyes. Yes, I knew that was it. I can see her plainly—a handsome woman and one of whom you are fond.

"She was there when the shooting took place. There were two or three women there as it comes to me. You had been drinking. Now, hadn't you been drinking? I thought so. You should never carry a revolver when drinking. You shot him through the chest, and the doctors have had a terrible time. But they will save his life. He fell forward on his face when you shot, didn't he? I thought so. And then you ran away. My goodness, but this is a bad mess.

"There is one man of whom you must beware. He knows you are in Chicago, and he has come here to find you. You must be careful of him. His teeth on one side are irregular, and he has a whole lot of gold fillings in his teeth. He is a short, fair man with a mustache. Do you recognize him?"

Gives Description of "Nemesis."

The reporter had never examined the teeth of many of the men whom he knew, but thought he could recognize this "Nemesis" from the general description.

"How can you help me?" he asked. "What must I do?"

"You must take my treatment. It will last sixteen days and cost you $18," she replied briskly. "For this I will remove the evil and dangerous influences which surround you, and baffle the enemies who would destroy you. If you take this treatment I can guarantee that you will come out of this trouble all right. You must begin at once while I am in touch with the whole situation and with the influences which surround you. You should begin today."

The reporter explained that he only had a dollar or two with him, but promised to return the next day with the necessary $18.

On his way out he was asked to give his name and address and did so with the first name and address he could think of. These were carefully noted by Mme. Brown, and the "spirits" or "influences" that had conjured up the graphic affair of a shooting which had never occurred were supposedly working on his case as he departed in search of the $18 which were to save him from arrest and prosecution for this apparently cowardly crime.

CHILDREN UNITE THE CHURANS.

Husband Says He Will Withdraw Divorce Suit Today—Will Go Away for a While.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Churan, whose matrimonial affairs have attained considerable recent publicity were together last evening at their residence, 519 Surf avenue. It was stated by both that a reconciliation had been reached on account of the children.

The terms of the settlement varied. It was stated by both, however, that the children had been the great consideration.

Mr. Churan said that he was going away on a vacation and would be absent from the city for some time. He also asserted that he would withdraw his bill for divorce today.

URGES OLD IMPERIAL POLICY

CITES RECIPROCITY IDEA.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, July 10.—At a banquet tonight in honor of Joseph Chamberlain, who was unable to be present, Mr. Balfour, the former premier, declared that Mr. Chamberlain's imperial policy was growing more important every day.

He imagined that everything that had happened or was happening or was going to happen in the relations between Canada and the United States, and everything that was going to happen regarding the great complex situation brought about by international treaties would cause incomparable trouble for the British foreign office in the future.

Could Have Avoided Trouble.

To abrogate those treaties was going to make England's free trade policy impossible. He added that if Mr. Chamberlain's policy had been adopted the present difficulties would not have come about.

"Whether or not the reciprocity treaty passes the Dominion parliament or not, the mischief has been done," he said. "The Canadian statesmen have begun to realize how extraordinarily they have been hampered or are going to be hampered by the different interpretations which the United States may choose to put upon the most favored nation clause as compared with the interpretations of the other nations.

Remedy Still Is Possible.

"Even now, if the reciprocity treaty is rejected and Great Britain will adopt Mr. Chamberlain's policy, it will not be too late to reap the advantage. The old system must go. Cobdenism must be shattered by the events of the future. The problem is whether the new system which arises will bind every element of the empire in the bonds of a common interest."

HUNDREDS DEAD IN STORM IN JAPAN; MANY SHIPS LOST.

Sweeps Coast with Tidal Wave Destroying Vessels Large and Small, with Their Crews.

Seattle, Wash., July 10.—Details of the great storm on the Japanese coast June 20 were brought by the steamship Kumeric, which arrived today from the Orient. Several hundred lives were lost and many ships destroyed.

A tidal wave swept the port of Aisaka, where the water rose five feet and the Miye Maru was washed ashore. At Nagoya, where the water demolished the breakwater, the Kanon Maru, 1,200 tons, was thrown upon a pier and twenty-four sailing vessels and junks were wrecked.

It was estimated that seventy vessels were wrecked or damaged between Yokoichi and Nagoya.

Along the coast of the Aichi prefecture more than 500 vessels, large and small, were reported as wrecked or damaged, while many lives were lost. The damage to agricultural products was estimated at 1,000,000 yen in the Aichi prefecture alone.

In Nagoya 135 buildings collapsed and 370 were damaged. Off Odawara, thirty fishing vessels were blown out to sea and more than 100 fishermen perished.

PASS CRISIS IN MOROCCO

France and Germany Hope to Settle Case in Friendly Spirit.

SEES INJUSTICE OF INVASION.

Foreign Minister Says Kaiser's Action Was Unfair to Country.

PARIS, July 10.—While the strictest secrecy is being maintained as to the pourparlers between France and Germany on the subject of Morocco and the sending of a German warship to Agadir, it is understood that they are progressing favorably and there is no fear of strained relations between the two powers.

In addition to the support of Great Britain, Russia has spared no efforts in behalf of France. On two occasions, at St. Petersburg and Berlin, respectively, Russia made known its complete agreement with the French point of view.

German Action Not Justified.

The Moroccan foreign minister, Mohammed Sidi-El-Mokhri, who is in Paris, said today that the German, like the Spanish intervention in Morocco, was not justified. On the other hand, the dispatch of a French column to Fez was necessitated by the revolution in that section and was requested by the sultan.

The act of Algeciras, said the foreign minister, established relations between the powers and Morocco, which the pending negotiations cannot legitimately change.

Hopeful View in Berlin.

BERLIN, July 10.—Preliminary negotiations regarding Morocco are being conducted confidentially, but nothing is made public officially beyond the joint statement that the exchanges are on a friendly footing, and that it is expected they will be prolonged, and are wrought with sensational developments.

For the first stage, at least, the negotiations are confined to Germany and France, though the other interested powers are kept informed.

HINCHY DIES; AUTO VICTIM FAILS TO REGAIN HIS SENSES.

He is believed to have been injured in a collision between an automobile going over fifty miles an hour and a milk wagon at West Jackson boulevard and South Green street, early last Saturday morning.

Three men and three women were riding in the car at the time of the accident. The car sped on after the accident and the police had not been able to ascertain the identity of the riders.

Hinchy was taken to the office of Dr. J. H. D. Cook in the Hotel Netherlands by two men who have since disappeared. He was taken to the Wesley hospital, where he died without regaining consciousness.

WILLEMSTAD, Curaçao, July 10.—A wireless dispatch from Buen Ayre island announces that Gen. José Antonio Davila landed on the island secretly Saturday night, having come from Venezuela.

Davila is one of the sixty-three men who, led by Gen. Cipriano Castro, twelve years ago invaded the state of Tachira, Venezuela, from Colombian territory. He is Castro's close friend.

According to the best information obtainable, Castro, the deposed president of Venezuela, is now on the western frontier of Venezuela at the head of 1,000 or more men engaged in enlisting an army with which he proposes to repeat his exploit of twelve years ago, when he overthrew the government and placed himself in the presidency.

ARREST OF CAMORRA LEADER BRINGS BATTLE WITH BAND

Two Policemen and Several Members of Society Wounded in Fight on Streets of Naples.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

ROME, July 10.—The Naples police tonight arrested Vincenzo Granculo, the new head of the Camorra. While they were taking the prisoner to the carbineer's barracks they were attacked by a band of Camorrists.

There was a fierce battle with revolvers and daggers. Inspector Castoldi and another policeman were mortally wounded, while several Camorrists are in a serious condition from their injuries.

Women of Ireland Present Address of Good Faith to the Queen of Britain.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

DUBLIN, July 10.—King George was astir early this morning and kept busy receiving loyal addresses, no less than 130 of these being presented during the day. The weather was bright and clear and his majesty seemed to enjoy it.

King's Reply to Addresses.

Replying generally to the numerous addresses the king said:

"I offer you all my thanks for the affectionate address you have given to the queen and myself. I notice with filial pride and pleasure that in almost every one of your addresses reference is made to the deep affection my father entertained for your country and to the influence he exerted to obtain its advancement and prosperity.

"It is my desire, I do assure you, to follow in my father's footsteps in the same direction and to do everything that lies within my power to promote the happiness and general well being of the Irish people. I pray that God's blessing may attend all of you in your laborious efforts for the health and happiness of Ireland."

Sees Leopardstown Races.

At the conclusion of this address the king, who was attired in the uniform of a field marshal, held a levee. After this he went to the Leopardstown races.

Lord Mayor Farrell has accepted an invitation to attend the state banquet to King George tonight.

Stepfather of Boy Whose Death Nearly Caused Jewish Massacre Accused of Killing Him.

KIEV, Russia, July 10.—Prikhodko, stepfather of Yushchinsky, the boy whose body, horribly mutilated, was found in a cave near here on Feb. 28, was arrested today.

The authorities have confiscated in various town pamphlets in which the writers sought to inflame racial feeling by ascribing the murder to fanaticism.

The case of Yushchinsky was used by the "black hundred" to arose hostility to the Jews and a Jewish massacre at Kiev was feared in consequence.

CITY CLUB TO HOLD VOTE DEVICE QUIZ

Election Board Probably Will Be Invited to Attend Planned Discussion.

MANY QUERIES TO MAKE.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.
[Late Deputy Commissioner of Public Works.]

The City club is attempting to arrange a luncheon for a discussion of voting machines. The date has not been fixed. Efforts are now being made to obtain speakers.

Among those who will probably be invited are: County Judge Owens, the election commissioners, their attorney, voting machine agents, and representatives of the Chicago bureau of public efficiency.

It is the plan not only to have talks, but to supply an opportunity for asking questions of those best informed on the subject. There are several important questions to which complete and satisfactory replies have not been given to date.

Number of Questions Given.

Among them are:

Why should 1,000 machines be purchased?

Is the election board's attorney wrong in asserting that the law contemplates the purchase of only 700?

What are the board's plan for raising the necessary $942,500 to buy 1,000 machines?

What are the board's detailed figures showing more or less expense by the use of 1,000 machines?

When machines are used, how many voters will be placed in each precinct?

What is the form of guarantee on the machines the board will require of the Empire company, which has been promised the contract?

Why did the board violate its own specifications by refusing to have a public exhibition of the voting machines?

How Long Was Plan Considered?

How long before a decision in favor of the Empire was made did each member of the board know that action was to be taken?

Why did not the board require each company to exhibit a machine of the capacity on which bids were received?

Why were competing companies refused an opportunity to point out defects in the Empire machine?

Has the Empire company or its subsidiary companies ever exhibited here a machine of the capacity required in Chicago weighing less than 1,700 pounds?

Why does not the board adopt a resolution explaining its future procedure and intentions with reference to buying and installing machines?

Why not require the Empire company to make public a list of its Chicago stockholders?

3 Firms to Give Stockholders' Names.

That last question is highly pertinent. All three of the other competing companies have said that they are willing to answer that question. In fact, they have said they are willing to make known the entire list of their stockholders provided the Empire is required to make public its list of financial backers.

They have said that they would favor an amendment to the state law by which every bidder on voting machines would be required to file an affidavit showing certain information regarding stockholders and directors.

Two of the companies which competed for the Chicago contract, the Empire and the International, are known to have Chicago stockholders. The International officials have asserted that none of their Chicago backing is interested in politics.

Keeps Stockholders in Hiding.

A similar declaration has not been made by representatives of the Empire company. Indeed, Harry Hall, sales agent and stockholder of the Empire company, declined to make any statement regarding stockholders, except that his company would not make public the list.

There are a number of questions which might be asked the representative of the Empire company if he appears at the City club function. He might be asked why it was arranged so that the Empire machine was examined by the state commission behind a locked door while other machine men were waiting outside.

What was the reason for returning to the factory the Empire machines recently purchased by Peru, Ind.?

Why has Los Angeles not used any of the sixty-five machines which it purchased of a subsidiary company of the Empire seven years ago?

Why did the machines used in Cleveland fail to account for over 1,300 voters at a certain election?

Has the Empire representative in Chicago ever had dinner with any election officials of Chicago? If so, what was the subject of conversation?

Kellermann Makes Statement.

Charles H. Kellermann, chairman of the election board, issued a statement yesterday giving his reasons for proposing to purchase 1,000 voting devices.

"It should be noted," says Mr. Kellermann, "that the board has not purchased and will not purchase any voting machines until the Empire Voting Machine company shall make a final exhibition of a completed machine suitable for Chicago elections, which completed machine shall first have the approval of the state examiners of voting machines and the board of election commissioners.

"The company has three months in which to produce the machine for final examination. In the proposed contract of purchase machines are to be delivered in four installments, the final installment to be delivered twenty-one months from date of contract."

Continuing the statement says Chicago's growth is at the rate of 75,000 a year, which would mean about 30,000 more voters in two years.

Tell of Big Vote Increases.

The commissioners also provided for the city's growth by annexation. Another reason advanced is that when great issues are involved in elections the number of voters jump by leaps and bounds, as in the period between 1892 and 1896, when the voters increased from 241,858 to 350,485. Chicago now has approximately 425,000 voters and may have 500,000 next year, according to the fears of the commissioners. In which case they would need every one of the 1,000 machines, it is contended by Mr. Kellermann. The law however, provides that there shall be 600 voters to a precinct and all machine men assert that one device to a precinct is sufficient. So 835 machines ought to be sufficient for 500,000 registered voters.

Mr. Kellerman, in his statement, however, asserts that the statute does not rigidly prescribe one machine for every 600 voters, which is literally accurate. It is Mr. Kellermann's opinion that the board has the discretionary power to make the precincts of a size best suited to accommodate the voters.

WINS WATER DRINKING BOUT

Shurtleff College Boy Consumes Five Quarts of Liquid.

NEARLY DROWNS HIMSELF.

Three Other Contestants Overcome by Severe Test of Powers.

Alton, Ill., July 10.—[Special.]—Earl McDow is the proud victor of a drinking contest among five seniors of Shurtleff college, a Baptist ministerial school, but the defeated four declare he won on a technicality.

Earl Griffey suggested the contest while the five were sitting about the well, and a tin cup was passed around, it being a provision of the bout that every man should drain it to the last nonintoxicating drop.

Each Drinks Five Quarts.

The cup was passed around thirty times. Estimating the cup held one-third of a pint, each man drank five quarts of water.

McDow was the man to start the thirty-first round. He raised the cup and almost emptied it, then was overcome. He couldn't swallow another drop, and he felt ill. So he threw the cup into the well. Since McDow had drunk more than any one else, and since there was nothing on hand to drink out of, he was declared the winner.

Use First Aid to Drowning.

The defeated contestants rolled themselves about the campus and aided artificial respiration movements for one another, in order to find relief. They practiced about all the first aid to the drowning remedies they knew before they were fully resuscitated.

The other contestants were John Deebe, Frank Coulter, and Carl Terry.

"I could not look at the McCutcheon cartoon without contributing my mite," writes Edward J. Kelsey of Colorado Springs, in sending his contribution to THE TRIBUNE'S free ice fund. "Inclosed please find a postal money order for the babies."

"Put the attached bill into the ice fund—and may it do some poor kiddie good," writes another, sending currency anonymously.

Incloses Check for $10.

"Inclosed please find check for $10," writes Eleanor Joan Frank, or rather her mother, from Charlevoix, Mich. "I wish I could send more to make other little babies as well and as happy as I am."

An Iowa City baby, Marcus M. Stewart, II., who evidently reads consistently, sent the following words:

"I have not as yet seen any contribution for the baby ice fund from Iowa City, and herewith inclose $1. I am only a little baby myself—born last September—and I would not want my milk supply spoiled by lack of ice."

Savings Go for Ice.

And even a once relentless foe of poor babies gives way. She writes:

"I do not believe in poor people having babies. Neither do I believe in people with good sense being called on to support them. For this reason I am not making a large contribution to the ice fund. Nevertheless, in order to be in the swim, I am inclosing some money to be used for the purchase of ice."

GOVERNOR GIVES CLEMENCY TO SEVERAL PRISONERS.

Among Those Whose Sentences Are Commuted Are Two Convicted of Murder on Circumstantial Evidence.

Springfield, Ill., July 10.—Gov. Deneen today, upon the recommendation of the board of pardons, commuted the sentence of Luigi Randi and Christania Randi to expire Friday next, July 14. The two were convicted in Whiteside county for the crime of killing an Italian woman.

The evidence in the trial was circumstantial and the trial judge and prosecuting attorney expressed doubts as to the guilt of the Italians.

The governor also commuted the sentence of Charles E. Curry, who was sentenced to a twenty-five years term in the southern Illinois penitentiary for assault. Curry's sentence will expire July 15, 1911. It is said that at the time of Curry's indictment he pleaded guilty to the charge because he feared a mob which threatened to lynch him.

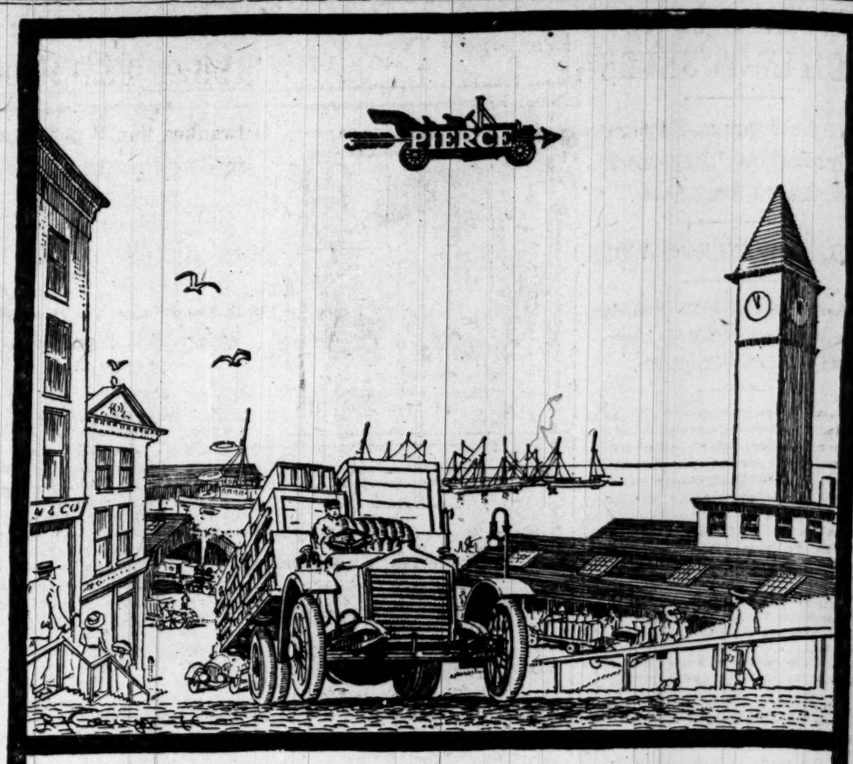

The sentence of Yanet Telford, colored, also was commuted to expire on July 15, 1911. Telford was convicted in Jackson county of murder, but later it was proved to be justifiable homicide.

George Felts, an old soldier, is also a recipient of the governor's clemency. Felts' sentence will expire by the commutation on July 14, 1911. Felts was sentenced on a charge of murder, but the facts elicited at the trial were more in accordance with a verdict for manslaughter.

On the alleged victim's sworn statement exonerating him from the charge of assault, the governor commuted the sentence of Harry Weston to expire July 15, 1911.

Iron in Cool Comfort on the Hottest Summer Day

An Electric Flat Iron does not heat up the room. Electricity heats only the face of the iron—not the handle—not the room—not you. Saves footsteps, too. No changing of irons—one iron does all the work. Why not be comfortable this Summer?

An Electric Flat Iron For Only $1.00 a Month Until it is Paid For

Upon signing an application at Electric Shop, patrons of the Commonwealth Edison Company may have their choice of any of the best makes of Electric Irons by paying $1.00 down at the time of making application, and $1.00 each month (at the time of paying lighting bills) until the iron is paid for.

A six-pound general household iron may be had for $4.25 and up, depending upon the make of iron selected.

State Scathingly Arraigns "Absolute Life" Exponent in Closing Argument.

Assistant State's Attorney Burnham Declares 'Prophet's' Disciples Were His Dupes.

In a concluding argument filled with sarcasm and impassioned denunciation, Frederic Burnham, assistant state's attorney, tore the twilight mystery yesterday from "absolute life" and its prophet, Evelyn Arthur See. That which he left was not pleasant to look upon.

It was almost 5 o'clock when the prosecutor closed. In the course of his address to the jury he had exposed the veiled meanings of the "Book of Truth"; connected many of its seemingly symbolical expressions with incriminating evidence and word slaughtered the defendant in a manner which left him not a rag of godhood to cover his mortality.

It was a libertine, a cool and greedy libertine, which the prosecutor painted—one who, in the midst of his pleasures, never lost sight of his financial needs. Mrs. Bridges was a tool toward one end—her daughter; but they were both tools toward the same end—money.

Burnham's Idea of See.

Some of the terms in which he characterized See were: Demon, serpent, man satan, toad, monster, moloch, and mental poisoner.

On the mechanics of See's victory over Mrs. Bridges and Mildred Bridges, Mr. Burnham dwelt with particular force.

The evidence he connected into a dramatic and graphic story of the betrayal first of husband and wife, then of daughter. From See's arrival in Chicago until his trial he traced the movements of the "revealer," and the growth and downfall of "absolute life."

Says Mona Had No Escape.

The prosecutor dwelt on the frequent changes of residence which Mona Rees made upon her first arrival in Chicago.

"When she arrived here," he said, "she was met at the station by See. Where did she go then? To the flat of her mother? No, to the Tock's, where she was joined by See in ten days. But the evidence does not show that she yielded at once to him. On the contrary we see her moving back and forth from the Tock's to her mother's; from her mother's back to the Tock's, searching like a hunted deer for the refuge she could find nowhere, not even in the heart which should have cared most for her honor. That she finally fell we cannot wonder, for she had no escape."

"The women in this case," continued the prosecutor, "always were and still are only the tools of this man. They go on this stand now and perjure and contradict themselves for him. See used Mrs. Bridges as a tool to secure Mildred. Mrs. Bridges said on the stand that while she was lying in bed one morning she was 'struck' with an inspiration, a knowledge that she was ordained to 'perfect' motherhood.'

Calls See a Serpent.

Do you believe that? No! It was by something else that she was struck."

The prosecutor turned and glared straight at See. "She was struck by something less than human," he roared—"a serpent which was after her little daughter."

Under such attacks as these the "dictator" appeared unaffected. They had a much more pronounced effect, though, on Mrs. Bridges, who sat in the front row of the spectators' seats with Mrs. Rees and Mona. She shivered under the prosecutor's attacks on her "motherhood." Mrs. Rees and Mona sat solemn and serious throughout.

The prosecutor's bursts of vehement condemnation were frequent, but they were not as effective as the sarcasm with which he emphasized the conflicting testimony which has been a part of the trial. In the afternoon as he was citing the "default" of Stephen Bridges for his failure to support the life, he quoted the passage saying that he shall "be placed into the hands of his babe."

Burnham Becomes Sarcastic.

"I suppose that wasn't See talking," he sneered. "I suppose it was God coming down from heaven to mix in this petty family squabble. Do you believe it? Do you believe that the Mighty Spirit which moves the universe would come down from heaven to help Evelyn Arthur See in his efforts to extract more money from the man he had ruined?"

Again and again in the course of his argument the prosecutor quoted from the passages of the "Book of Truth" which advocate free love, pointing out the absurdity of the construction which See's witnesses placed upon them—that they were made to apply to marriage. R. E. Cantwell, attorney for the defense, only interrupted three times with objections.

The defense's arguments will open this morning.

Massillon, O., July 10.—With cries of "hang him!" a mob of several hundred persons gathered in the northern part of the city tonight and threatened to wreak summary vengeance upon Harvey Mickens, a negro, accused of having attacked Myrtle Evans, a 16 year old white girl. The negro was spirited away to the county jail at Canton.

The negro had been captured by a posse, which chased him for several miles upon a handcar.

Half a hundred men surrounded the city jail and made a demonstration of violence, but were quickly repelled by the police and deputies.

News of the attempted assault had gained wide currency, and excitement prevailed as the members of the posse with their prisoner in custody arrived in the police station this evening.

FAINTS WHEN FINED $25,000.

Importer Accused of Undervaluation Appears Unexpectedly in United States Court and Pays Up.

New York, July 10.—Jules Rosenberg, who with his brother Hugo has been a fugitive from justice for over a year, came from Montreal today and unexpectedly appeared in the United States Circuit court and pleaded guilty to undervaluing importations of millinery and dress goods.

Although District Attorney Wise made a plea for a prison sentence, Judge Archbald fined Rosenberg $25,000 and costs, amounting to $5,000.

Rosenberg fainted when he was taken to the marshal's office, but paid the fine.

Chicago's New Smoke Inspector.

OSBORN MONNETT

OSBORN MONNETT LANDS JOB AS CHIEF SMOKE INSPECTOR.

Mayor Harrison Names Young Man to Post on Unanimous Recommendation of Abatement Commission.

Osborn Monnett, although young in years in contrast with many men selected for important public office, was the only man recommended for the post of chief smoke inspector by the smoke abatement commission, upon whose judgment Mayor Harrison relied in sending his appointment to the city council last evening.

"He came to my office carrying a letter from T. E. Donnelley, chairman of the smoke commission," said Mayor Harrison, "and its strong recommendations, backed by his personal appearance and manner, convinced me that he was the right man for the place."

Mr. Monnett was notified in advance that his name would go to the council meeting, and, while expressing some pleasure at the opportunity the new field of work offered him, said that he felt he was "in for a more or less disagreeable time."

"I am glad to step into the office," he said, "but it is not with any feeling that it will be all roses and sunshine. I am prepared to meet the situation fairly and squarely, and I can't help but realize that a smoke inspector who enforces the law in Chicago is in for a more or less disagreeable time of it.

"Upon his shoulders rests the blame in the eyes of hundreds of manufacturers and other business men for their prosecution for violations of the smoke ordinances, and upon his shoulders also descends the criticism of thousands of citizens for violations of the smoke laws."

CHICAGO ELKS HOSTS TO THOUSANDS AT CONVENTION.

Keep Open House in Headquarters at Atlantic City—First Session Opens—Mayor and Governor Welcome Them

Atlantic City, N. J., July 10.—[Special.]—Keeping open house at their quarters, the Chicago Elks spent a busy day today, receiving thousands of callers and dispensing hospitality to all. The extremely hot weather, which established a record in the local bureau, drove many of the men to the surf and in the morning a party was formed to take a sail. This evening the entire delegation attended the formal opening of the reunion on the steel pier.

Thousands of Elks arrived in the city today and many more are expected tomorrow. The city is in possession of the order and they own the board walk.

The adherents of the two candidates, Rasbury and Sullivan, are working with might and main, and it would be hard to say who has the advantage.

Tonight the convention was formally opened at Marine hall and addresses of welcome were made by the mayor, Gov. Tener, Harry Bacharach, Theodore W. Shimpf, and Howard McSherry. Grand Exalted Ruler August Herrmann of Cincinnati responded.

MOTORCYCLIST SHOT IN DUEL.

Policeman and Bystanders Say Rider Opened Fire When Commanded to Halt and Show Light.

Oakland, Cal., July 10.—Robert Freudenthal, a young motorcyclist, was shot and fatally wounded early today by Patrolman Harry Teeple after an exchange of shots. Freudenthal was riding without a light and according to bystanders answered the officer's command to halt with a shot from a pistol. Freudenthal insisted the policeman fired first.

PEARSE TO LEAD 'REBEL' TEACHERS

Milwaukee Man Will Be Nominee for President of National Body.

MISS BLAKE ON TICKET.

Both Candidates Are Supporters of Mrs. Ella Flagg Young of Chicago.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

San Francisco, Cal., July 10.—[Special.]—Carroll G. Pearse, superintendent of the Milwaukee public schools, will be the nominee of the insurgents for the presidency of the National Educational association.

Miss Catherine D. Blake, president of the Interborough Teachers' association and chairman of the Woman Principals' club of New York, will be named for treasurer.

Both are firm supporters of President Ella Flagg Young. Mr. Pearse defended her in the contest with Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, over the chairmanship of the board of trustees, which Dr. Butler "accepted" when he accepted reelection as a member of that inner body at the Boston convention a year ago, but to which post Mrs. Young held he had not been elected and was not entitled.

Lead Boston Floor Fight.

Miss Blake was the leader of the supporters of Mrs. Young at Boston last year and presented the minority report nominating the Chicago woman on the convention floor, the move which led to the sweeping aside of precedent, the election of Mrs. Young, and the defeat of X. Z. Snyder of Colorado, who was the choice of the nominating committee.

The personnel of the insurgents' candidates for the two chief posts in the organization was made known today as the result of the caucus of insurgent leaders held at the Sequoia club last night.

The fact that the insurgents have definitely decided upon the leaders of head their slate has not been announced and will not become generally known until tomorrow, when the names of the nominating committee will be returned to the secretary. The members were chosen at meetings of the state delegations in the Greek theater of the University of California at Berkeley this afternoon, following the opening of the convention and the first general session.

Butler Resigns from Post.

The day saw several unexpected turns in the political situation. First among the surprises was the resignation of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, as a member of the board of trustees. Dr. Butler is not present and his resignation was laid before the directors by another member.

Except for the presentation of the resignation, it would lie within the power of the trustees to declare Dr. Butler's seat vacant in accordance with a provision of the association's bylaws, which provides for the automatic retirement of a trustee, who is absent from two consecutive annual sessions. Dr. Butler did not attend the Boston convention.

The resignation of Dr. Butler was presented at the meeting of the board of directors this morning. Immediately the question of electing his successor became in order. The insurgents nominated former President James Y. Joyner of North Carolina, whom Mrs. Young succeeded and who is an out and out progressive. The "old guard" leader promptly named J. Stanley Brown, principal of the Joliet, Ill., High school. After a close and hot election Mr. Brown won by one vote. Chairman Young announcing that the Illinois man had been elected by a vote of 18 to 17.

Insurgents Feel Disappointed.

The announcement met with expressions of keen disappointment from the insurgents. They called attention to the fact Mr. Joyner cast no vote, while Mr. Brown voted for himself.

"I feel like saying, 'long live chivalry'," declared Miss Margaret Haley, who is helping the organization work of the Chicago principals' club. "If Mr. Joyner had voted for himself, just as Mr. Brown helped himself, it would have been a tie. Then it would have been necessary for Mrs. Young to vote, and certainly she would have elected Mr. Joyner."

CHICAGO SHRINERS CHEERED BY CROWDS AT ROCHESTER.

Medinah Temple Delegation Stirs Street Throngs—100,000 Visitors Arrive for Imperial Council of Order

Rochester, N. Y., July 10.—[Special.]—Tonight Rochester is the Shriners' mecca of the United States. Gathered here from all parts of the country are 40,000 members of the ancient Arabic order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, who came to attend the thirty-seventh annual session of the imperial council. Many were accompanied by relatives and friends, the total number of visitors exceeding 100,000.

Never before has Rochester had such a gala appearance as it has tonight. Gorgeous decorations consisting of strings of electric lights, American flags and streamers of the color of the order bedeck the city and hang from every point of vantage.

The largest caravan arriving today was that of Medinah temple of Chicago, the largest temple in the world. The Chicagoans, 260 strong, were guided into the city by Potentate Robert J. Daly, assisted by his staff, consisting of Harry D. Platt, John Heist, Nelson N. Lampert, and Frank C. Roundy.

The Chicago nobles boast of having the only oriental band in the country, and as the patrol and nobles marched up the street headed by the band, which was playing the most weird music this city ever heard, they were cheered to the echo.

Frank C. Roundy, past imperial potentate and captain of the oriental patrol of the United States, made a big hit with the throng that lined the streets when he gave an exhibition drill.

STRANGER, VICTIM OF HEAT, CALLS STEEL BOARD MEETING.

Entering Office of Gary, He Presides at Table Where All Other Seats Are Vacant.

New York, July 10.—[Special.]—A well dressed man who said he was C. E. Piper of Atlanta, Ga., appeared today at the office of Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, at 71 Broadway.

Piper proceeded into the private office of Mr. Gary. There was no one in the room. There is a long table there, around which the members of the executive committee gather at their meetings. Standing at the end of the table, Piper, with hat in hand, called a meeting of the directors of the corporation.

Some of the office attendants notified a special officer, and Piper quietly left the office in company with him. As he was being led out a man who said he was his brother-in-law took charge of him.

It was believed that Piper was suffering from the heat. It was said that he was connected with one of the southern subsidiary companies of the corporation.

Two Alleged Swindlers Caught.

Morris Brown and Jack Habel, both claiming to be from Chicago, were arrested at Kenosha, Wis., last night on the charge of counterfeiting. Later the charges were changed to attempted swindling. The men had tin cheats in which were presses, which, they declared to the unwary, were used for making duplicates of money.

DEFECTS FEARED IN NEW 4TH LAW

LISTS INJURIES IN CITY.

Statistician Gives Committee Table Showing Accidents and Factors Causing Them.

Although the proposed ordinance prohibiting the use of fireworks except by licensed exhibitors was recommended for passage by the city council yesterday, a new question of its effect has raised a doubt of its desirability even in the mind of its author.

Whether a permit by the mayor for an exhibition, properly safeguarded, would not permit the use of explosives and fireworks of any form by the exhibitor, caused the trouble. There now is in the municipal code an ordinance prohibiting the use of toy pistols, firearms, dynamite canes, cannon crackers, and similar dangerous explosives, and the proposed measure repeals all previous ordinances in conflict with it.

Permit for Using Explosives.

It provides that fireworks of the explosive sort, even those that explode in the air, shall not be discharged in the city except upon a permit issued by the mayor.

"I don't know whether this would permit the use of cannon crackers and other fireworks now absolutely prohibited," said Ald. Charles M. Thomson, "and I shall have to look into that question before passage of the ordinance is asked by the council."

Gives Statistics on Accidents.

One of the arguments before the judiciary committee in its consideration of the ordinance was a report of the city statistician. The causes of accidents he attributed as follows:

Gunpowder	7	Percussion caps	3
Firecrackers	8	Skyrocket	1
Giant crackers	9	Other fireworks	1
Torpedoes	2	Toy cannon	1
Flowerpots	2	Stray bullets	16
Sparks	1

Of eighty-two fires ascribed to the celebration, one was due to a Roman candle, three to balloons, and two to pinwheels.

LETS KINSWOMAN KILL SELF

Indianapolis, Ind., July 10.—[Special.]—"If she wants to kill herself let her go ahead."

These words, spoken with regard to his mother-in-law by Robert Sherlock, when his aid might have prevented her from committing suicide, are the cause of his being held by the police on a charge of loitering, pending further investigation.

Sherlock will be given a hearing Wednesday.

Harold F. McCormicks' Housewarming Tonight

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD F. McCORMICK have arranged an initial entertainment to be given in their new Lake Forest residence tonight. That is, it is the first event to be given in the country house since the workmen practically reconstructed it during the last few weeks. The housewarming will be in the nature of a dinner, to which a good sized company of close friends have been bidden. This will be served at 8 o'clock. One hour and a half later additional guests will come in for an evening of music and possibly dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Johnston, who are spending the summer in Lake Forest, will give a dinner at the Onwentsia club next Saturday evening, complimentary to Howard Gillette, whose engagement to Miss Cornelia Brookmire of St. Louis was an announcement of June. The wedding, so it is said, will be celebrated in September. Mr. and Mrs. Johnston have bidden forty friends to the dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Clark, former Chicagoans, who have been living in Washington, have gone to Marion, Mass., where they have opened their summer cottage. With them is their daughter, Mrs. Cecil Clark Davis. Mrs. Davis is expected to come to Chicago to spend a portion of next winter. She has taken an apartment in the city and while here will do sketches of the city's celebrities for eastern journals. Mrs. Davis was one of the group of daughters of wealth in Chicago who showed artistic talent. She dabbled in drawing for a number of years, but especially since her separation from her novelist husband, Richard Harding Davis, she has taken up the talent seriously.

The bazaar which the women of the Episcopal church of Lake Forest have arranged for tomorrow is to be given at the Winter club, with the coronation pictures to be shown both afternoon and evening. The afternoon hours are from 3 to 5 o'clock, with the evening's entertainment opening at 8:30 o'clock. Mrs. Charles C. Adsit, Mrs. Finley Barrell, Mrs. Mark Cummings, Mrs. Stanley Field, Mrs. J. O. Heyworth, Miss Edith Hoyt, Mrs. George McKinlock, and Mrs. McLaren form the entertainment committee. Among the other women interested are Mrs. Carter FitzHugh, Mrs. C. W. Folds, Mrs. R. H. McElwee, Mrs. A. A. Sprague II., Mrs. Barbour Browne, Mrs. W. E. Casselberry, Mrs. S. T. Chase, and Mrs. Richards.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund T. Perkins have issued cards for a golf party to be given Thursday afternoon at the Glen View Country club. The hours are from 4 to 7 o'clock, with mixed foursomes to be played at 2 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Bartlett, who went abroad some months ago, reached New York last week and will join Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bartlett at their summer place at Lake Geneva late this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank sailed from Europe last Saturday and are expected to reach here by July 18. They will go to their Lake Geneva place at once.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor C. Sanborn have returned from a motoring trip of several weeks through New England.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edwin Rollins Jr., 4520 Sheridan road, left yesterday for "Intervale Farm," their Wisconsin country place. They will be away several weeks.

Mrs. Lillie Stewart Poundstone, 617 East Fiftieth street, announces the marriage of her daughter, Mora, to Edward Munroe, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Munroe, 3148 Michigan avenue, which took place on Thursday, July 6. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles K. Thomson, rector of St. Alban's Episcopal church, in the presence of a small company of relatives and friends. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Fauna Poundstone, who wore a gown of yellow marquisette and carried an arm bouquet of marguerites. The bride's gown was of white brocaded satin, veiled with marquisette and trimmed in duchesse lace, fastened with a diamond cross, an heirloom belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Josephine Samuels. She carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas. She was given away by her uncle, Joseph Samuels of Dallas, Tex. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Munroe left for a motor trip through the east.

Mrs. Samuel M. Rush gave a children's party at her summer residence, Rosedale cottage, Oconomowoc, on Saturday, complimentary to the sixth birthday of her small daughter, Hortense. The table was decorated with pond lilies.

Miss Edith L. Case, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Case, 1933 Orrington avenue, Evanston, has returned from Smith college, having graduated in the class of 1911.

New Books.

Mrs. Older's "Esther Damon."

BY ELEANOR D. GEHR.

MRS. FREMONT OLDER'S "ESTHER DAMON" (Scribner's) is the story of the development of two lives. The man had drunk away his patrimony and was accounted the worst man in the town, but he had some of the traits of a genius, and, when misfortune overwhelmed him, by sheer force of will he overcame his habit and later was the means of bringing new life into the village which spurned him. The girl was the daughter of a Methodist minister and a woman evangelist, dedicated by her parents to a missionary's life.

A high conception of filial duty made her simulate an acquiescence she was far from feeling, for hers was an artistic nature and she craved with all the ardor of youth the pretty things wherewith girls adorn themselves but which were forbidden by the rigid discipline of home. She also craved a liberal education and, without the knowledge of her parents, worked that she might have the money to defray her expenses at a girl's college. But no freedom, no individuality even, was permitted her by her parents, and finally, when the tension of their bonds became too tight, she broke those imposed by a more lenient society.

Mrs. Older has laid the plot of her story in the first few years following the civil war, when a journey on a railway was regarded with apprehension and the industrial arts were still in their infancy. The characters are sympathetically and therefore convincingly drawn, and the story with its vivid pictures of village life is one that is almost certain of a respectful hearing.

Oliver Onions tried to be subtle and psychologic in his new novel, "THE EXCEPTION" (Lane); he has succeeded in being much of a bore. Every sentence, every laugh, every gesture even, of every one of the dozen and more characters is explained or analysed with wearying repetitions of detail. The story itself, were it more attractively garbed, might have been passably entertaining, for it is different in plot from many others. "THE EXCEPTION" is a young woman who, having tasted the fullness of love surreptitiously in her early youth, views life without any romantic illusions. But as she views it also without any bitterness, her aloofness and dispassionateness are regarded with admiration by all her friends, who look upon her with a wonder bordering upon reverence. Her personality is agreeable and her friends and companions are numbered among those persons who have the leisure and inclination to make themselves entertaining and acceptable to their fellows; but their graciousness is not an efficacious antidote for the author's pedantry.

"LASSOING WILD ANIMALS IN AFRICA" (Stokes) is an account, by Guy H. Scull, of an expedition, captained by Col. C. J. Jones, made into the jungles of Africa for the purpose of capturing large animals for zoological parks and exhibitions. In the main the book is just what its title announces it to be—namely: a recital of how the work of capturing was accomplished—the technic of jungle hunting. Col. Jones, it is perhaps unnecessary to state, is one of the most successful as well as one of the pioneer hunters of large game of this country and time, and an account of one of his expeditions was worth publishing. Incidentally it might be stated that Col. Roosevelt has written an introduction to the volume.

It is always difficult for an older person to gauge the enjoyment a boy will derive from a particular book, and so it may be that that young fellow of 12 or 14 years who for the time being is absorbed in camps and camping and to whom the boy scout idea has appealed almost romantically will, on reading, accord Robert Sargent Holland's "THE BOY SCOUTS OF BIRCH BARK ISLAND" (Lippincott) one of the choicest adjectives of approval in his expressive vocabulary. An older reader, however, regarding the book with a more critical and, in all probability, a more disinterested eye, would not be as enthusiastic in his indorsement.

Mr. Holland tells what are the duties of a scout when he is in camp, also what are the responsibilities resting on every camper; he has likewise provided a sufficient amount of excitement for a boy's summer outing, but that is all. He has not left many opportunities for the imagination to come into play; he has not created characters that will live or that do live in the pages of the book. In short, paradoxical though it may read, the book's power to interest resides not in its pages but in the reader thereof.

Though bearing the identical title, Joseph Lincoln's "THE WOMAN HATERS" (Appleton's) is not the same piece of writing that appeared as a short story in one of the periodicals recently, for the author tells us that when he came to rewrite the first story he realized that he had overlooked so much that virtually a new novel has resulted. Those who read the short story may be interested to see how Mr. Lincoln has changed it, but those who come to the novel with minds unbiased will have nothing to complain of on the score of enjoyment or diversion.

At the beginning the book is humorous almost to the exclusion of everything else, the two men who for several chapters are the only characters to claim the reader's attention indulging in conversation that would put professional wags, wits, and interlocutors to shame. But after a time, when one is wondering how much longer it will be possible to keep the laugh uppermost, the serious element of the story enters, which tells how it is that two such effervescing souls should hate anything, especially women. Of course there would have been no story if they had continued in their benighted condition, and so the rest of the book tells how that power which made women beautiful and attractive managed so that two particular women should assume their rightful places in the lives of these two men.

The story is amusing and diverting, even though the end is so obvious as to arouse no curiosity in the mind of the experienced novel reader.

Mrs. Æneas Gunn's "WE OF THE NEVER-NEVER" (Macmillan) is a story of life beyond the bush in South Africa. It could perhaps not be called a literary achievement, but it is filled with that spirit of comradeship and brotherly sympathy that assures it a place in the hearts of those who read it. Mrs. Gunn went as a bride to that country where few if any women ever go, and in the eyes of the rough though chivalrous men there she "made good." The life there was hard, but there were compensations, and it is of these compensations that Mrs. Gunn writes.

As his wife hovered between life and death a wealthy man who had made his millions in ways which were hardly recommended by the teachings of Christianity makes "THE VOW" (Stokes) that if his wife lives he will make full reparation for the wrong he has done, for the untold suffering he has caused, and will conscientously try to live a Christian life. Paul Trent's novel relates how he went about to keep that vow, and, considering the nature of the subject and the pitfalls of exaggeration, false sentiment, and pharisaism into which the author might have fallen in the telling, it is a creditable piece of work. Nevertheless one feels all along that it is a hypothetical case, interesting largely because Mr. Trent has indicated the many ramifications, the many almost countless spreaders from one act which required but a few minutes perhaps in the doing.

"ZOE, THE DANCER" (John Lane company) is the story of the life of a young girl who after fifteen years of convent training gets out into the world and as a dancer wins loud plaudits. In the course of her career she makes many friends and has many experiences, though the fact that some of her associates call her a prude indicates that her life is without the revolting sordidness which so many attach to the profession.

The unfortunate part of it all is, however, so far as the success of the book goes, that Miss Wild has tried to be so "awfully funny" with the result that the adverb is more deeply impressed upon the readers' consciousness than the adjective. For like many who are obsessed with continual seeking for bon mots, the author has not always been guided by a discriminating taste but has let her desires run riot, marring what few graces her story possessed. Considering the mechanical side of the book, it is much the most charitable view to believe that by some oversight it completely escaped the proofreaders' attention.

Scribner's "BIOGRAPHICAL EDITION" of Stevenson contains "Lay Morals and Other Papers." Besides the title essay the collection contains the Father Damien Phillipic, the Pentland Rising, and some criticisms and sketches. This edition is in handy form with good paper and a clear type.

Lillian Russell's Beauty Secrets

Note:—Miss Russell will be glad to answer any question pertaining to womanly beauty. Write to her freely. She has agreed to tell the readers of The Tribune all the secrets of her toilet and give them all her tonic and cosmetic recipes. Those desiring a personal reply from Miss Russell should be particular to inclose an envelope properly stamped and addressed.

You Can Afford to Be Attractive.

[Copyright: 1911: By Lillian Russell.]

"I CANNOT afford either the time or the money to be always well groomed," said a women recently in bewailing the fact that she was losing her youthful freshness of complexion and daintiness of figure. Just then her husband came in from his work. He was clean shaven, his hair was cut to just the right length, his shoes were polished to a glasslike luster, and it was noticed that his finger nails were nicely manicured as he took from his smiling lips a fat cigar. Evidently the gentleman could afford both time and money for immaculate grooming.

It is a fact also that most women have time and money for it as well, but they do not have the inclination.

The same woman who made the remark anent the question was complacently munching chocolates from a box that stood at her elbow. At her neck was a frilly little bow that was already soiled with one wearing. Her handkerchief proclaimed that she purchased the most expensive violet perfume and her stockings were seen to be undeniably silk, although the slipper was somewhat run down at the heel.

Good grooming is not so expensive that the busy woman of moderate means cannot be always in perfect trim, and a facial massage is of more importance than foolish lace ruffles that will not stand laundering. A dollar invested in a shampoo is of five times the value of a dollar invested in chocolates. It is as necessary that a woman's nails be well cared for as that she wear silk hose. If a woman wishes to be well groomed she will find both time and money to do it.

Remember, it shall not profit a woman much if she marry a husband, provided she prove the other woman's attractions by neglect of self.

Lillian Russell's Answers to Her Inquirers

MARY JANE: I am mailing you the recipe for a simple lotion for whitening and smoothing the hands and instructions for manicuring. The hands and nails are frequently made ungainly by careless washing and wiping. Do not use a cheap soap on the hands. Lather the hands with a pure, bland soap and warm water, and if a brush is necessary to cleanse the nails use it gently but thoroughly. For removing stains from about the finger nails, lemon juice and salt may be used. Peroxide of hydrogen with a few drops of ammonia is also effective in taking off stains of all sorts. I thank you for your good wishes and am glad you are interested in my articles, which I hope will prove helpful to you.

MRS. M.: Fullness under the eyes is usually due to one of two things—late hours or eye strain. Eye strain is generally caused by working or reading in a poor light, or in too great a glare, either being equally bad for the sight. You undoubtedly know of the danger of using the eyes in a poor light, but are you aware that too great a glare is equally bad for the sight? Bear this in mind while away on your vacation. Do not read on the beach or on the river while the sun is still strong, unless provided with an awning of some sort, or at least a parasol, as the strain on the sight resulting from this gets up inflammation, which in its turn causes puffiness under the eyes. To relieve the inflammation use the soothing eye wash for which I am mailing you the recipe. An outward application to the skin beneath the eyes will also help. Mix together twenty grains of tannic acid with one ounce of pure glycerin, and paint the skin beneath the lower lid, using a fine camel's hair brush. Accompany this treatment with a course of gentle massage to the skin around the eyes, and in a short time the trouble will have disappeared.

LILLIAN: I am mailing you a simple remedy for developing the bust. To keep well in summer you should lighten the digestive burden, eating sparingly, especially of the heat producing foods. Add green vegetables and fresh, ripe fruits generously to the diet. Avoid underripe, overripe, or partly decayed fruits as you would poison, for that is exactly what they are. Ice water is bad for the stomach and sometimes dangerous. Acute indigestion often is caused by drinking it. Grape juice, apple juice, lemonade, kumyss, or buttermilk are wholesome summer beverages.

MISS V.: I am mailing you instructions for filling out the bust and the recipe for a good skin food. The dark circles under your eyes are an indigation of a sluggish circulation of the blood or an abnormal condition of the blood itself. Live in the sunshine and fresh air as much as possible. Take plenty of outdoor exercise. Golf, tennis, swimming, or rowing will be good for you. Do not eat any but nutritious and easily digested foods. I would advise you to massage around the eyes for five minutes daily. After the massage dampen a cloth in cold water and lay it on the eyes for a few minutes. Every night before going to bed fill the hollows full of skin food, but omit the massage. I thank you so much for your good wishes.

S. C.: There may be many reasons for your tired feelings. If your bedroom is thoroughly ventilated and you have slept well you should not be drowsy and inert during the day. If the cause cannot be traced to lack of fresh air when sleeping, then overeating and lack of exercise may be at the root of the trouble. Lighten the digestive burden during the summer months, eating sparingly, especially of the heat producing foods. Add green vegetables and fresh ripe fruits generously to your diet. Do not eat meat more than once a day. Remember that we frequently eat more than the body can properly use. An oversupply of food means a more or less clogging up of the system, and this, of course, may become apparent to us in the form of a tired, sluggish feeling. Your cure depends upon normal eating, plenty of fresh air and exercise, thorough mastication, and sufficient rest.

A. J. S.: I shall soon give a Sunday article upon the hair, but in this one article I shall not have exhausted the subject, and, believe me, you shall have them occasionally throughout the year. You are right; there is no way of "restoring" the hair. When Father Time wants to play a joke upon us he is sometimes cruel in blanching our hair at 20.

Gautier wittily said that "woman's greatest tragedy was her first gray hair." Moles on the face can be removed by electrolysis and freckles can be bleached as well as the remainder of the skin on your face. If you ask for this I will also send you a formula for this remedy. This same formula will help the little white seeds of which you speak. If the hair is on the corners of your upper lips, would advise bleaching it with one part ammonia to eight of peroxide. See that you wear your hair in a becoming fashion and keep yourself looking at life with interest. One of the greatest age bringers in the world is losing one's enthusiasm. Write me again if you wish, and I will be glad to answer you.

JET: Before going in the water, rub cold cream on your face and put on a layer of powder. I do not believe in going into the water without some protection to the face, and always advise a bathing suit which comes high in the neck and long sleeeves and a sun hat. If you bathe much, getting your hair wet and allowing it to burn and dry in the sun every day, you will find it has the same effect as burning with a hot iron; it will become brittle and dry. An oil cap is easy to wear over the hair when going in the water. Take your swim and enjoy yourself, but take the precaution to protect your delicate skin from the too fond caresses of Old Sol.

Woman and Her Interests.

Are Bad Husbands Reformable?

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY.

[Copyright: 1911: By Laura Jean Libbey.]

WE are told "to err is but human." Therefore one should not expect to find perfection in a husband.

The question that interests many a heartbroken wife is: How deep must the root of transgression strike down through his heart to render him unreformable? To decide such a vital question is more difficult than it may appear to those who have never known the anguish that wrings the heart of the good wife, whose husband has gone astray.

It is not wise to judge rashly. One must be impartial and weigh carefully the evidence for and against the wrong-doer. The nature of the man has everything to do with the decision. I fully believe that real love can transform the worst man on earth, save the profligate.

The drunkard may be appealed to and his heart touched by shame and remorse in his sober, tender moments; the gambler may be won from his fever for gaming by the pleadings of his wife. The husband whose sense of duty has heretofore been untried may be tempted from the path of rectitude, through the intoxication of the heart, which for the time being benumbs it, rendering its action unaccountable, much the same as the first draught of wine bewilders and renders a youth unaccountable for his actions.

A first offense may wisely be condoned if the husband's repentance is genuine and he is brought to a true realization of his folly. It is a difficult matter to continue to condone offenses for which there is neither remorse nor the desire to turn over a new leaf.

The weak husband is liable to meet a newer, more dangerous flame any day, any hour, and the upheaval of the entire foundation of the home is then in imminent danger. The years which pass, instead of giving a wife a firmer hold of the frivolous husband's heart, lessens her grasp until she finds to her sorrow in her old age that it has slipped from her keeping altogether.

When the heart of a man of that kind is bent upon a downward course, all the wifely devotion in the world is powerless to work a reform. She may live on, bravely throwing heart and soul into her noble efforts to stay folly's step; it will give her a mission in life. I am doubtful of her power of working a miracle. I am of the belief that the hardened roué is not reformable, even though he had an angel for a wife.

Husbands are usually either thoroughly good, or the reverse. The good husband provides for wife and family to the best of his ability. His happiness lies in making his loved ones happy.

The wife who has wedded a man that is indifferent to her welfare and happiness has entered the path strewn with thorns, which have grown strong enough and high enough to reach her heart and pierce it.

I wish I could hold out the hope to wives that a rogue is reformable. The tree will certainly grow the way it has been bent. The brook may be made to change its course when it is first found to be going the wrong way at its inception, but after it has widened and increased its power, growing into a rushing river, becoming at last the mad, mighty surging ocean, what can stay its course? Surely not the love of a weak, despairing woman.

Some great and noble souls never lose faith that reformation is possible, that there is hope while there is life. The theory is beautiful, where innocent delusions throw one gleam of sunshine into benighted lives. It may be wisest and best not to dispel them.

The knife which would effect a cure often takes life. Hope is the panacea for all griefs.

The wife who does her best to make home the abiding place of sunshine and contentment for her husband can do no more to hold his affections.

It is generally the sweetest and gentlest of women, earth angels who secure the exact opposite for lifemates.

Those who revere the scriptures, which tell that "those whom God hath joined together, let no man put asunder" cannot say: "Cut loose from an unsafe bark, lest the wife be drawn down into the whirlpool, perishing with it."

It is safest and wisest to point to the star of hope over which the dark clouds are passing. We are never beyond his seeming miracles.

I would say to each wife who has this secret sorrow eating at her heart that I hope and pray with her that her husband may be the one among the many who may prove to be reformable; the one brand snatched from the burning.

Hope is the silver lining to the darkest cloud.

Should She Interfere.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am in love with an eye, ear, nose, and throat specialist who tells me he is to be married next month. I am sure he loves me and is only marrying his intended because he has had an understanding with her for so long. The girl has no home. Do you think I should interfere? I have a good home but don't see how I can give this man up. I have seen him four times a week for the last six months. C."

Simply quit seeing him. I don't think you would have any kind of a show. The person who interferes in such matters usually throws a boomerang. The man doesn't want you. If he did he could easily find a way to break off with the girl.

From a Widow.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am 24 and have been a widow two years. I have a boy almost two years old. There is a young man who has been calling on me for the last six months and wants me to marry him right away. He is refined, of good character, has no bad habits, and also makes good money. I have to make a living for myself and boy. Do you think I would be doing this young man an injustice by marrying him? I tell him there are plenty of young girls, but he says they are too giddy. He has a quiet disposition. This young man loves the baby. I want a home, but I do not want to spoil his chances. "ANXIOUS."

If you love the man there is no reason why you should not marry him.

* *

Would It Appear Foolish?

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am a widow 40 years old. I have been keeping company with a man of 36. He has three little girls. I cannot say that I really love him, but I think a great deal of him as a friend. He has asked me to be his wife. I am at a loss how to answer his question. Would it look foolish for a woman of my age to get married? JESSIE.

No, nothing foolish about it. If you love the man and are willing to shoulder the responsibility of rearing three children, do so.

He Fell Out of the Hammock.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I have been keeping company with a young man almost two years and I love him dearly. About two weeks ago we were sitting in a hammock when one of the ropes broke and we both fell. While trying to catch me he broke one of his arms. Since then he never has spoken to me, as he thinks it is my fault. Now, Miss Libbey, what am I to do? I cannot live without him. ANXIOUS HEART."

He is an unreasonable man. He must understand you could in no way have been responsible for the accident. To my mind it would be a much easier matter to live without him than to live with him.

* *

Shall She Ask Him to Call?

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am 19 and live on a farm near a small town. Have just come home from college. There is a clerk here I am much attracted by. He has been working in a store for about two years and I have become acquainted with him in this way, as he always seems anxious to wait on me. I don't suppose he feels the same toward me as I do toward him. But I am unable to tell. I'd give anything if he did. Would it be proper for me to ask him to call? I do not like to do this, as it would look as though I was pretty much 'smitten.' IVIE."

No, it wouldn't make you appear as if you were badly smitten. Casually ask him to call some day when you are in the store.

Girl Chums.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I chummed with a girl the same age as myself for two years and five months and we broke up, the separation being caused by family troubles. We had no harsh words or anything in the line of a quarrel—just simply stopped going together. Now, I would like to have you advise me what I am to do to renew our friendship, as I would like to go with her again. I am a girl that would easily forgive if she would make up and be friends with me again. I am positive she would be glad to renew our friendship, as she seemed to care a great deal about me. Kindly remember it was no quarrel or misunderstanding we had—just an understanding that it would be best for us not to chum together any more. "C. W."

Drop her a little friendly note and ask her to come to your home some evening or to accompany you to some affair.

A Stray Tomato.

THE tomato is one of the vegetables that it is difficult to spoil in the cooking. And yet tomatoes are often unattractively served. Tomatoes are now expensive and again inexpensive during the summer up to the time of the overflowing abundance of the fall ripening. Not long since they were 25 cents a pound and poor and hard to get at that. A grocer remarked, in reference to the latter fact, that they were consistent with the price, for if they were good and plentiful they would be selling at 5 cents a pound. The beauty of the tomato is being more and more appreciated. In the exclusive markets we find it packed with an outline of ferns or cool leaves and when all in the box or basket are matched in size the whole is ornamental.

Of all the good ways of cooking the tomato the one least used is that delicious way of frying it. Even the green tomato is good fried, and in any case this vegetable must not be over ripe if it is to be thus treated or the slices will fall to pieces in the pan. They must be firm and it is necessary to leave the skin on and cut them rather thick.

The further preparation of the slices depends upon the taste of the one doing the work, but the whole operation must be daintily done or the dish or garnishment—fried tomatoes are used in both ways—will be a failure. They may be fried in butter or butter flavored with a few drops of onion juice, with only a sprinkling of salt and pepper, or dipped in crumbs or flour. In the former case they must be turned often and taken out before they begin to break. To the butter in the pan is then added a tablespoon of flour, stirring until the two form a bubbling paste, and then half a pint of thin cream with a pinch of soda, the whole stirred until thick and smooth with a little salt and white pepper. The tomatoes which have been kept hot are then put in the sauce and the whole allowed to boil up once.

When the tomatoes are dipped in crumbs and oil the dish seems to be a little more substantial and is a good one for a luncheon when no meat is served. The method of frying and the sauce may be the same. When dipped in flour they seem to burn on to the pan more readily than otherwise, and any way it is quite a knack to brown them just right and not burn them.

Tomato Salad.—Pour boiling water over four large smooth tomatoes to loosen the skins, peel and set on ice. Arrange the tomatoes on salad plates lined with lettuce, and put on ice till wanted. Salad dressing: One egg, three tablespoons sugar, pinch each of salt and pepper, one-fourth teaspoon corn starch, one-fourth teaspoon mustard, a teaspoon of butter, and one-half cup of vinegar and water mixed. Beat all together till light. Cook over steam until thick, stirring continually. When cold pour over tomatoes.—Mrs. W. S. Bell, 1237 Victor avenue.

Tomato Salad (English recipe).—Scald and peel six fine tomatoes and put them on ice, cut them into thin slices in a salad bowl so as to keep the juice. Season with salt and pepper to taste, two tablespoons of oil, one of vinegar, and if liked, one small teaspoon of chives. Mix well and serve as cold as possible.

Tomato Fritters.—One-half can tomatoes, three cloves, one tablespoon sugar, one sliced onion. Simmer ten minutes, rub all through a sieve except seeds, season with salt and red pepper. Melt two tablespoons butter, add one-fourth cup corn starch, and then gradually the tomato. Cook two minutes, add one-half egg slightly beaten, turn into a shallow buttered pan and cool. Turn out on a board, cut in neat squares. Then add one teaspoon of water to remaining half of egg, roll fritters in dry bread crumbs, dip in egg, roll in crumbs again, and deep fry.—Miss Morna Cleveland, Kalamazoo, Mich.

Scalloped Tomatoes and Pepper.—Put in a baking dish a layer of cracker crumbs, then one of tomato, then one of green pepper chopped fine. Season with butter, pepper and salt and continue layers until dish is full. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake one-half hour.—Mrs. W. H. Hand, Adrian, Mich.

Miscellaneous Recipes.

Bird's Nest Pudding.—Pare and quarter two apples and place in pudding dish. Pour over batter made of one egg, one-half teaspoon baking powder, one-half cup of sugar, four spoonfuls of flour, one cup of milk, and bake in moderate oven.—Mrs. W.

Apple Float.—Peel, core, and slice three apples. Stew until soft, then stir in sugar to sweeten and the yolk of one egg well beaten. Take from fire and put in four sauce plates to cool. Drop the sweetened white of egg, beaten stiff, on top of each portion and serve. —Mrs. A. H. Pfeil, Milwaukee, Wis.

Edgewater the Cradle of Liberty.

BY RICHARD HENRY LITTLE.

CHICAGO, July 11, 1961.—Yesterday witnessed the unveiling in Edgewater of the great bronze statuary group in commemoration of the heroic sons and daughters of Edgewater who fifty years ago fought to a glorious victory the long drawn out battle to remove the bars and bolts and time locks from Lake Michigan. Those of the present day accustomed to the great bathing beach along the entire water front of Chicago from Harrison boulevard, the extreme northern limits of the city, and which also forms the dividing line between Illinois and Wisconsin, and Five Hundred and Thirty-first street, the southern boundary of our metropolis, which passes through what was once the center of the old city of Gary, Ind., can hardly realize that at one time Lake Michigan was sacred and that under the constitution of the United States nobody had a right to look at it, as it belonged exclusively to those who dwelt along its edge. The owners of the lake used to spread tarpaulins over the section they claimed as their own, so that the lake wouldn't get wet at night, and if they caught a fish swimming in their lake they would send a private watchman out to tell him he was trespassing on private property and if he didn't go away the watchman would put handcuffs on his tail and take him off to a dungeon cell. The fortifications extended along the entire water front of Chicago and thousands of the city's inhabitants, having never been permitted to gaze on the lake, believed that it was taken up every evening and put in safety deposit vaults until morning.

Park policemen, city policemen, and private watchmen prowled relentlessly up and down the beach all along the water front on the lookout for the bathing criminals and swimming malefactors who lurked in alleyways and behind trees waiting for a chance to break open the lake. Only here and there throughout the city were brave souls who dared risk the shame and ignominy of public arrest and possible incarceration for life in the Cook county jail by stealing forth by stealth at night and breaking into the lake. Along the Lake Shore drive our very best people swooned in horror and went into prolonged fits of hysterics at the sight of the shameless persons brazenly parading the streets in bathing suits disguised by bathrobes or winter overcoats. Beautiful women in the great mansions along the north shore would shriek "murder" and "police" when they beheld bathers wearing costumes that were cut almost as low in the neck as the party gowns they wore to receptions and dances.

Only here and there on the lower part of the north side and along the water front of the south side were there brave souls who dared come forth, even under the sheltering protection of the night, dressed in a neat going away lake suit. On Ontario street old Doc Smalley, the w. k. dentist, whose profession made him insensible to the anguish of others, calmly paraded now and then down to the lake, deaf to the shrieks of startled residents, scandalized beyond measure because the doc's bathing suit revealed his cunning little knees whenever the free winds tossed aside the folds of his Father Hubbard and displayed his two piece bathing suit.

At Oak street a lovely prima donna, whose lake attire didn't reveal near as much wishbone as that of a debutante's lownecked party gown, but who excited great consternation on the part of conventional souls, nevertheless, walked right down to the lake every night and plunged recklessly in, and when the police would bid her come forth she would sing the jewel song from Faust in high C and so charm the ears of the listening constabulary that, forgetting, like the crafty Ulysses, the precaution of stopping their ears with wax, they would become so dazed and entranced they would be unable to arrest any swimmers for three hours.

But these were only isolated blows for freedom and the lake. Up in Edgewater the patriots joined in a determined stand to secure the blessings of the lake to themselves and to their posterity to the end of time. In Edgewater patriots defiantly attired themselves in bathing suits and walked right down the street to the lake and broke their way in without compunction.

Private watchmen would dash at them, yelling "Private property, private beach, private lake, private air, stand back or I fire." But the brave Edgewater patriots would simply smile and murmur, "Officer, he's in again," a popular saying of the period, indicating great scorn.

When an irate owner of private property would dash forth and say "Quit using up my lake; how dare you wear out by beach," the Edgewater Sons and Daughters of Liberty and Cleanliness and Health would answer:

"Come, Cuthebert, splash me, splash me, O, splash me in the lake."

Thus the war went on until at last it was no longer considered a crime to bathe in Lake Michigan. Public bathing beaches multiplied until at last the whole great lake front became one great open beach, as free to all the people as the blue sky over their heads or the soft winds of the air.

But those who enjoy privileges today that were unknown fifty years ago must not forget that Edgewater was the cradle of liberty, the place in which was born the sturdy spirit of independence that culminated in the storming of the lake, the breaking down of the locks and bars that held it from the people and giving it to all the people for all time.

THREE MISSING IN LAKE COLLISION

GIRL PROVES A HEROINE.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 10.—Second Mate Archie Causely, Steward Al Clemens, and Watchman George Austin of the crew of the steamer John Mitchell of Chicago were missing today when the steamer William H. Mack of Cleveland arrived with the surviving passengers and crew of the Mitchell, sunk in a collision with the Mack in a fog off Vermillion point, Lake Superior, early today.

Besides its crew of twenty-seven the Mitchell carried the wife and daughter of Steward Clemens, who were listed as kitchen helpers, and seven passengers from Cleveland—Mrs. William Grant, Miss Alberta Grant, Mrs. E. A. Smith, Mrs. A. A. Willcutt, Mrs. A. B. Grant, Miss Clara Bundschuh, and Master Grant.

Steward's Daughter a Heroine.

All the passengers and most of the crew of the Mitchell climbed to the deck of the Mack on a ladder from the Mitchell, most of them escaping in their night clothing. Three men and three women left the Mitchell in a yawl, which soon capsized. Miss Fay Clemens, daughter of the lost steward, proving a heroine in the rescue of her fellow passengers in the small boat.

Miss Clemens called to the crew of the Mack to throw them a line, and she fastened it to the opposite side of the boat in such a way that the Mack's crew by pulling on the line were able to pull the yawl right side up. Among the six was Miss Clemens' mother, whose leg had been broken when she was struck by the small boat.

Mitchell Sank in Seven Minutes.

The Mitchell was struck amidships on the port side and sank in about seven minutes after the collision and a hole 20 feet square was torn in the bow of the Mack. The Mitchell was loaded with coal bound for Superior, Wis., and the Mack was bound down the lakes without a load.

The Mitchell was 420 feet long, 52 feet beam and 28 feet deep. It was a steel vessel with a gross tonnage of 4,468 and was built in 1906. The Mack is 354 feet long and belongs to the Jenkins Steamship company of Cleveland.

Passengers Were on Pleasure Trip.

Cleveland, O., July 10.—Mrs. William Grant, Miss Alberta Grant, Mrs. S. O. Smith, Mrs. A. A. Willcut, Mrs. A. B. Grant, Miss Clara Bundschuh, and Master Grant of Cleveland, reported rescued among others of the steamer Mack, which collided with the steamer John Mitchell, were on a pleasure trip. They left here last Wednesday bound for the upper lakes.

WRIGHT AGENT RAPS CLUB IN CHARGE OF AERO MEET

Roy Knabenshue Says Those Arranging Tests Are Not Giving Proper Recognition to Inventors.

In a letter to THE TRIBUNE regarding the refusal of the Wright brothers to take part in the Aero club's aviation meet, Roy Knabenshue, general manager of the Wrights' exhibition department, protests against the action of the club's committee and defends the company for its refusal to participate in the meet.

He says the discovery of flying by warping the wings of the plane in conjunction with the action of the rear vertical rudder was purely that of the Wrights; that on this discovery was based the patent granted in 1900, and that on this fundamental principle were based other inventions that followed, made on the descriptions offered in the patents.

"A great many of our American manufacturing institutions depend to a very great extent upon the patents they own and control for their continuation in business and accumulation of profits," says Mr. Knabenshue.

"The gentlemen of the committee are holding an aviation meet, as they believe, to promote the interests of aviation and to furnish Chicago with a contest and a unique amusement. We heartily agree with such a movement providing, if course, that due recognition is given the Wright company.

"Personally, I feel that the foundation of the United States patent office is based upon the privileges afforded under the terms and conditions of the patents which it issues, and if there be no protection from the army of infringers then there will be no reason or necessity for further patents in any line of industry."

ATLANTIC CITY'S SUNDAY DENOUNCED BY FAIRBANKS.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 10.—Former Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks criticised Sunday conditions at this resort in an address today before the Methodist Christian Endeavorers.

"When I arrived here yesterday," he said, "I would never have known it was Sunday except by looking at the calendar. Conditions were shameful, worse than in any European city. Every store, saloon, and place of amusement seemed to be running. Apparently the rulers of this town do not consider it a part of America. They act as if there were no laws. All this should be changed. It is a disgrace that this resort should be allowed to fracture the law with such impunity."

Twenty-four great denominational rallies were held during the day to hear reports on the progress of the society and plans for its future growth within their respective denominations.

PATTEN ROBBED AT CORONATION

New York, July 10.—James A. Patten, the Chicago grain magnate, returned today from England, where he attended the coronation of King George V. and enjoyed an 800 mile automobile trip. He told of the loss of a new coat which he had over his arm and which was torn away from him in the coronation throng.

LEGISLATION AGAINST COATS.

If it requires an act of congress to get the coats off the letter carriers in the hot weather, it is to be hoped that Congressman Victor Berger will be able to convince his fellow statesmen that the proposal is not Socialist, but merely common sense. The postoffice department seems to be about as open to reason on this point as an amiable mollusk.

Unfortunately there are other coat burdened workers who are beyond the power of congress. The officials of street railway lines cannot have common sense legislated on them. In time they may acquire it naturally.

SAVE THE TREES.

The gypsy moth, the tussock moth, and a borer for which an insecticide has not yet been found are ravaging the trees, especially the elms, of New England. The beautiful trees of which places like Cambridge and New Haven have been so proud—historic, some of them—are dying or dead. A borer enters the elm through the roots and soon the tree decays.

Similar misfortunes are overtaking some of the finest trees of New York and other eastern states, and another moth is eating up grape vines and other climbers. Massachusetts has just passed an appropriation of $165,000, in addition to the annual $150,000 paid for the extermination of the tree destroying moth.

Nothing can stop this wood pest from coming west except state or municipal appropriations which will enable foresters to combat its ravages with such aids as science can afford. Chicago has not too many trees, anyway. If they are in danger, the time to act is now.

GREAT BRITAIN AND MOROCCO.

It is significant that the Moroccan controversy brings out charges by Great Britain against France and by France against Great Britain, each complaining that the other has no foreign policy. Germany has. Germany knows exactly what it wants and is on the step when opportunity opens the door.

In France Delcasse could be aggressive and decisive, but France is afraid of him. For that reason he is minister of marine and not of foreign affairs.

In England the Asquith government is too concerned with home and imperial affairs to find vital issues in foreign relations. Disraeli or Palmerston might have threatened the peace of Europe if they faced a German maneuver of this character, but not Asquith. He is giving ten thoughts to the veto bill to one to the Germans at Agadir.

Future generations may pay tribute to his greatness. It may be that time will show the wisdom of statesmen who took their eyes off the international checker board long enough to acknowledge, face, and cure dangerous ills at home.

WHERE TITLES COUNT MOST.

While one American woman is delivering a declaration of independence, or at least of marital autonomy, in order that she may bask abroad in the reflected glow of a title achieved by her daughter, another American woman, who herself is the possessor of a considerably more splendid distinction, is proposing to enjoy it in America.

The latter lady offers an example to the former which she, or at least her titled offspring, might do well to follow. It is astonishing, in fact, that it has never occurred to our title winners before. They have all sprung from sturdy commercial loins. Why have they not realized before that they have been keeping coals in Newcastle?

It is perfectly plain that the thing to do with any possession is to enhance its value as much as possible, and the way to enhance its value is to take it where its kind is scarcest. Having captured a coronet in Europe, the American woman should sail at once for New York. It will be worth more at Newport than anywhere else in the whole world. In England, even in these revolutionary days, there is imbedded deep in the Anglican breast a deep respect for a toff. But it is this side of worship.

THE PROGRESSIVES AND THE LEGISLATURE.

The Progressive Republican league, which seems to have been groping around in the dark of late as if knowing that the neighborhood was full of enemies of the republic, but not knowing which particular one to spring upon, now has produced a first class plan.

If Charles E. Merriam and men who are active in political effort with him would select the legislative field for their work there might be a chance to raise the standard of performance at Springfield. THE TRIBUNE suggested long ago that the general assembly would not be representative of the state until it could command the services of more men of ability and honesty than are attracted to it now.

It finds ability without honesty and honesty without ability, but only now and then a combination of the two. We are not encouraged to believe that the progressive Republicans will get into the legislature merely by making up their minds that they are willing to serve their districts. The primaries and the elections are hard barriers to jump, and probably only a small number of the entrants would get over the last, but the attempt would be encouraging.

It may be noted as another obstacle to success that the very districts which send the worst men would be the last to send good ones, even if they had the chance. It is worth while to observe the difficulties, but not as discouragements.

The progressives could not select a better program at this time than one aimed at a betterment of the composition of the general assembly.

UNREST IN CUBA.

Report from Havana, construed as mildly alarming, says that "politicians are gathering in groups and are to be seen talking together in low voices in the cafés and on the street corners."

Up here politicians frequently are seen talking on the street corners and later in the cafés. We know that what they said on the street corner led them directly into the café, and are not alarmed, except as we happen to be total abstainers.

If, contrary to natural habit, they talk in low voices, we know that they are considering ways and means of having a friend appointed deputy game warden or of opening a gambling resort in connection with a saloon or, at the worst, that their plot against the security of the republic involves only a coal contract or a little bill in the legislature.

But in Cuba, where politics carries side arms, when politicians whisper the cautious look for revolutions in Pinar del Rio, bombs on the doorsteps of officials, and duels in quiet places. Just at present the Cuban mind is inflamed by the report that President Gomez has found the presidency worth several million dollars to him. It is hard to say whether this has stirred the moral nature of the Cubans or merely aroused their cupidity, but from whatever point the argument starts, the conclusion is that he has had the office long enough.

THE GENTLE BOND OF STEEL.

Mr. E. H. Gary is being interestingly reported during his trip abroad. In Paris he was intercepted by a representative of the Hearst papers, who quotes him at some length as to the results to be hoped from the Brussels convention of steel magnates.

Mr. Gary sharply denied that there was the slightest semblance to a trust in the new state of things, but gave it as his opinion that the congress was a long step toward universal peace. "The steel industry," he went on, "is the most important in the world, and by this new international association will be so closely allied to the commerce of the world that it will wield a mighty hand in the politics of the world and will have influence enough to negative any proposed action which is apt to destroy a nation's basis of prosperity."

Indeed, it is not difficult to mount upon the wings of Mr. Gary's discreet yet glowing imagination to a revised conception of Tennyson's dream of a world state. Simply supply, for the laureate's vision of a "parliament of men, a federation of the world," a federation of steel manufacturers and a committee of executive chairmen.

Is the world to be united by steel after so many ages of being divided by that puissant metal?

THANKLESS BUT WORTH WHILE.

Of all the sister virtues, perhaps Economy is Cinderella. No one gets hot flushes about poor Economy. We accept her, like a poor relation, if we must, but we pass her along to a neighbor as soon as possible.

If Economy gets such a chilly welcome in private life, she gets no welcome at all in public life. If a public official is caught red handed with public funds there is a great hue and cry for a week, at least. But we all know that in most public offices, through slovenly methods and loose discipline and indifference, thousands are wasted where pennies could not be stolen.

The most thankless duty any administrative official can perform is to attend to economy. Economy doesn't mean merely a spectacular reduction of expenditures. This form of public economy may be a mask for the destruction of some useful service grown obnoxious to influential private interest. Or it may be some less sinister form of false saving.

Real economy means the development of the utmost efficiency at the least proper cost. And it is largely a question of system.

These reflections are started by Mr. O'Laughlin's report of the work being done in the executive offices at Washington by President Taft's efficiency commission. In these offices are customs and methods which are the haphazard growth of generations. For several of these generations the machinery of administration was partisan spoils. Nothing efficient could be developed out of such a system. During the last generation there has been a steady though slow growth of improvement in governmental method. The spoils system is being gradually disposed of, modern business methods are being adopted here and there, and, finally, under a chief executive who himself has had experience in administrative problems, a thorough overhauling of method is taking place.

Both the material and the moral benefit of such work is important. And yet it does not make an inspiring subject for campaign purposes. It is simply a duty patriotically discerned and faithfully carried out. It means that the chief administrator is on the job.

RECIPROCITY WINNING.

Amendment of the reciprocity bill would be its failure. President Taft has made it perfectly plain that if the bill reached him changed in any material respect it would be vetoed. The only amendment which he conceded would not defeat the purpose of the administration was that of Senator Root in regard to wood pulp, and he did not favor it.

Opponents of the agreement in the senate propose amendment, but they plan defeat. The rejection of the Cummins amendments indicates the failure of this attempt. There has been no discouragement offered the Democrats who have accepted the administration program and are carrying out their own policies in supplementary bills, and President Taft is promised success in bringing the reciprocity measure through in accord with the agreement reached with the Canadian government.

MR. KEENE'S PATRIOTIC FEARS.

Arising from his bed of pain in chastened and elevated mood, Mr. James R. Keene, late of Wall street, U. S. A., turns from London a philosopher's eye upon his own and, we believe, his native land.

Mr. Keene observes the truth that "we," that is, the American nation, have been enjoying a tremendous process of material development. But Mr. Keene is of opinion that as a result of this forced process our institutions may break down, and he adds that "letting all the riffraff of Europe into the country" won't help us any.

A brief reconsideration of Mr. Keene's activities and of their benign and widely useful influence upon the moral and economic fabric of this nation will throw over his patriotic fears the light of a humor, unconscious but unalloyed.

THIS will be remembered as the summer of the Lorimer investigation—which also is pretty hot stuff.

BY way of encouraging the people to economize on ice the companies have been thoughtful enough to raise the price of it.

AT this distance one may get a good perspective of Mr. Morgan, the most superbly spectacular Anglo-American now on the job.

MR. BRYAN probably would like to make another trip abroad, but he feels that there is important work for him to do in the United States this year.

CONCERNING the Cubs and Sox, the only prediction we feel quite safe in making is that both of them will not win the world's championship this season.

SOME day we shall have bathing beaches strung all along the lake front—and then the cool summers will come.

WHEN you see an item like this, that refers solely to the hot weather, the best thing you can do is to skip it.

WHAT a joy to press the pillow of a top floor chamber bed and to listen to the yowling of the tomcats overhead!

ANYWAY, it is comforting to know that Nat Goodwin has no immediate intention of marrying again.

BUT don't try to save your ice by turning the electric fan on it.

WHAT a long month this is!

Maternal Oppression.

"Maw says I mustn't play with that Griggins boy."

"Well, that's all right. He's a bad boy."

"I know it, but she's spoilin' half my fun; I can lick the tar out of 'im."

Sticking to It.

Impatient Matron—You're the third man that's been along this morning asking for help and I can't get any one of you to mow the grass in my back yard.

Wareham Long—That's right, ma'am; we've got a sort o' gentlemen's agreement not t' do any hard work in th' sun durin' the months o' July an' Orgust.

Incidentally.

"Wraxall, how long have you had your automobile?"

"About a year."

"Have you ever figured up what it costs you to keep it?"

"O, yes; it's about $100 a month, on an average."

"Gee! How's that?"

"Well, it's about $6 for gasoline and lubricating oils, $10 for repairs, $5 for rent of a stall in a stable, and—and—well, the rest goes for incidentals."

"Great Scott! What are the incidentals?"

"Fines, Horrocks; mostly fines."

Insuperable.

"Mildred, what is your objection to young Mr. Ketchley?"

"Mamma, I never can marry a man who walks pigeon toed and calls 'genealogy' 'gee-ne-ol-ogy.'"

Purely Subjective.

"Mr. Harker," the attorney said, "this is a suit against the owners of a cold storage warehouse. Do you know anything concerning the matter in dispute, or are you acquainted either with the plaintiff or defendant?"

"No, sir," answered the witness. "I believe I have been summoned as an expert."

"Just so. Have you had any experience in the cold storage business?"

"Yes, sir."

"In what capacity, may I ask?"

"For several years I was one of the proprietors of a cold storage warehouse."

"You know, then, how long any food article of a perishable nature may be kept in one of those houses, I presume."

"Yes, sir; I think so."

"Take eggs, for instance. Please tell the jury how long eggs can be kept in a cold storage warehouse."

"Well, sir," the witness said, "that depends entirely on the owner. I once knew a man who kept 1,000 dozen on hand for about two years before he succeeded in working 'em off."

C. W. T.

None to Give Away.

"How is your garden getting along?"

"Why do you ask that question?" demanded the suburbanite suspiciously.

"Merely out of politeness."

"I see. I thought maybe I had promised you some vegetables."—Houston Chronicle.

MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright, 1911: By the Brentwood Company.]

KING GEORGE, on the nomination of Premier Asquith, has just bestowed upon William Glynne Gladstone, eldest grandson of the famous statesman of that name, and owner of the Hawarden castle estate, the office of lord lieutenant of the county of Flintshire, in which Hawarden castle, the bourne of so many American pilgrimages, is situated. Young William G. Gladstone, who is now in this country, acting as private secretary to Ambassador Bryce and as an attaché of his mission, is only 26 years of age and thus obtains at one bound a dignity equivalent to that of general in the army or vice admiral of the navy, and of chief magistrate of the county in which he has become the sovereign's principal representative, as such taking the "pas" of every one else in Flintshire, no matter whether duke, marquis, earl, or commoner.

The office dates from the reign of Queen Elizabeth, and in those days the holders thereof were intrusted with the duty of mustering and training the local militia, of maintaining order within the borders of the county, and of guarding its boundaries and coasts, if any, from invasion. At first lord lieutenants of counties were only nominated in times of difficulty, war, or danger. But gradually the office became a permanent one, and the power until then held by the sheriff was vested in him and he was termed the vice regent of his sovereign.

In course of time the office of custos rotulorum became associated with that of lord lieutenant, and the two offices are now invariably held by the same person, the result being that the lord lieutenant always appoints fellow territorial magnates to the positions of deputy lieutenant and of justices of the peace. In this way almost the entire county magistracy of Great Britain has come into the hands of the land owners and squirearchy, who administer the law according to their own interpretation, visiting with especial severity offenses against the game laws; poaching being considering the most heinous crime in their calendar.

As lord lieutenant young Gladstone will not only have the right of appointing the magistrates of Flintshire but is also at the head of the territorial military force of the county, which has taken the place of the former county militia. In fact, the lord lieutenant is by virtue of his offices general of militia, or of the territorial reserve, and as such is entitled to wear a gorgeous uniform, closely resembling that of a general of the regular army, the only differences being that the scarlet tunic and black trousers are laced with silver instead of with gold.

In counties that border the sea the lord lieutenant also bears the title of vice admiral, this dating from the times when he was supposed to provide for the defense of the county from descent upon its shores either by foreign foe or by pirates. Thus the Earl of Lonsdale is vice admiral of Cumberland; the Earl of Londesborough is vice admiral of Yorkshire, while the Earl of Mount Edgecumbe is vice admiral of Cornwall. These peers have as such a number of queer prerogatives, including the right to vessels wrecked on the shores of their county.

Young William G. Gladstone before joining the staff of Ambassador Bryce at Washington acted for some time as private secretary to Lord Aberdeen, the viceroy of Ireland, and while at New College, Oxford, won distinction as one of the best speakers of the famous Oxford Union, which for generations has been the principal debating society of the university, and the school where some of the most celebrated of British orators and statesmen have acquired their knowledge of public speaking.

Hawarden castle, which is his home, never really belonged to the Grand Old Man. It was the property of the latter's brother-in-law, Sir Stephen Glynne, and was left by him in trust for the newly appointed lord lieutenant of Flintshire, the great statesman being accorded a life interest in the property, and appointed one of the trustees. He carefully husbanded and developed the resources of the Hawarden estate, spending all of his own money that he could spare upon the place, transforming it from an unproductive and heavily embarrassed estate into an extremely profitable one. Indeed, he was far more successful in the management of the fortune left to his grandson by Sir Stephen Glynne than in the administration of his own finances, and thanks to his discovery of minerals and of coal at Hawarden, the latter now yields a large income.

Then, too, young Gladstone has benefited largely by the will of his mother's father, the last Lord Blantyre, who died a few years ago. Lord Blantyre bequeathed to his daughter, the Hon. Mrs. William Henry Gladstone, widow of the Grand Old Man's eldest son, a sum of $250,000, in trust for her boy, as well as his stately London mansion in Berkeley square, with all its furniture, paintings, art treasure and silver plate, as well as the horses and carriages in the stables belonging thereto.

Although master of Hawarden castle William Glynne Gladstone is not in any sense of the word the chief of the Gladstone family. That is a dignity which does not even belong to Lord Gladstone, the governor general of South Africa, but to the grand old man's nephew, Sir John Gladstone, a retired officer of the Scots Guards, who, like his father before him, is a typical Tory baronet. Indeed, his father, the late Sir Thomas Gladstone, represented Ipswich as a Conservative for many years in the house of commons, invariably voting against his younger brother, the Liberal leader.

The brothers never allowed any political differences to interfere with their fraternal relations. Sir John, too, always appeared devoted to his famous uncle, who used occasionally to visit him at Fasque, the family place in Scotland, and sample some of the excellent whisky distilled on the estate, and for which Fasque is celebrated throughout the United Kingdom. Sir John is one of the great whisky distillers of Scotland, and his distilleries at Fasque are known far and wide as the Fettercairn distilleries. The castle of Fasque is one of the statelliest castellated mansions in Scotland. It stands on a wooded slope, surrounded by a noble park and woods that extend some eighty miles. Sir John is a tall, good looking and broad shouldered giant, is unmarried, and expresses his determination to remain so. So that there is considerable prospect that his baronetcy may some day go along with the great Fasque estates and the Fettercairn distilleries to Ambassador Bryce's private secretary, William G. Gladstone.

Henry Charles North, who has just been successful in a suit for breach of promise in London, holds an office in connection with the royal household known as that of the "court newsman," which dates from the reign of King George IV. when prince regent. He is a journalist, whose professional activities are restricted to the compilation of the so-called "court circular," which appears daily in the English newspapers, he being intrusted with the distribution thereof to the various organs of the press. The court circular, although compiled by the court newsman, is edited by the sovereign's principal private secretary, now Gen. Sir Arthur Bigge, who has just been created a peer of the realm, and is supposed to receive the king's personal O. K. before being actually sent out to the daily newspapers.

Queen Victoria made a point throughout her reign of invariably supervising the daily court circular, and used it as the means of communication for many a message to her subjects.

WHEN IT IS HOT.

(Reprinted by vociferous request.)

Consider Mr. Shadrach,
Of fiery furnace fame;
He didn't bleat about the heat
Or fuss about the flame.
He didn't stew and worry,
And get his nerves in kinks,
Nor fill his skin with limes and gin
And other "cooling drinks."

Consider Mr. Meshach,
Who felt the furnace, too;
He let it simz, nor queried "Is
It hot enough for you?"
He didn't mop his forehead
And hunt a shady spot;
Nor did he say, "Gee! what a day!
Believe me, it's some hot."

Consider, too, Abed-ne-go,
Who shared his comrades' plight;
He didn't shake his coat and make Himself a holy sight.
He didn't wear suspenders
Without a coat and vest;
Nor did he scowl and snort and howl,
And make himself a pest.

Consider, friends, this trio—
How little fuss they made.
They didn't curse when it was worse
Than ninety in the shade.
They moved about serenely
Within the furnace bright,
And soon forgot that it was hot,
With "no relief in sight."

LONDON tailors promise improvement in masculine attire—restoration of some of the attractiveness it once possessed. The first step, necessarily, will be the abolishing of suspenders. The suspender is ingenious, and it serves its purpose; but it is a horrible thing to look upon. It must go.

THE next step, we hope, will be the banishing of the detachable collar. If the collar is hitched to the shirt the wearer cannot carry it in his hand. Other reforms occur readily, but no progress can be made until the suspender and the collar are disposed of.

"THE FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE."

SAYS HIS ICE IS SHORT.

Chicago, July 8.—[To the Friend of the People.]—This morning the Knickerbocker Ice company's man delivered to me a cake of ice supposed to be 100 pounds. The ice measured 21x12x10½, which was a good, liberal measurement. The total cubic inches, 2,642, divided by 30, shows that I got 88 1-5 pounds. Am I right? And is this the correct way to find out if you get the amount of ice you are to pay for? Thursday morning, July 6, we received a cake of ice supposed to be fifty pounds, but by the above rule it weighed just forty-four pounds. On one occasion last month we received a cake that weighed fifty-four pounds, but as a rule our ice runs from two to ten pounds short, according to the amount we order, which is either 50 or 100 pounds.

Last year during the ice season the Knickerbocker Ice company was several hundred pounds short in weight. I have telephoned to the Knickerbocker company many times, and the reply is "We will look into the matter," and that is the last we hear from them. What am I to do? It is bad enough to pay a high price for ice when you get full weight.

J. W. C. HASKELL, 1624 Chase avenue.

Your measurement of 88 1-5 pounds is correct. Get a scale certified by the city sealer. Hang it by your kitchen door, and compel the ice man to give you full weight. If he refuses, notify the city sealer. Refuse to accept short weight ice or anything else.

FOR SANITARY POLLING PLACES.

Chicago, July 10.—[To the Friend of the People.]—The present board of election commissioners are claiming much credit for reforms inaugurated. If they are willing to reform the system in every particular they will not hesitate to listen to complaints or suggestions from the common people. Hence this complaint: A great many polling booths are located in livery stables or the office adjacent—the most objectionable place to be found. Will the present board of commissioners please look into the advisability of changing these booths to a more sanitary and less objectionable place? Some consideration is due the judges and clerks of election, who must inhale this odor for twelve or sixteen hours on election day, not to speak of registration day and verification night. I feel satisfied that the appearance of this complaint in your paper will produce the desired results. M. J. MALONEY.

WORK ON THE BRIDGES.

Chicago, July 10.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Could you inform me as to when work will start on the proposed new bridges for the city on the outer harbor? INTERESTED.

The appropriation bill for 1911 provided for bridges as follows: Temporary bridges at Belmont avenue, Indiana street, Thirty-fifth street. Contingent on bond issue: New bridges at Washington street, Indiana street, Thirty-fifth street, Chicago avenue, Ninety-second street, Belmont avenue, Lake street, Blackhawk street, Weed street, Webster avenue, Madison street, Clark street, One Hundred and Sixth street, One Hundredth street, La Salle avenue, California avenue, and Indiana avenue at the Calumet river, also for seven small concrete bridges up north over the north branch.

All these proposed new bridges cannot now be built, owing to the failure of the bond issue, except Washington street, for which the council lately appropriated $360,000 out of the general fund.

Two of the temporary bridges above mentioned, viz.: at Belmont avenue and Thirty-fifth street, are under construction, and the one at Indiana avenue will not be built, the United States government having refused the necessary permit.

OPEN WOODEN GARBAGE WAGONS.

Chicago, July 8.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Supt. Solon's reply to Mr. Arnold's letter published in this morning's TRIBUNE is surprising in view of the substantial accuracy of Mr. Arnold's statement. Mr. Arnold may possibly be mistaken in claiming that garbage is hauled in "castoff grain wagons," but Mr. Solon is no less mistaken in asserting that only iron wagons are used for this purpose. The garbage in West Ravenswood (specifically, the block bounded by Artesian, Montrose, and Sunnyside avenues) is and has been for some time collected in ordinary wooden box wagons. These wagons may be tight at the bottom, but they are open at the top and are often piled so high when they reach this block that part of the garbage thrown on them is jarred off and left in the alley. The writer has lived in this neighborhood three years and has yet to see an iron tank wagon collecting garbage. C. A. M.

A PERFECTLY GOOD CAT.

Chicago, July 10.—[To the Friend of the People.]—The other day a dead cat was thrown into our yard and the maid, instead of throwing it back where it belonged, put it in the garbage pail. When the garbage man came around he found it there and came to the back door and demanded 25 cents for carrying it away. As this was not our cat my wife objected to paying for having it taken away and told the man to leave it in the yard, but this he refused to do, saying it would be against the city ordinance for us to bury the animal ourselves, also that he was acting within the ordinance in asking money for its removal and that if he didn't take the animal away he would have to send a policeman around. To avoid any further controversy my wife paid the money. The amount was small, but I certainly object to paying for removing a neighbor's dead cat, especially when we are not on good terms with the neighbor, as happens in the present instance, and I would like to know if the garbage man was acting within the ordinance.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

ARE MEN EQUAL?

Chicago, July 10.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I regret my inability to appreciate the force of W. B. Freeman's communication printed in THE TRIBUNE July 8, on "All Men Are Equal." That gentleman goes beyond the real depth of the problem and projects into it questions neither pertinent nor intelligible. The declaration of independence was essentially and exclusively a political document. It necessarily dealt with the individual from the viewpoint solely of political rights. It of all things took no heed of hereditary, acquired, or other attributes of human existence. In the declaration, then, that "all men are created free and equal," reference necessarily was had to the effect that all men are, if at all, politically free and equal.

The genius of our institutions recognizes no distinction of person or condition so far as the right to a voice in the pursuit of self-government is concerned. One man's vote, in virtue of this principle, counts for as much as any other man's and the right to have it so must be unchallenged and inalienable. This principle comprehends at once the intellectual giant and the pygmy, if 21 years of age. The idea that all men are in all respects created equal is impertinent. The question has to do with men, not mere physical "beginning."

The right to the pursuit of life, liberty, and happiness is equally and in the inalienable sense also political. There accordingly should be no power, constitutional, statutory, or ethical, that can abridge or alienate the right in question. There have been many invasions of this right in statutory form, but in the light of reason, the dawn of which is plainly visible on our political horizon, emancipation seems to be impending.

JOHN E. WILLIAMS.

Chicago, July 10.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Every dispassionate reader must admit, I think, that Mr. W. B. Freeman in his letter in THE TRIBUNE signally fails to demonstrate the inaccuracy of Dr. Elliot's proposition that all men are not born equal. Among other incredible things Mr. Freeman says: "There is not one new born [created] babe superior in capacity, power, or disposition." Does your correspondent seriously mean to set at defiance all the ascertained laws of heredity? I say nothing here of the thousand and one accidents and caprices of fate that may be the child's portion before and at its birth. I think Mr. Freeman would do well to cultivate an acquaintance with "Tristram Shandy."

By a wise provision of nature the almost infinite diversity of the physical man is equaled, if not exceeded, by that of his mental attributes. Did Mr. Freeman ever see two human beings at birth, or at maturity, even approximately alike? If not, it is surely a logical deduction that their mental and psychic characteristics—their "capacity, power, or disposition"—betray equal multiformity. And here let me anticipate Mr. Freeman and those who may be disposed to agree with him by saying that the differences here spoken of are not wholly, although it may be granted freely they are partly, educational. What we understand by education, as a rule, but what would be better expressed by the word learning or knowledge, is only a means by which men are enabled more easily and effectively to put in practice their innate mental forces. Poeta nascitur non fit is an axiom that may be affirmed truthfully of many other members of the human family. All the book lore in the world, unaided by nature, couldn't make a man a Phidias, a Titian, a Turner, a Beethoven, or a Napoleon, any more than it could produce a Shakspeare or a Burns. The list in other directions of human achievements might be prolonged indefinitely and in endless gradations.

Let me also add in this connection that it is this variety in humanity's equipment in the struggle of existence that gives life its most delicious savor. A little reflection ought to convince any one capable of thinking that a dull uniformity in mankind's mental processes and physical proportions and aspects would mean chaos. A. H. CHISHOLM.

ENGLISH SCHOOLING FOR BUSINESS

Chicago, July 10.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Nine "practical information" quizzes appeared in THE TRIBUNE relative to the kind and degree of schooling essential to fit high school pupils for business careers. They were worthy the attention of all business men. I will refer to only one specialty, that of typewriting from dictation or from a not very legible manuscript.

In my experience I find many poor spellers. And why? The "word" method instead of the "spelling" method, as taught in our public schools, appears to be the reason for the defect. Again, they are deficient in the division of syllables and equally lame in punctuation. These are elementals and should be understood by pupils before they enter the high school. Many parents say: "Our children do not learn to spell."

Those of us who learned by the "old fashioned" or old fogy way—spelled every word by letter and divided the syllables, pronouncing each one separately—and attended the contest spelling schools, were generally proficient in this most desirable and useful art. What argument can be brought forward in favor of the word method? Is it for economy or time saving? If it can be proven that the pupils learn to read the printed page more readily and rapidly, more eloquently and with a better understanding of the sentiment and meaning of the author, well and good, which is questionable.

But suppose they can read acceptably and fluently, if they are deficient in spelling they cannot be good stenographers or typewriters. As conditions are today the query, "Teachers want to know what troubles business men most," in THE TRIBUNE of July 8, is pertinent and timely.

FIRING AND SMOKE.

Chicago, July 8.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Your editorial today on "Careful Firing Prevents Smoke" is the most sensible article on the subject I have seen. The railroad feature of it I am not familiar with, but if we had careful and intelligent stoking in the city the good results would be greater than one imagines.

An engineer is licensed. Why not compel the fireman to be licensed? It would naturally bring more intelligent men in the field. Now an ordinary laborer, in the majority of cases, shovels in coal without any regard to how it should be done. Elevate the position to a higher standard—hold the fireman accountable for results. If the employer has a good furnace, one that can be run without making objectionable smoke, make the fireman responsible instead of the employer. A reprimand from the smoke inspector for, the first offense, a fine for the second, cancellation of license for the third would do the business. Good results warrant the means.

Better wages may have to be paid, but it may be that the saving of coal will make up the difference. WM. E. SELLECK.

POLICEMEN IN THEIR HOT COATS.

Chicago, July 10.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—As a visitor to your city these last few days, I have pitied the Chicago crossing policemen. It seems to me a sin and a shame the way the men on crossing duty must keep their heavy blouses buttoned on these hot days. I am happy to say that my home town has taken steps to treat its crossing men more humanely than you do here. In Los Angeles a light uniform has been adopted for wear during the hot summer months. Why cannot Chicago do the same for its faithful servants? K. D. CARLSON.

BY SAM WELLER.

In a terrific eleven inning battle at Comiskey park yesterday afternoon Ed Walsh was given a beating by the hustling New York Yankees and the White Sox were crowded from third to fifth place in the race for the American league flag. Ed deserved a licking, for he was outpitched by husky Jim Vaughn of the Yanks, but if a bit of luck had only smiled on the Sox they would have won anyway. The score in the struggle was 5 to 2, the visitors driving home three runners in the last round.

Walsh allowed eleven base hits to be made off his spitter while Vaughn held the Sox to seven, shooting a fast southpaw ball over the corners of the plate with admirable accuracy. Walsh passed four men, but Vaughn walked nary a one.

Just the same a couple of bad plays by the Sox went against Walsh in the sixth inning or probably he would have won his game in the regulation number of rounds. Neither team had scored up to that time and pitching honors were practically even. Wolter was the first batter for New York in the sixth and managed to connect squarely with one of Walsh's shoots that apparently had no break to it. The ball went in a line to right center for three bases.

Hartzell Scratches Double.

With the infielders playing in close, Hartzell lifted a high one back of second. It would have been an easy one for Tannehill had he not been playing in close. Bodie came in on the jump for it, and Wolter was compelled to stick to third base for there was a chance Ping would make a shoe string catch. Ping knew he couldn't get the ball, but he was playing to nab it on the first bound, and by so doing he could hold Wolter at third. But Ping overran it just enough to miss it on the bound and it got past him. Not only did Wolter score, but Hartzell made the hit a double.

Even that wouldn't have lost the game except for another unfortunate play that followed. Cree sacrificed Hartzell to third base for the first out, and Jack Knight pulled a long drive to left field, right over the foul line. Pat Dougherty was after it at top speed and had to decide while running whether the ball would be fair or foul. He decided it might be fair, so felt that he dared not let it fall to the ground, and by extending himself to the utmost, he was able to make the catch, but it let Hartzell score easily from third base.

The ball would have been foul by four or five feet, but evidently Pat didn't see the foul line in his chase after the fly. Had he let the ball drop to the ground it might have prevented that second run, though no one knows what might have happened had Knight been given another opportunity with the stick. As it was, Chase, who followed Knight, hit a clean single to left field which would have brought a man in, anyway, but he might not have made the hit under different circumstances.

Sox Earn Their Runs.

The discouraging part of it was that the Sox went out in their half of the same inning and earned a couple of runs and the game remained a tie until the eleventh inning. If New York had been held to one run in its sixth inning rally the two earned by the Sox would have given them the victory after the ninth was over.

Both teams made spurts in the tenth, and in each case a double play prevented scoring. Then in the eleventh Walsh got into trouble when an error let the first man get on, and the second one beat out a slow bounder. Walsh hit the third one, filling the bases, with no one out, and a sacrifice fly and a single that followed drove three runners home. The Sox couldn't rally at all in their half of the eleventh.

New York and Boston were tied for fourth place before the games of yesterday and each was a half game behind the Sox. Consequently when Boston also won yesterday, both teams passed the Sox and shoved them into the second division. So although they won three of the five games played with the Yanks, they apparently lost ground in the race.

There was a fine Monday crowd of more than 5,000 persons out to see the final contest with New York. Expecting Ed Walsh to pitch, this crowd was prepared to root a bit, and of course expected a victory, but they hadn't reckoned on Big Jim Vaughn displaying such speed and such excellent pitching form, so their plans went amiss.

Duel in First Five Rounds.

The first five rounds was a duel between Walsh and Vaughn. In that time the Yanks got one man as far as third base while two others reached second. Only two Sox batters got on the bases at all, Sullivan getting a double but dying on second, while Tannehill made a single after two were out and got no further than first base.

Then Wolter opened the sixth with his three base smack to right center, and Hartzell followed with his flukey double back of second, Wolter scoring. Cree sacrificed, putting Hartzell on third, from where he scored when Dougherty made the mistake of catching Knight's long foul fly. Chase belted a single to left and Gardner walked, but Sweeney popped an easy fly to Bodie and ended it.

Walsh was the first hitter for the Sox in their half of that round and he whaled a single to left. Dougerty died on a foul fly to Case and Lord raised an easy one to Daniels, but Callahan came through with a slam just inside first base and made a double of it, Walsh taking third. Bodie, who had fanned both times he had faced Vaughn, made good in the pinch by scraping a single past second base and scoring both Walsh and Callahan, tying the count. Ping tried to stretch his hit to a double when the ball wasn't handled cleanly, but he was nipped at second for the third out.

Walsh Starts Double Play.

The teams fought on even terms again, with no chance to count until the tenth, when Daniels beat out a bounder over second and Wolter followed with a single, Daniels taking second. It looked bad for Walsh, but a double play saved him, Hartzell popping to Walsh in trying to bunt, and Ed shot to first base in time to double Wolter. The next man popped up and Walsh was saved.

Payne batted for McConnell to start the Sox half of the tenth, and beat out a hit. Wolter captured Zeider's fly on the foul line, but Tannehill singled over second. Sullivan then hit into a double play and spoiled the chance for the Sox to win.

In the eleventh Corhan went to shortstop and Tannehill to second, and Knight hit one right at Corhan. He let the ball get through him. Chase screamed a single off Walsh's shins, then Walsh hit Gardner on the wrist, filling the bases. Sweeney flied to Callahan and Knight scored after the catch, the others moving up a notch on the throw home. Vaughn walked and Daniels singled, scoring Chase and Gardner. The next two batters flied out, and the Sox couldn't get a man to first in their last trial.

Pound St. Louis Pitchers Hard and Take Final Game of Series by Score of 8 to 5.

St. Louis, Mo., July 10.—Boston pounded St. Louis pitchers hard and won the final game of the series, 8 to 5. The locals started the scoring, gathering two in the first and three in the second, the visitors scoring four in the second and went ahead in the fifth when they drove George from the mound and scored three more. In the sixth Speaker drove to center for a home run. Schweitzer featured in the field and at bat. Score:

SAM WELLERISMS.

The Sox will play a double header with Boston today, the first game starting at 1:30 o'clock.

Two games were postponed with Boston when the Red Sox were here in May, so there is likely to be another double header before the series ends on Friday.

Now that Ed Walsh was licked yesterday and the game lost anyway, it's too bad he wasn't saved to battle Boston today and a chance taken with some other twirler.

White and Lange are slated to do the pitching today, though Baker may be put on the slab for one of the games. There are several Boston batters who detest southpaw pitchers.

Chase tore a bit of skin off Walsh's shin with his hot smash in the eleventh and the game had to be stopped for two minutes while Trainer Buckner applied the peroxide. Right after that Walsh caught Gardner on the wrist with a pitched ball on the inside, and the Yanks' doctor was called upon the field.

The attention of the spectators yesterday was drawn away from the game a part of the time by a commotion over on the railroad tracks west of the grounds. A fatted steer had strayed from the stockyards and was making his way downtown over the railroad's right of way. Several passenger trains were held up before cowboys from the yards could rope the animal.

Roy Corhan got into the game for the first time since June 8, when he was beaned in New York by Russell Ford. Roy played one inning, going in at short when McConnell gave his place at bat to Payne in the tenth. He had only one fielding chance, that a grounder right at him, and it went through. He has been working in first class shape during practice, however, and says he's ready to play regularly.

Ban Johnson's rule stopping the pitchers from warming up between innings caused more confusion yesterday. In the first of the ninth Gardner stepped into the batter's box before the Sox players were all in their places, and Umpire Egan called a ball when Walsh lobbed one to Sullivan while warming up. In the last of the ninth Lord stepped into the batter's box and Vaughn threw a couple to Sweeney that Egan ignored entirely, so the new rule seems to be one that works both ways.

"Kid" Hit Twice by Pitched Ball Retires from Fray.

Detroit, Mich., July 10.—Detroit knocked Groom off the slab in the sixth, and Willett's wildness caused him to be taken out in the seventh. The score remained where they left it, Detroit winning, 4 to 3. Elberfeld faced Willett twice, and was hit by a pitched ball each time, then retired. Score:

LOOK OUT, WORLD'S CHAMPIONS

Cobb and Crawford Buy New Shoes and Sharp Spikes to Use in Series with Athletics.

Detroit, Mich., July 10.—[Special.]—There will be no love lost in the series with the Athletics which opens tomorrow. Ty Cobb and Sam Crawford, who this year has adopted Ty's baserunning tactics with great success, have both bought new shoes fitted with unusually sharp spikes, and they aver they are going to play strictly on the rule that the base runner has the right of way on the trail between the sacks and that any member of the world's champions who gets in the way will do so at his own risk. They are not going out of their way to "get" anybody, but they are not going to let anybody bar their path to an extra sack they think they need to advance the interests of the Tigers. They keep a file at the clubhouse with which they see to it that the spikes stay sharp.

Lynch to Investigate Case.

New York, July 10.—"I'll stop this sort of thing," said President T. J. Lynch of the National league when the story of the Magee-Finneran fight at Philadelphia was read to him tonight. "I shall take the first train for Philadelphia in the morning," he continued, "to investigate this case thoroughly."

BY I. E. SANBORN.

New York, July 10.—[Special.]—True to his form, "Lurid Lew" Richie went back to the slab today and achieved a triumph over the "Giants," which not only evened up the series but hoisted the Cubs into first place once more in the National league's perfervid pennant chase. The score was 3 to 2 and it required ten innings to accomplish the happy result, which at one time seemed certain to be frustrated by a rainstorm.

Richie would have had a much easier and a slightly shorter task if luck had not favored the Giants at bat, but he might have met defeat at the hands of Bix Six Mathewson if luck had not favored the Cubs when the Giants were in the field. Twice McGraw's men scratched long hits, one of which was an ordinary single and the other ought to have been an easy fly out. Both times these hits figured in the run column; in fact, they produced all the runs the home fellows made.

Miscues Help Cubs Win.

On the other side of the picture the Cubs never could have scored a run off Mathewson if the men behind him had not erred. Chance's men were given their first tally by Capt. Larry Doyle, the second by Fletcher, and the winning count in the tenth by Bridwell, in each case the nude plant helped. The hitting on both sides was too light to accomplish anything unassisted and the verdict hinged on the turn of a card as it were.

The Cubs swatted Bix Six for nine safeties, two of which were doubles, while Richie allowed only six hits, but one of them was a home run and the other a three cushion drive. The home run was a fly which Good did not see until it was almost in his territory and the three bagger was a scratch bounder which eluded Sheckard and cost a tally. Richie received good support aside from these unavoidable slips. Tinker made one small boot, but rubbed it out of the reckoning immediately by acting as pivot in a swell double play.

The Cubs would have won in regulation innings but for Fletcher, who spoiled a sure run in the fourth by a sensational solo double play. Hofman was on third at the time by way of a Bridwell error and a sacrifice. Jimmy Doyle pulled a vicious liner to left just inside the foul line. Fletcher reached over, pinched the ball with the tips of his digits, and the same motion carried him onto third base, which he tagged before Hofman could get back.

Rain and Heat at Polo Grounds.

The battle started in a Saharan heat which was stifling, but before three innings were completed there were welcome mutterings from the foothills of the Catskills. The threatening thunder shower did not reach the Polo grounds, but switched a few drops off the hem of its skirt as it rushed on by to the southwest. The rain was sufficient to drive portions of the crowd to shelter in the cavernous depths of the foundations of the new plant, but not enough to stop play at any time.

Hofman and Good kept the Giants from scoring in the first inning. Devore led with a walk. Larry Doyle popped out and Snodgrass slammed a high bounder toward right. Hofman barely reached it with his nude hand and not only held the ball but fired it to second in time to stop Devore. That saved a tally, for Archer let a passed ball escape on which Snodgrass made second, and Murray stung a hit over second. Tinker blocked it enough to hold Snodgrass on third and he perished there when Good made a grand running catch of Merkle's high liner.

Jimmy Doyle led the Cubs to their first run in the second round. One down, Doyle walloped a double into center. He went to third on Tinker's out and was prepared to be left there when Good bounded an easy one to Larry Doyle. But the captain booted it and the tally counted on Good's life. Murray kept the Cubs from counting again in the third by a diving catch which robbed Schulte of a pretty drive. If the ball had gone through Sheckard would have scored on it and Schulte probably would have completed the circuit behind him. The catch retired the side.

Giants Knot the Count.

Not until the fourth did the Giants knot the count. With one out Murray singled and Merkle hit a liner into left. It would have been a long single ordinarily, but got away from Sheckard on a nasty bound and let the swatter get to third and sent Murray all the way home. Bridwell popped out and Fletcher grounded. It began raining right there and kept it up for a round or two. When it let up the Cubs went out in front again.

Two were down in the sixth when Zimmerman pickled a two bagger close to the third base line. Jimmy Doyle bounded a nice one at Fletcher, but the ball got mixed up with the bizarre background and Fletcher missed it, letting Zimmerman score. Tinker followed with a single that drove Doyle to third, and stole second himself, but Good's hit hopped into Mathewson's hands for the third out.

In the next round the Giants scratched another tying run. Two were out when Fletcher poked a long drive into right center. Good did not see the ball in time to get under it and his desperate attempt to spear it with one hand failed. He nearly fell in the attempt and before he could recover the ball Fletcher was so nearly home that he beat the ball there by a fraction of an instant. Myers singled, but Matty rolled out.

Tenth Brings Cubs Victory.

This knot stuck until the tenth, authough the Cubs had an excellent chance to win in the ninth. It was Richie who led the final assault. He did it with a clean single to left. Sheckard made a neat bunt, but Mathewson, by a great play, forced Richie at second and the opening seemed to be closing fast. Schulte came to the rescue with a single to right so well placed that Murray could not rob him again. Sheckard raced to third on that. Hofman hit a bounder to Bridwell, who fumbled, and Sheckard imprinted the winning tally on the plate. Schulte and Hofman pulled off a neat double steal as Zimmerman struck out, but it did not help any as Jimmy Doyle popped.

It was close at the finish. Two went out in the Giant half, then Becker, batting for Matty, drew a pass. Devore dropped a little fly into short left and there was chance for another tie, but Capt. Doyle popped to Zim.

CUB SYDELIGHTS.

New York, July 10.—[Special.]—Brooklyn is next.

The Cub-Giant series remains a tie, six victories apiece.

Four games are to be played in Brooklyn, filling the time up to Friday night. Then the Cubs jump to Boston for five games, including a double header a week from today.

Umpire Frary has the fault of many beginners. He makes his base decisions too soon, he waves the runner out before the ball gets to the baseman on every play at first and every force out. He will have to slow down or make some bad mistakes some day. He had no close ones today.

Snodgrass was on first with two out in the eighth, and got fresh with Richie, taking a long lead and jumping back to the base several times. Richie watched him out of the corner of his eye and just as Sondgrass started one of his funny jumps he shot the ball to Hofman. It caught the joker so far off the base there was nothing to it.

President Brush's automobile cut a figure in the game, or rather it did not, but might have done so. In the seventh Archer led off with a hit over first base and Jimmy thought the ball went under the invalid president's auto which is stationed just outside the right foul line close to the stand. Under the ground rules that would have entitled Archer to second base, and he jogged down there. But the ball did not go under the machine, it went behind it, and caromed back off the cement barrier so far that Murray threw to second and Doyle tagged Archer out. Umpire O'Day conferred with Frary as to the facts, then declared Archer out. The Cubs protested, but it did no good.

COMMY AFTER SAINT BATTERY?

White Sox Boss Said to Be After O'Toole and Kelly, but Bresnahan Raises His Bid.

St. Paul, Minn., July 10.—[Special.]—Bidders are making things interesting and the chances are that St. Paul's star battery, O'Toole and Kelly, will not be in St. Paul uniforms all the year. The high bid thus far is from the St. Louis Cardinals. Bresnahan has offered $16,500 in cash for the pitcher and catcher. Charley Comiskey has come to the front with an offer of $15,000. Owner Lennon declares he will not sell unless he can get part of the purchase price in players.

MAGEE, INCENSED, STRIKES UMPIRE

RIGLER FINISHES GAME.

Damaged Arbitrator Taken to Hospital; St. Louis Loses, Four to Two.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 10.—During the third inning of today's game between the Philadelphia and St. Louis, which Philadelphia won, 4 to 2, Sherwood Magee, left fielder of the home team, assaulted Umpire Finneran. The latter's lip was split and he was compelled to go to a hospital.

In the second inning Magee objected when called out by Umpire Rigler while trying to steal second. In the next inning Magee was called out on strikes by Finneran.

Magee threw his bat in the air and started away from the plate. For this exhibition Finneran ordered him to the clubhouse.

Magee rushed at Finneran, who stepped toward the player. The men clinched for a second. Then Magee stepped back and shot out his left with full force. The blow landed on Finneran's mouth and he fell to the ground. Finneran finally managed to get to his feet with blood flowing from his lip. He made a rush for Magee, but was held by other players.

Finding that he could not stop the flow of blood, Finneran was taken to a hospital for treatment. Rigler finished the game alone.

Magee claims the assault was provoked by Finneran calling him an offensive name when he was ordered off the field. Finneran denies he called Magee any names. "I simply told him to get out of the game," said Finneran. "Roger Bresnahan stood near and heard all that was said." Score:

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 10.—Pittsburg made it three out of four today, shutting out Brooklyn, 2 to 0. Rucker pitched just as well as Adams, despite the fact that four of the visitors' hits were for extra bases, and loose fielding was responsible for both runs. Daubert's work at first base was brilliant. Score:

YANKS FAVORITES IN ENGLISH MEET

Yale-Harvard Team Choice Over Cambridge-Oxford Squad on Past Work.

BRITONS STRONG IN RUNS.

Americans Look Best in Sprints and Hurdles, with Honors Even in the Field.

For the fourth time since the proposition to match the boasted prowess of the American college athletes with that of the English university men was first mutually accepted twelve years ago the merger forces of Harvard and Yale will meet a Cambridge-Oxford combination today in London.

In the last two of the three similar contests the Englishmen have been beaten easily, 12 points to 6, and in the first meet, in 1899, they barely won by the margin of one point. Notwithstanding this showing, it was the Englishmen who renewed the idea of a meeting this year. Harvard and Yale promptly accepted, and on June 24 eighteen sprinters, runners, jumpers, and weight throwers—the pick of the track teams of the two universities—embarked at New York for another invasion of England. Late reports from New Brighton, the seaside resort near London, where the invaders have had ten days' training, indicate no ill luck to blight the assurance of conquest.

Only two of the eighteen competitors who have gone to England won a first place in the intercollegiate. They are Chisholm and Holden of Yale, who won the 120 yards high hurdles and the running broad jump, respectively.

Comparison Favors Yankees.

The comparison is decidedly favorable to Yankee success. As in former contests, nine events are on the program, and in all but two the Harvard-Yale men boast of better past performances than are reported from the Oxford-Cambridge camps this year.

Manager Floyd of Harvard predicts that his men will win the following events: Hurdles, Chisholm; running broad jump, Holden; high jump, Canfield; half mile, Jaques; quarter mile, Kelley.

The English captain expects to have the first two men in the two mile run and that Putnam will win the hammer throw, and Baker the half mile and one mile, if he is able to run, which is possible. He concedes close contests between Canfield of Yale and Dubois of Cambridge in the high jump, Kelley of Harvard and MacMillan of Cambridge in the quarter, and Reilly of Yale and MacMillan in the 100 yard dash. If Baker does not compete, the Englishmen look to Taylor of Oxford to win the half mile.

1. Barker, A. D., Harvard, '11, Brockton, Mass.
2. Cable, Theo., Harvard, '13, Indianapolis, Ind.
3. Canfield, W., Yale, '11, Seymour, Conn.
4. Childs, Clarence C., Yale, '12, Fremont, O.
5. Chisholm, G. A., Yale, '11, N. Attleboro, Mass.
6. Cummings, J. B., Harvard, '13, Boston, Mass.
7. Holden, John R., Yale, '11, Chicago.
8. Howard, D., Harvard, '14, Whitman, Mass.
9. Jaques, H. Jr., Harvard, '11, Brookline, Mass.
10. Kelley, H. W., Harvard, '11, Winchester, Mass.
11. Kilpatrick, J. R., Yale [capt.], '11, N. Y. City.
12. Lawless, H. P., Harvard, '13, Camb., Mass.
13. Preble, B. M., Harvard, '13, New York, N. Y.
14. Reily, Fred A., Yale, '11, Springfield, Mass.
15. Ryan, Wm. F., Harvard, '11, Everett, Mass.
16. Stewart, J. H. Jr., Yale, '13, Baltimore, Md.
17. Thatcher, Edw. U., Yale, '12, Cincinnati, O.

Foster Out of Meet.

Capt. Reginald C. Foster of Yale accompanies his teammates, but he has been out of athletic commission for some time past because of a breakdown. Others in the party are Richard C. Floyd, the Harvard manager, who is in general charge of the invading forces; Lester P. Soule, the Yale manager, and Trainers "Johnnie" Mack and "Pooch" Donovan of Yale and Harvard respectively.

From a Yankee viewpoint the real prize would be the capture of the British stronghold, the runs, in which the Englishmen have repeatedly excelled, and it is all up to the Harvard section of the team to wrest this prize, as all the American entries in these coveted events are Crimson athletes—Jaques and Preble in the half mile, Jaques and Lawless in the mile, and Ryan and Withington in the two mile.

Conceding that the British will successfully defend possession of these three runs, there follow two events of which there is something of a Yankee cocksureness. Chisholm of Yale won the 120 yard high hurdles in the intercollegiates in close to record time. In England he will be slightly handicapped by running on grass and because of the fixed hurdles which are customary with the Englishmen.

The Eli jumper, Holden, won the broad in the intercollegiates at 22 feet 7¼ inches, and if he can repeat the trick in England it will be about a foot better than the performances of either of his opponents, Susskind of Cambridge and Hartley of Oxford, this year. Kilpatrick, the Eli captain, is entered in the broad, too, and if Holden fails he is looked to to win.

No Harvard Men in Sprint.

Harvard, because of Captain Foster's breakdown, has no representative in the sprint. Reilly and Thatcher of Yale, both of whom have been credited with 10 seconds this spring, will meet McMillan of Cambridge and Lange, the Oxonian Rhodes scholar from Oklahoma, who are also 10-second men.

For the quarter mile Kelly of Harvard is the best man, having run it in :49 4-5, one second shy of the intercollegiate record. Stewart, the Yale entry, claims :50, while their British opponents are credited with only :51 and a fraction this year.

Canfield of Yale is a likely winner of the high jump, although this year he has not equaled his record of 6 feet 2 inches. Bellerby, the best Englishman, did 5 feet 9¼ inches in the dual games against Oxford this year.

Cable, the only negro on the American team, is a Harvard man. Though he fell down in the intercollegiate, he holds the Harvard record of 150 feet 7¼ inches for hammer throwing, made in the dual meet with Yale last May. He is reinforced by Howard, the Crimson freshman, whose best this year has been but 143 feet, and Childs, the next year captain of the Yale track team, who drew fourth place in the intercollegiate with 144 feet 2 inches. In this event the Oxonian, Putnam, has done 153 feet 3 inches, but the Englishmen throw from a nine foot circle and this may give the Americans a chance to improve on home records, but it is doubtful if the event is taken. Zeigler, a Rhodes scholar at Oxford, is one of the British entries. Previous meetings:

AUTO DEALERS PLAN FALL SHOW

A local automobile show in the early fall, which for several weeks has been projected by dealers along motor row, yesterday became an assured thing when at the monthly meeting of the rejuvenated Chicago Automobile Trade association it was decided to go ahead with preparations for the affair. About sixty members of the association gathered at their new clubrooms in the Metropole and waxed enthusiastic over the discussion of preliminary plans for what is intended to be the most elaborate show ever attempted outside of the Coliseum, where the annual winter displays are made.

The fall show is to take place some time in October and for one week dealers along the row will keep open house and make elaborate special displays of their 1912 models, while many of the agents are expected to put in decorations that will rival any ever seen at the Coliseum.

Chairman Gunther of the orphans' day outing committee was present at the meeting of the tradesmen and urged upon them the necessity of donating machines in order that the annual treat of the city's charges may be made a successful one. As a result of his plea about twenty additional cars were offered for next Friday afternoon, when the outing is to be held.

It will be necessary to secure donations of about 400 cars, and owners are being asked to open their hearts by coming to the rescue and placing their machines at the disposal of the orphans and old people for three or four hours on the day of the outing.

NEW YACHT FOR LOCAL FLEET

NEGOTIATIONS UNDER WAY.

Designed by Herreshoff, Boat Shows Great Speed in Races.

BY JOHN G. DE LONG

The race of the Chicago Yacht club to Mackinac island on July 22 took on additional interest yesterday when it became known that a deal is on foot by a syndicate of yachtsmen to purchase Shark, one of the fastest sloops that ever sailed in either salt or fresh water. If the plans go through, which seems more than likely, the crack fin-keeler will be rushed here in time to compete in the big race to the northland.

Commodore Craig of Toledo, owner of Shark, visited Chicago yesterday and during the day had several conferences with Charles E. Kremer, Harry Higinbotham, and other members of the Chicago Yacht club, to whom the purchase of the fast Lake Erie boat at this particular time looks like a good proposition. Around Toledo and among other ports of the lower lakes Shark for several seasons has been regarded as the fastest boat that ever raced in those waters and the long string of victories credited to the Craig yacht is pointed to in proof of the contention.

Shark was built at Bristol, R. I., in 1900 from designs by Nat Herreshoff. The yacht measures 74 feet over all and is 45 feet long on the water-line. The beam is 14.2 and the draft 11 feet. Mr. Kremer, who is the prime mover in the formation of the syndicate for the purchase of the yacht yesterday was jubilant over the prospects and declared if the deal is made Shark can be towed here behind a steamer in ample time to prepare for the Mackinac race. Final decision in the matter is expected to be reached before the end of this week.

Race talk fills the air at the Chicago Y. C., which this month is occupying the center of the yachting stage with the race for the Sir Thomas Lipton trophy scheduled for Saturday and the Mackinac event for the week following. Both affairs are expected to draw record breaking entry lists.

As a special feature for Saturday afternoon officials of the Chicago Y. C. have arranged for a water carnival to be held for the benefit of the veranda contingent while the big race is on. There will be a water polo match between picked teams from the C. A. A., while swimming races, exhibitions, and fancy diving contests will have places on the program. Guest cards will be issued to members of the C. A. A. for Saturday afternoon.

CYCLISTS LEAVE FOR BUFFALO.

"Pro" Riders to Compete in National Championship Event on Last Three Days of This Week.

The squad of professional motorcycle race riders who took part in the inaugural meet at Riverview Saturday and Sunday left last night for Buffalo, where on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday the national championship events of the Federation of American Motorcyclists will be held. The riders will return Sunday morning in time to take part in the professional races that night. On Saturday night the program will be made up for amateur fliers. At the annual meeting of the F. A. M. in Buffalo the board will be asked for a sanction for next year's annual championships at Riverview. According to Dr. J. F. Thornley of New York, who as representative of the F. A. M., presided over the recent meet, Chicago's chance for securing the big plum are exceedingly bright.

Two Roque Matches Scheduled.

Two roque matches have been arranged for tomorrow afternoon on the Washington park grounds between C. C. King and J. C. Lathrop, and Dr. W. H. Lyman of Topeka, who played for the Van Winkle trophy on Sunday, and L. H. Plummer.

BYFORD BEATEN IN NET PLAY

LOSER SHOWS FORM CHANGE.

Ludke Given Hard Fight by Green, but Wins Two Sets, 6-2 and 8-6.

BY KEENE GARDINER.

Heath Byford, who last week won the city tennis championship on the Kenwood club courts, went down to defeat yesterday before the superior stroke of W. M. Wilkins, 6–2, 6–8, in the second day's play of the state tournament, on the Aztec club courts. Byford showed a complete reversal from his form in the city tourney. Albrecht Ludke, another of the top notchers, was given a hard struggle by A. L. Green, but finally took two straight sets, mainly by his clever back hand, cross court returns, which Green seemed unable to solve. Ludke's scores were 6–2, 8–6.

Today's matches are expected to bring out close competition. "Dritz" Klaner, the Aztec star and former University of Wisconsin player, will meet Sullivan, who defeated Swanson yesterday. "Pete" Rehm, formerly a member of the Badger tennis team, also is scheduled to play.

The women begin activities today. Miss C. B. Neely, holder of the city championship, is a decided favorite, although Miss Marie Rimer of Washington, D. C., who holds the championship of that city and who is visiting Miss Neely, has entered, and it may be hostess and guest meeting for the honors when the final rounds are called.

NEXT TITLE BOUT ON THANKSGIVING

M'CAREY TO DRAW PLUM.

Los Angeles Promoter Offers Terms for Twenty Round Go Which Are Accepted.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 10.—Ad Wolgast, light weight champion, and Freddie Welsh, challenger, will meet in a twenty round fight for the title here on Thanksgiving day.

This was practically decided today when Wolgast and Welsh met after their two unsatisfactory conferences of last night. The terms accepted by the fighters from Promoter T. J. McCarey call for an unpublished amount for Wolgast, said to be $15,000, and $5,000 for Welsh. In addition, Wolgast will get 51 per cent of the receipts from the moving pictures and Welsh 49. There will be no side bet. The weight will be 133 ring side, the fight to be refereed either by Jack Welch or Eddie Smith.

BILL DELANEY WRITES BOOK; 'COMMY'S' GUEST WHILE HERE

"Maker of Champions" Goes to New York in Few Days to Complete Work on Pugilistic History.

BY KNOCKOUT.

Billy Delaney is in town. Know Bill? Everybody does wherever they think, talk, or breathe pugilism. Well, Bill just breezed into the city for a couple of days and then intends to breeze right along to little old New York. Came from Frisco, where he has been making his home for several years, and when he has finished with New York he's going back home again.

The maker of champions, for Delaney is known the world over for doing just that thing, arrived unheralded and since coming has been spending part of his time watching the White Sox and Highlanders perform and hobnobbing with his old pal, Charley Comiskey, and other friends.

The occasion of the visit? Bill's going to New York to assist in the completion of the memoirs of "William Delaney, maker of champions."

It will be remembered how trainer and adviser Bill made a champion of James J. Corbett and later did the same thing for James J. Jeffries. That's not news to the fellow who keeps tab on the fight game, but Delaney's remarks anent his last act pugilistic are interesting. That last act before the curtain was drawn on his pugilistic career was the topic on which Bill consented to be interviewed yesterday.

The unfriendliness which has existed between Jeffries and Delaney since they parted company years ago when the former was champion still exists and is just as bitter as ever. It was the cause of Delaney entering the ring to coach Champion Jack Johnson in that memorable encounter at Reno, Nev., a year ago, that last act it might be termed. When the black man defeated Jeff he accomplished a double purpose as far as Delaney was concerned. Bill wanted the black man to win, but more than that he wanted Jeffries to be licked. It sort of squared old scores.

So pleased was Delaney that he said yesterday he would have gone into a bantamweight's corner if the bantamweight were the opponent of Jeff instead of Johnson. One of Bill's old friends who was present at the interview butted in and suggested that perhaps Bill was kidding about that memoirs stuff and that he was going to cross the big pond to get Jack Johnson ready for his fight with Curran, the Irishman, later on. That got Bill going and he fired back:

"Say, don't you remember just before the Johnson-Jeffries fight that I was offered $10,000 by four wealthy New Yorkers to stay out of the negro's corner at Reno? Well, the answer I sent back was 'Not for Manhattan Isle.' My answer to this stuff about me going to help Johnson fight Curran is 'Not for Great Britain.'"

CHANCE FOR PACKEY-WELLS GO.

Match May Be Clinched by Milwaukee Club for September—McFarland Is Willing to Fight.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 10.—[Special.]—There is a strong possibility that Packey McFarland and Matt Wells, the English champion lightweight, will come together in Milwaukee after all. The Badger Athletic club has made another offer to them and the Chicago boy is inclined to accept. The date would be put over until fall, probably September, as Packey prefers that time to this hot spell. Wells also has an offer from New Orleans for a twenty round bout.

Hyland Victor Over Bezenah.

Louisville, Ky., July 10.—[Special.]—Fighting Dick Hyland of California gained a hard earned decision tonight from Andy Bezenah of Cincinnati in a ten round bout before the Jeffersonville Tri-State Athletic club.

Police Stop Flynn-Ross Fight.

Rochester, N. Y., July 10.—A ten round bout between "Porky" Flynn of Boston and Tony Ross of Pittsburg, scheduled here for tonight, was called off upon receipt of a police tip.

Bronson Beats Glover.

Memphis, Tenn., July 10.—Ray Bronson of Indianapolis was awarded the decision over Johnny Glover of Boston at the end of a slow eight round bout tonight.

IN THE WAKE OF THE NEWS.

BY HEK.

> One who is proud to have known the sport that is dead when it was in the heyday of its glory and cleanliness will not countenance, much less assist in, the desecration of the remains.

We don't know this Mr. White who admits the soft impeachment of being our friend Tom Carey's "yesman." He didn't obtain hereabouts when horse racing was possible, and the reason why is apparent in his speech. Mr. White is quoted as saying: "Because so many of the race tracks in this country have been closed many of the race horse owners are stranded, down and out. There are forty horses quartered here at Hawthorne and several of the owners cannot even pay their feed bills. Four of the horses here now are mortgaged to me. We want to give these fellows a chance to make a piece of money honestly."

Great! He thinks that it is up to Chicago to "take care of" this hungry, hunted, desperate horde to whose moral and financial delinquency Chicago has in no way contributed in the last seven years; that Chicago should furnish an asylum for the broken and discredited followers of the game who cannot find support elsewhere. We are greatly disappointed in Mr. Carey in allowing such a plea to be made to the public in his name.

Some "merchants" and "business men" may be in favor of the restoration of racing in some form or other, but when they express themselves in that vein they are careful to add: "Now, please don't quote me as having said so. I can't afford to get mixed up, you know." Cowards or trimmers—which?

C. M. Howell.—In the matter of "carrying" the standing of the Eastern league, your argument is excellent. We shall take it up with the top card at once.

What hampers the revival of racing in these parts more than the forbidding aspect of the authorities is that few outside of those who were a disgrace to it when it was permitted to flourish appear to be interested.

We could tell you one proprietary article that wasn't on the bill of fare when Lou Houseman dined Jim Jeffries, but it would be superfluous to mention it.

G. H. S.—Chloroform the idea! Your shrinking little playmate could never adapt himself to that gait at any price. It would be a short life and a crazy one for him under those colors.

"Mique Kasey, Thirty-third and the tracks," is informed that his chanson on the White Sox, judging from the condition of the paper on which it is written, was read in too many barrooms and attained too wide a colloquial circulation before it hit here to be transcribed into leaded agate.

That now measurably mysterious and comparative stranger, Hugh Duffy, passed through Chicago on Sunday.

THE LAMENT OF THE HORSE POET.

So goes that sentimental thing, that melancholy toot

It hits me where I used to live are sentiment tech wings

Afflatus that possessed me quite and sped my willing pen
No longer is my fancy fired by steeds of high degree;

The harp that once I proudly thrummed for chivalry and beauts,

HIDE DER ALIBI.

FOREIGN SLANG FOR KALE SEED.

Unter den Linden, June 29.—Mein Herr Hech: They have five monickers for masuma over here. I was a "guinea" in London, a "heller" in Austria, and now I'm a "mark." They have also named a lot of Karl's bad dough after Dr. Kronen. However, they don't have any trouble translating an American "buck" into any language. Keep the moon in the riggin'.

JOE EVERGREEN RYAN.

AT THE BILLIARD ROOMS.

Raymond [105] and Thompson [85] will meet in the 18-2 tournament at Sutton's tonight.

Two games were played in the three cushion tournament at the Romeo, Thomas [30] defeating Peters [35], 30 to 23, and Nosek [35] defeating Hankinson [32], 35 to 30. Meyers and Kopp tonight.

ONWENTSIA GOLF TOURNEY TODAY

Qualifying Round for Lake County Trophy Begins This Morning.

COMPETITION TO BE KEEN

Four Local Clubs Each Have Two Legs on Cup Donated by A. B. Dick Back in 1900.

BY J. G. DAVIS.

Play in the annual invitation golf tournament of the Onwentsia club will start this morning at 10 o'clock with the qualifying round for the Lake County cup, a foursome event, open to teams of two from the same club. The cup was donated by A. B. Dick in 1900, the club of the winning team holding it for a year.

Especial interest will center in this week's play, as the Onwentsia, Glen View, Riverside and Midlothian clubs each have two legs on the trophy, and unless there is an upset in form one of these clubs will get possession on Friday afternoon, when the final match is scheduled.

Kenneth Edwards and Mason Phelps won for Midlothian in 1907 and last year Robert and Paul Hunter took the trophy. Today Midlothian will be represented by Mason Phelps, the western amateur champion, and Paul Hunter, who last week played brilliant golf in the Midlothian tournament, in the final of which he defeated Robert Gardner of Hinsdale. Both Midlothian players have been performing finely, and they will be a hard pair to beat.

Onwentsia won the original competition in 1900, David R. Forgan and D. Mark Cummings doing the trick, while in 1905 R. H. McElwee and Bruce D. Smith won. Smith and McElwee have played for the cup a number of times and are a strong pair, but the club will have several other teams in the race. Among these are Alden Swift and E. P. Cobb, C. Counselman and E. S. Moore. Two junior teams will have a try for the trophy, these being W. Chatfield-Taylor and A. G. McKinlock and F. C. Taylor and W. T. Fisher, the latter being a son of Walter L. Fisher, secretary of the interior.

Hoagland and Seckel Winners.

Ralph Hoagland and Albert Seckel won for Riverside in 1908 and 1909, setting a foursome record for the course of 70 in the latter year when they defeated Bruce Smith and R. H. McElwee, 6 and 5. Seckel will have C. B. De Vol as his partner today, and if both get going right they may win, but both of them are erratic at times.

W. I. Osborne and the late Phelps B. Hoyt gave Glen View its first leg on the cup in 1901, and in 1903 Louis James and John D. Towne again carried the Glen View colors to the front. R. D. Bokum and Rollin W. Keyes and John and Norman Towne will represent the club today. Although Exmoor has only one victory, that being scored by H. C. Egan and Walter Egan in 1904, this pair has an excellent chance to bring about a five handed tie, as they will play this morning. W. M. Flant and Lee Maxwell also will play for Exmoor, which has Bradshaw Egan and H. R. London as the third string to its bow.

The qualifying round will be at eighteen holes, the four low teams qualifying for the first match round in the afternoon.

Following are the entries, but as nominations can be made at the tee several more pairs are expected to play:

A. Swift and E. P. Cobb, Onwentsia; W. Chatfield-Taylor and A. G. McKinlock, Onwentsia; W. M. Flant and Lee Maxwell, Exmoor; R. D. Bokum and R. W. Keyes, Glen View; J. F. Baily and J. R. McNulty, Ridgemoor; W. E. Egan and H. C. Egan, Exmoor; C. Counselman and E. S. Moore, Onwentsia; R. H. McElwee and Bruce D. Smith, Onwentsia; F. C. Taylor and W. T. Fisher, Onwentsia; Mason E. Phelps and Paul Hunter, Midlothian; Bradshaw Egan and H. R. London, Exmoor; A. Seckel and C. B. De Vol, Riverside; John and W. Towne, Glen View; F. Winston and W. A. Smith Jr., Onwentsia.

Forty Entries Received.

About forty entries have been received for the Mayflower cup and subordinate cups, play for which will start tomorrow. Entries will be received at the tee, but only from those players who have received invitations. Players will be allowed to select their own partners in the qualifying round.

In the semi-final round for the John F. Wallace cup at Homewood yesterday Miss Ruth Steele [3] defeated Mrs. Warren McArthur, 1 up, and Mrs. G. B. Grosvenor [11] defeated Mrs. J. P. Gardner [14], 6 and 5. The final will be played on Friday. Mrs. W. V. B. Ames won the eighteen hole handicap, with 129—35—94. Mrs. W. McArthur being second with 107—10—97 and Miss Ruth Steele third with 102—2—100.

The South Shore club will hold a Pater-Filius event this afternoon, and at Homewood the first match round for the Cheever cup is billed.

AD MEN REACH BRETTON WOODS

Bretton Woods, N. H., July 10.—All the members of the American Golf association of advertising interests arrived at Bretton Woods today on a special train from Lake Champlain, chartered by J. H. Ottley of New York.

The best practice score made this afternoon was a 72 by T. M. Sherman, the vice president's son, from the Yahnundasis club of Utica, N. Y., and it looks as if he would be able to take care of his championship laurels. The men and women members will compete in a four ball foursome tomorrow for net prizes and the chief event starts on Wednesday with an 18 hole qualification round.

The Chicago district is well represented, with President G. A. Schofield and W. J. McDonald, Midlothian; F. A. Sperry and R. A. Stanton, Westward Ho; C. H. Stoddart, South Shore; S. D. Flood, Windsor; E. D. Wheeler, North Shore; Guy S. Osborne, North Shore; F. E. M. Cole, South Shore, Norman Mason, E. Moore, and several others are on their way.

BOOK FIRM GETS SITE FOR PLANT

The recording of a long term lease of the ground at 526-530 South Clark street, new number, from the board of education to Rand, McNally & Co. is the final step in the acquirement of the ground to be used as the site for the proposed $1,500,000 plant of that concern.

The lot, which is 50x105 feet, is 198 feet north of Harrison street and was leased for a term of eighty-eight years and nine months, commencing Aug. 1, 1911, at a total rent of $736,375, or an annual average of approximately $8,273. Capitalized on a 4 per cent basis this is equivalent to about $4,036 a front foot and $39.40 a square foot.

This is an extension of a lease which was acquired by the company about six years ago and its present term was fixed to conform with the other lease of the concern covering the remaining part of the site.

This comprises a plot having a frontage of 300 feet on Clark and La Salle streets, with a depth of 210¼ feet on Harrison street.

Mercy Hospital Buys Land.

Mercy hospital and Mercy Orphan asylum has purchased from Oliver L. Watson the property at 2520-22 Calumet avenue, with lot 50x187 feet, east front, with flat improvements, for $22,000, subject to an incumbrance of $10,000.

It is nearly opposite the hospital and while no definite plans have been made regarding the use to which it will be put, it is thought it will be occupied as a home for nurses.

Frederick S. Oliver has sold to the Chicago Title and Trust Co., trustee, for the estate of John D. Jennings, the ground at the northeast corner of Indiana avenue and Twenty-sixth street, 125 feet on the former, and 50 feet on the latter for $20,000.

Mr. Oliver then leased it back for 99 years at an annual rent of $1,000, or 5 per cent on the purchase. He has improved the property with a row of one story stores along the Indiana avenue frontage.

The residence property in Drexel boulevard, 308 feet south of Forty-third street, with lot 87x180 feet, west front, and which was recently acquired by William B. Austin in part payment for the Rochester apartments at Twenty-third street and South Park avenue, has been sold by him to Nathan L. Blackmore of Wheaton, the consideration being withheld. The property is said to have originally cost $60,000.

Deal on Fourteenth Place.

Leopold Zeman has leased to the Antique Metal Manufacturing company the ground on West Fourteenth place 300 feet west of Jefferson street, 100x173 feet, north front, for a term of twenty years, at an annual rent of $600. It is provided that the lessees are to erect a building prior to May 1, 1915, to be not less than six stories high and to cost not less than $75,000.

Samuel Welensky has purchased from Joseph Frolik the apartment house property with 74x125 feet of ground at the northwest corner of Turner avenue and Twenty-sixth street for $18,000.

Oliver L. Watson has purchased from Samuel E. Thrall the property at the southwest corner of Lexington street and St. Louis avenue, 50x124 feet, with flat improvements, for a nominal consideration, subject to an incumbrance of $20,000.

The six apartment building in Eastwood avenue 215 feet west of Clarendon avenue, with 50x124 feet of ground, south front, has been sold by Charles Schubert to John S. Holmes for $25,000, subject to an incumbrance of $13,000.

The Real Estate Title and Trust company, now located on the bank floor of the Fort Dearborn building, has completed its reorganization. It announces its new board of directors, consisting of Joseph E. Otis, M. E. Greenebaum, Roy B. Tabor, Fred L. Wilk, Nelson N. Lampert, R. I. Terwilliger, M. W. Kozminski, Charles G. Little, James F. Stepina, C. A. Rickett, Arthur W. Draper, Nathan William Mac Chesney, Peter L. Evans, E. C. Kohlsaat, P. W. Gates, J. J. Danforth, and Abel Davis. Abel Davis is its newly elected president; Charles G. Little, vice president, Fred L. Wilk, treasurer; and Harry E. Ambler, secretary and trust officer.

The Real Estate Title and Trust company was organized in 1905, and has just been reorganized by the addition of $300,000 to the cash resources of the company and the election of the new officers and directors.

ENRIGHT WILL SEEK TRIAL BEFORE JUDGE KAVANAGH.

Successfully Demands Change of Venue from Scanlan and Fitch—State Does Not Object.

Maurice [Mossy] Enright, indicted for the murder of Vincent Altman, rival labor slugger, was saved from going to trial yesterday when Judge Scanlan granted him a change of venue. Judge Fitch also was objected to by the defense.

It is expected that the case will be set for trial before Judge Marcus Kavanagh today.

Assistant State's Attorneys Arnold and Northrup, who appeared in the absence of State's Attorney Wayman, made no effort to prevent the change of venue.

Cases of six other labor sluggers, pals of Enright, were called yesterday before Judge Kavanagh but were continued.

SUES J. L. KESNER FOR $10,000.

Woman's Conservator Says Crushing of Her Head in Elevator Caused Insanity.

Jacob L. Kesner, proprietor of the building formerly used for the Municipal court in Michigan avenue, was sued for $10,000 in the Circuit court yesterday by Mary M. Bartelme as conservator of the estate of Mrs. Helen Smichowicz, insane and now confined at Dunning. In September, 1909, Mrs. Smichowicz's head was crushed when she was about to board an elevator in the Kesner building. The injury caused insanity, it is charged.

ARRESTS TWO 'BLIND PIGGERS.'

Lone Deputy Enters Places Near Evanston Where Recently Twenty-seven Deputies Made Raid.

Two supposed keepers of "blind pigs" were arrested late yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Winanda. The deputy made the trip alone and succeeded in entering two places where drinks were being sold just west of Evanston, where on Saturday twenty-seven deputies made a wholesale raid. Those arrested were John Gilroy and Fred Betka.

Council to Revise Street Names.

Duplication in the names of several streets in Edison Park and Morgan Park have caused confusion to Uncle Sam in distributing the mail. At a meeting of the council committee on street nomenclature yesterday a subcommittee was appointed to take the matter up, also to study the subject of street names all over the city.

BOARD REDUCES FIELD VALUATION

PENALTY FOR TIRE HOUSE

The board of review of Cook county opened its hearings for complaints on personal property assessments yesterday morning and listened to more than 100 cases during the day. Representatives of corporations and individuals appeared to protest against valuations set by the board of assessors.

Most of the valuations set by the board of assessors which came up yesterday were confirmed by the board of review. A few were increased and some reduced. The hearings were brief and pointed. Roy O. West, Thomas J. Webb, and Fred W. Upham, the reviewers, heard complaints individually.

Reduction for Field Assessment.

Marshall Field & Co. made application to have its assessment valuation diminished nearly $200,000—from $6,667,000 to $6,485,000. The board assented.

"The company is not carrying as much stock this year as last," James Simpson, second vice president, said. "After a careful inventory we find that our goods in warehouses and on the shelves has dwindled about $200,000 below the mark of last year, when we were stocked up for an anticipated heavy fall business."

The company listed as its properties:

Fixtures, equipment, etc.	225,000
Cash in bank	59,700
Stocks and bonds	150,000
West town property	750,000

This inventory was taken April 1. Last year Marshall Field & Co. admitted an increase in valuation of $500,000 over the preceding year.

For failures to file schedules, where there was no acceptable excuse, penalties were inflicted by the board that varied from insignificant sums up to valuation increases of $72,500, which was added to the assessment of the Michelin Tire company. The firm's neglect will result in about $400 extra tax expense.

Increase for Rubber Company.

The valuation of the Diamond Rubber company was increased from $28,905 to $39,705 in spite of the vigorous protests of Charles H. Smith, general manager, who hinted at "political persecution." The Diamond Rubber company also failed to file a schedule, and is a defendant in one of the tax suits.

The Congress and Auditorium hotels both showed big decreases from last year's valuations, due to change in ownership, new managements, and divisions of the property. The Congress will be assessed on $220,000, against $240,000, and the Auditorium's valuation was set at $36,655, against $100,000 plus $50,000 penalty last year.

All sorts of excuses were offered the board for low assessments. One south side department store owner declared that he had wished to retire from business, and contracted to sell his establishment the first of the year. The intended buyer was to close the deal in three months. In the meantime the complainant purchased an automobile and planned a long trip. He also allowed his stock to decrease until it now inventories far under last year's figures. For this reason the board confirmed his estimate.

Worth $150, Man Claims.

"I'm not worth a cent," complained one man. "I don't see why you have got me charged up with $150."

"You don't own a bit of property—no household goods?" asked Mr. Upham.

"O, $3,000 fire."

"That'll be the amount of your assessment valuation then."

It developed that the board of assessors had wronged a West Madison street cigar-maker, a German, who had failed to file a schedule.

Answering questions, he said that he had no payroll, that his working force consisted of himself and wife, that he had no bank account.

"Please, I Got Nothing."

"Mein Gott, I have just a little room and a bed and a work table and two chairs and a little roll of tobacco and my wife and dog Schneider. Please, I got nothing."

The National Malleable Castings company explained its decrease over 1910 by asserting that the plant was running on one-half capacity. The Chicago Shipbuilding company has reduced its output. Many other concerns were relieved of assessment because of being in the hands of receivers or having burned out or because the property has been sold or transferred or because the assessment should be made from other locations in the county.

INDICTED WIRE MAKERS ENTER NOT GUILTY PLEAS

Delay Until First of September Obtained in Order That Demurrers May Be Filed.

New York, July 10.—The eighty-three wire manufacturers indicted on June 29 on charges of restraining trade today entered pleas of not guilty. They obtained a delay until Sept. 1 to enable them to file demurrers.

Only thirty of those indicted appeared in court today, but District Attorney Wise said he had received assurances that the attitude of all would be uniform.

Neither Herbert L. Satterlee, J. P. Morgan's son-in-law, nor Frank J. Gould were present. Mr. Satterlee entered a plea through his attorney.

National Bank Teller in Toils.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 10.—L. A. Kerrigan, paying teller of the Exchange National bank, was arrested today by the federal authorities, charged with misappropriating more than $5,000 of the bank's funds. Kerrigan had charge of the checks that came from the clearing house, and it is alleged that, by manipulation, he would cause the bookkeeper to make two entries of the same checks to cover up the alleged discrepancies.

POLICE HUNT FOR STOKES LETTERS

Waldo Wants to Know Why Detective Was Allowed to Take Them Away.

GIRLS' DEFENSE INJURED

Missing Papers May Show Cause for Their Shooting Rich Hotel Man.

New York, July 10.—The mystery of the eight or more missing letters written by W. E. D. Stokes, the millionaire, to Lillian Graham, the show girl, must be solved by the police and James Cummings, Stokes' private detective, to the satisfaction of Magistrate Freschi and Police Commissioner Waldo.

Tonight three central office detectives and a police lieutenant face serious charges as the outgrowth of the investigation of the matter, while Cummings is under summons to testify before the magistrate tomorrow as to the part he says he took in removing the letters from the girl's room.

The detectives are the three men who, according to Cummings, were in Miss Graham's apartment two days after the shooting of Stokes, when Cummings says he found the letters.

Girls' Defense Handicapped.

Miss Graham and her chum, Ethel Conrad, whose preliminary examination on a charge of attempting to kill Stokes is to be continued tomorrow, say they relied upon the missing missives to justify the shooting.

The four police detectives were suspended pending their trial upon the charge that they permitted the letters to get into the hands of J. Cummings. They are William Sullivan, Michael F. Walsh, Thomas J. Devery, and William J. Flynn. The men are charged under four heads:

1. Failure to make a proper report of their investigations.
2. Failure to report the finding of the Stokes letters.
3. Failure to produce the letters after finding them.
4. Taking a citizen into the apartment where the crime was committed.

Third Degree on Sleuths.

The filing of the charges followed a third degree séance, through which all of the detectives were put during the day. Commissioner Waldo had instructed Deputy Commissioner Dillon to proceed at once with the inquiry. It seemed evident to the commissioner that the letters which were written by Stokes to the girl did not get into the possession of Stokes except through the police.

Hardly had the police department acted when Acting District Attorney Buckner appeared before Magistrate Freschi and asked for a summons for James Cummings, the Stokes detective.

CROPS DAMAGED BY DRY WEATHER

FEEDSTUFF HIT HARDEST

Potato Yield Unusually Short; Tobacco Acreage Reduced 28 Per Cent.

Washington, D. C., July 10.—"Hot, dry weather—drought—has played something akin to havoc with the crop conditions during the last month," was the statement made today by Prof. N. C. Murray, acting chief of the crop reporting board of the department of agriculture, after the announcement of the July report on grain and produce.

"The report," said Prof. Murray, "reflects the rather serious effects of the drought during June, most of the important crops showing a condition at present which indicates a yield below that of last year and below recent average yields of production.

"Feedstuffs—oats and hay—seems to have been hardest hit. Less than two-thirds of a normal crop of hay is expected and the oats crop probably will be more than 25 per cent less than last year's crop, and about 12 per cent less than the average for the last five years.

Corn Acreage Largest on Record.

"The corn acreage is the largest ever recorded, but the condition of the crop is about 7 per cent below the average. That indicates a production of approximately 5 per cent less than last year's record crop, but nearly 5 per cent more than the average production during the last five years. The condition of the corn crop on July 1, however, was critical.

"The potato crop promises to be unusually short. The acreage has fallen off, probably on account of unsatisfactory prices during the last year, and the condition of the crop now is lower than at any time on July 1 in the last twenty-two years. Almost a sensational advance in the price of potatoes has been made during the last month. The average price throughout the United States on June 1 was 63.3 cents a bushel. On July 1 it was 96.3 cents a bushel. Ordinarily the variation in that time is only a few cents a bushel.

Tobacco Acreage Reduced.

"Owing to the difficulty in the setting out of tobacco plants the acreage of tobacco has been reduced 28 per cent from that of last year. The low condition of the crop, together with the shortage of acreage, have combined to reduce the indications to a total production of 63.3 per cent of last year's crop, or 77.3 per cent of the average for the last five years.

"Notwithstanding the drought the wheat crop, both spring and winter, will be well up to the average in total production. It is scarcely likely that the amount of wheat in bushels will vary a great deal from the average of the last five years.

"On general crop conditions the section of the country which appears to have been hit the hardest by the hot weather and the drought is the tier of states comprising South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, and Oklahoma."

AS VIEWED IN CHICAGO.

The Chicago trade construed the government report as moderately bearish on wheat, inasmuch as it indicated a yield of 458,000,000 bu, as compared with 464,000,000 bu of winter wheat a year ago. It is figured there will be raised 245,000,000 bu of spring wheat, against 231,000,000 bu last year, making a total of all wheat 703,000,000 bu, as compared with 695,000,000 bu a year ago. The estimated yield of corn on July 1 is 2,956,000,000 bu, as compared with 3,126,000,000 bu last year. Oats show a heavy shrinkage, being 818,000,000 bu, as compared with 1,127,000,000 bu a year ago. The following table gives the detailed figures of all grains with comparisons:

Wheat Still on Farms.

The amount of wheat remaining on farms July 1 is estimated at 5.5 per cent of last year's crop, or about 38,288,000 bu, as compared with 38,739,000 bu on July 1, 1910, and 37,101,000 bu, the average amount on farms July 1 for the last five years.

WISCONSIN BANKERS PLAN INSURANCE OF DEPOSITS.

Almost Certain That Association Will Take Final Steps for Organization of Mutual Company.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 10.—[Special.]—It is almost certain, according to Milwaukee bankers, that the Wisconsin Bankers' association will take final steps for the organization of a mutual company to insure bank deposits.

The suggestion that some such plan be followed was made at the last state convention by Martin A. Graettinger of Milwaukee. The matter was held in abeyance to permit of investigation. It met with approval principally because, if adopted, such a scheme would permit the banks to go more carefully into the affairs of the constituent banks and would give them discretion as to the admission of banks into the company.

A state insurance law, the bankers say, would make all banks responsible for all others, no matter how weak or objectionable some might be. A mutual company, they assert, will enable thorough investigation, along the lines of the Milwaukee clearing house methods, and all banks not doing business up to a desirable standard might be assisted to attain that standard.

ELECT STARRING OAK PARK 'L' HEAD

STEEL DEMANDS GROW.

Directors of the Chicago and Oak Park Elevated have elected Mason B. Starring president to succeed the late Clarence Knight. Mr. Starring is also president of the Northwestern elevated.

Mr. Starring is more or less in touch with the plans for the merger of the elevated roads, and since the Northwestern carries with it the Oak Park, the selection of Mr. Starring to be the head of the latter system so unifies the two managements that details of the two roads as related to the merger will be more satisfactorily worked out.

Mr. Starring formerly was general manager of the Chicago City railway company. He left that corporation to go with the Northwestern elevated.

May Be Merger Official.

He has been favorably considered for an important place in the management of the Chicago Elevated Railways company, the concern which is expected to take over all the present elevated lines.

Substantially 95 per cent of the total issue of stocks of the elevated railroads has been deposited under the deposit agreement. Henry Blair will be chairman of the board of directors of the company, and Samuel Insull will be chairman of the executive committee. These officers have been determined upon at conferences in New York.

The agreement to purchase the shares of of stockholders of the several companies has become effective. It is understood the agreement is legally binding.

Central Trust's Year.

Net earnings of the Central Trust company in the year ended June 30 were $324,820, equal to 16.24 per cent on the $2,000,000 capital stock. From this was set aside a new reserve account for interest and taxes, amounting to $54,000, and the regular dividend of $160,000 was paid.

Undivided profits as of the close of business June 30, 1911, amounted to $476,949, against $366,129 a year ago. Deposits were $21,764,989, against $18,831,964 a year ago.

W. P. Dawes, cashier, was elected vice president and cashier for the coming year. There were no other changes.

Unfilled Steel Orders Grow.

Yesterday's unfilled tonnage statistics of the United States Steel corporation show an increase of 247,871 tons over the last monthly report, the total of unfilled orders on June 30 being 3,361,058 tons, as compared to 3,113,187 tons on May 31. The amount, however, is 896,736 tons lower than that of June 1910. Improvement during the month just closed is attributed to a reduction in the price of steel products and the generally better outlook for steel. Monthly reports for the last twelve months follow:

Moody's Manual Issues Annual.

The Moody Manual company of New York has issued its annual publication, giving in detail the statistics of virtually all the industrial and railroad corporations whose figures are desirable in the general investing business.

The analysis of the securities of railroads prepared by Roger W. Babson is particularly valuable. The public utility section has been enlarged and covers additional companies, including complete statements of large holding corporations recently formed.

Chicago Securities.

Commonwealth-Edison was the feature of trading on the local exchange. The price advanced from an opening at 134⅝ to 137⅝, but closed at 136¼. The buying is based on the position of the company in the elevated merger. McCrum-Howell common sold at 50½.

Booth Fisheries stocks showed a considerable degree of firmness. The common was quoted at 38, an advance of 3 points over the last previous sale. The preferred stock sold at 64@65, as compared with the previous latest price of 62.

STATE MAKES BIG GAIN IN ANNUAL PRODUCTION OF COKE

Figures Compiled by United States Geographical Survey Shows a Large Advance in Industry.

Washington, D. C., July 10.—In 1910 the coke output of Illinois, according to statistics compiled by the United States geological survey, was 1,514,504 tons, an increase of 237,548 tons, or 18.6 per cent, from 1909 and more than four times the output for 1908. Illinois became fourth in rank among the coke producing states.

The value of the product increased from $5,361,510 in 1909 to $6,712,550 in 1910, a gain of 25.2 per cent. The average price per ton advanced from $4.20 to $4.43.

The higher yield of coal in coke made in by-product ovens is shown by the average yield of 76.8 per cent of West Virginia coal in coke at the Joliet and South Chicago ovens, whereas the average yield in the coke making districts of West Virginia, where all but 120 of about 20,000 ovens are of the beehive type, was 61.1 per cent.

FIGHT SHORT TRUNK RULE

Commercial Representatives Object to 40 Inch Trunk Edict.

BUSINESS MEN WILL ACT.

Appoint Committee to Get Railways to Reconsider Baggage Innovation.

A fight upon the proposed new baggage rule adopted by the railroads imposing a limit of 40 inches on trunks to be carried free as baggage was planned at a conference of representatives of leading commercial organizations and trunk manufacturers of the country held yesterday at the La Salle hotel.

The new rule which has aroused protests from wholesale merchants and jobbers is intended to be put into effect on Jan. 1, although it was incorporated in the new general uniform rules that went into effect May 1. It also provides that no trunks over 70 inches in length shall be received as baggage at all and imposes a charge equal to the excess baggage rate for 10 pounds for each inch of length over 40.

The conference was called by the Chicago Association of Commerce. Resolutions were passed declaring the new rule unjust and unreasonable, and providing for the appointment of a committee to confer with the railroads seeking a compromise. Failing to induce the roads to agree to a limit of 50 inches or more the committee is authorized to file a complaint with the interstate commerce commission. The committee was also instructed to seek a postponement of any such rule until Jan. 1, 1913, and to seek a reduction of the excess rate for trunks over the agreed limit.

Committee Represents Many Cities.

George C. Ebeling of the local wholesale millinery house of Gage Bros. acted as chairman of the conference, and was selected as chairman of the committee, which is to consist of representatives to be chosen by the commercial interests of Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Buffalo, Nashville, New York, Minneapolis, Kansas City, and Denver.

Although the railroads assert their rule is an attempt to stop the use of large sample trunks and odd shaped wardrobe trunks which take up the space of four ordinary trunks in a baggage car, several speakers condemned the roads roundly for seeking to increase their revenues. It was declared that the trunk manufacturers will suffer great loss by having to change the style of their trunks, and that large wholesale houses, particularly the clothing and millinery trades, would be obliged to discard hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of the large sized trunks now used by their commercial travelers.

Many were in favor of an immediate appeal to the interstate commerce commission, as the roads have refused to change their restriction except in eastern trunk line territory, where the limit has been changed to forty-five inches.

Think Order Partially Right.

Others declared that the roads were right in seeking to impose some regulation of the large trunks but thought the excess charge unreasonable and prohibitory.

"I think it must be conceded that the railroads are within their rights in imposing a regulation, but the rates must be reasonable," said Chairman Ebeling.

Fred L. Gross, president of the Travelers' Protective association, took an opposite view. H. C. Barlow, traffic director of the Association of Commerce, said that only through the interstate commerce commission could a reasonable rule be permanently established.

The Chicago and Northwestern railway has equipped practically all of its through trains between Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, Omaha, Denver, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland, and Puget Sound with telephone facilities for both local and long distance calls, while within the new passenger terminal.

HEAT SHORTENS PEA CROP; CANNED GOODS IN ADVANCE.

Apples, Peaches, and Fish Also Hard to Get—Dried Fruits Inactive—Prunes Maintain Place.

Peas continue to occupy the center of interest in the canned goods market, jobbers having learned a lesson from the 1910 season, when the shortage was so pronounced as a result of early damage that the article remained firm throughout the year.

The demand is more active than it has been for years at this season, and the supply of early varieties is said to be the shortest in years, owing to extremely dry weather while the crop was maturing. Another feature that adds to the firmness of the article is the fact that the new pack came on a market virtually bare.

Production Generally Less.

Delaware, Maryland, and other states in the southern district produced far less than was required to cover contracts for early Junes, while New York state and the middle west packed only 50 per cent or even less of an average in Alaskas.

This state of affairs forced packers who had sold futures freely to other markets to cover their requirements. According to information from Indiana, New York packers have invaded that field for this purpose, although the Indiana pack of early peas is placed at 50 per cent less than a normal crop.

Owing to the unfavorable outlook for canned apples packers have withdrawn future quotations on that article.

Canned Peaches Advance.

Prices of canned lemon cling peaches have again advanced as a result of scarcity and a more active demand.

Little is doing in canned sardines, although it is known that the pack will probably be unusually short this season. Demand for canned salmon continues good, with prices firmly maintained.

There is not much activity in dried fruits except prunes. Some packers have withdrawn their future quotations on Oregon Italians by notifying their agents to accept no further business for the present.

[NEW YORK TIMES FINANCIAL LEADER.]

NEW YORK, July 10.—[Special.]—Most of the improvement which prices made during the early hours of trading today was lost in a reaction which followed the publication of the government crop report during the final hour.

The trading was at no time large, and apart from the more conspicuous issues, the average contribution of individual stocks to the day's total was limited to a few hundred shares. Before the publication of the crop figures, the general burden of the day's information bearing on financial matters was altogether satisfactory.

Over Sunday rains had fallen in many states and had done much to relieve anxiety over the outlook for the corn crop and had bettered conditions for the cotton crop in the western section of the belt. This development was reflected in the commodities market by declines in both corn and wheat, as well as in cotton.

Reflected Optimistic Belief.

These new movements reflected the general belief that the bright outlook for the cotton crop had been further strengthened by the rains in Texas and Oklahoma and that the threat of serious damage to corn through a continuance of hot, dry weather had been removed for the time being.

Following upon such developments as these, the government's report giving the condition of the crops on July 1 proved something of a disappointment, at least in respect to wheat. The July 1 indication for the total yield of this cereal was 592,900,000 bu, which was a loss of more than 60,000,000 bu compared with the June 1 indications. This loss in indicated yield was due principally to a 40,000,000 bu decline in the estimated yield of spring wheat, the further deduction of 20,000,000 bu being due to the falling off in the condition of winter wheat. There is some chance that the final result will be better than indicated by the government report. There has apparently been improvement since July 1 in the spring wheat territory, and the latest returns from the winter harvest show in many cases better yields than were expected ten days or two weeks ago.

Last year the final figures for both spring and winter wheat were better than the July 1 indication, and this may well happen again this year. It is well, however, while taking count of this possible favorable modification of the government's July 1 estimates, to examine these estimates in the light of previous production.

Will Be Fourth Record Yield.

Even if the final figures indicate a loss from the June estimates as large as today's government figures would indicate, the total wheat crop this year will be the fourth largest ever raised and will exceed by about 10,000,000 bu the average total wheat yield of the last five years.

The promise for the corn crop on the basis of the figures published by the department of agriculture is for the second largest yield which the country ever harvested. The present promise of 2,596,000,000 bu has been exceeded only by the crop of last year, and is about 140,000,000 bu above the average for the last five years. Such results as these could not reasonably be regarded as unfavorable, even though they would not fully meet the expectations which were entertained a month or two months ago.

The report confirms the advices from the grain states of material impairment in the condition of the oat crop.

In addition to the day's crop news the market's attention was directed to the monthly statement of the stocks of copper and to unfilled orders on the books of the United States Steel corporation. The former showing a decrease of 8,500,000 pounds for the month, and the latter revealing an increase of 247,000 tons compared with the June 1 figures, were both favorable. It is known that the plants of the steel corporation were operated at a much increased percentage during June, and the fact that despite this increased draft on the orders already on the books of the corporation, the unfilled tonnage increased during the month by 247,000 tons, indicates a large increase in the amount of business recently entered on the books of the corporation.

Have Greater Improvement.

Some of the independent companies have experienced even greater improvement in their business than that indicated in today's report of the steel corporation. This betterment is all the more noteworthy, coming as it does at a period which usually witnesses a letup in steel trade activity.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, July 10.—Money and discounts were easy today. With the settlement commencing tomorrow, business on the stock exchange was small, but bear covering improved most departments, Paris support helping in the afternoon. Mexican rails were easy, and consols dropped a quarter to a low record, 78 9-16. American securities were firm on anticipation of a good government grain report today. Union Pacific and St. Paul led the advance, which was further increased in the afternoon on Wall street buying. The closing tone was firm.

COTTON.

NEW YORK, July 10.—[Special.]—COTTON—Prices fell again under further good rains and cooler weather in the southwest, together with scattered selling of the old crop months, which led the decline. For the first time in a long while the maximum temperature in Oklahoma was below 100. Also the early forecast was for unsettled weather in the western belt. Moreover, Liverpool was lower than expected. The south was selling the new crop months. Private southwestern advices claimed that the drought there had been thoroughly broken. Spot closed quiet, forty points lower; middling uplands, 14.10c; middling gulf, 14.35c. Sales, 4,200 bales. Futures closed barely steady at 15@17 points net decline, chiefly on old crops. Estimated sales, 250,000 bales. Prices:

UNION OIL COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA

First Lien Five Per Cent Twenty-Year Sinking Fund Bonds

Dated: January 2, 1911 Interest January 2 and July 2 Due: January 2, 1931

Redeemable as a whole at 105 and interest on any interest date, and in part for Sinking Fund at 102½ and interest.

THE EQUITABLE TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, LOS ANGELES TRUST AND SAVINGS BANK, Trustees.

TAX FREE IN THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

Present Issue		$5,000,000
Reserved against $7,335,000 guaranteed Bonds of Subsidiary Companies and the $1,000,000 Debenture Notes of Union Oil Company	$8,335,000
Reserved for future issue under carefully guarded restrictions as per Trust Indenture	6,665,000	15,000,000
Total authorized		$20,000,000

Attention is directed to a letter of Lyman Stewart, Esq., President (copies of which may be seen at the office of the undersigned), which he has summarized as follows:

"These bonds are secured by a First Lien upon all the Real Property and interests in real property now owned by the Company, subject, as to a few pieces of property, to $415,000 purchase money mortgages and $649,747 deferred installments under contracts for purchase, and are further secured by a First Lien on the Company's holdings of the stocks and securities of important subsidiary companies of the Company.

"The market value of the outstanding capital stock of the Company aggregates over $30,000,000, indicating a very large equity behind these bonds.

"Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co. certify that the Net Earnings for the last three years, ended December 31st, 1910, applicable to dividends, after deduction of all interest charges and after liberal allowances for depreciation, averaged about $2,875,000, or about ELEVEN AND ONE-HALF TIMES the amount required for interest on the present issue of bonds. In 1910, the net earnings so applicable aggregated about $3,300,000, or over THIRTEEN TIMES the amount required.

"The Net Quick Assets, after giving effect to the present sale of bonds, will aggregate over $6,000,000, which exceeds the face amount of the present issue of bonds.

"Payments to the Sinking Fund, to be made on May 1st each year, commencing 1912, shall in each year be sufficient to retire at 102½ and interest at least $250,000 bonds. Upon issue of bonds in excess of $5,000,000, the annual payments to the Sinking Fund are to be increased to amounts which will be sufficient to retire in each year a proportionate part of the total amount of outstanding bonds.

"For the past twelve years the Company has paid consecutive monthly dividends on its stock, the present rate being 60 cents a share per month, or 7.2% per annum."

An independent appraisal of the physical property of the Company and of the interests of the Company in the physical property of its subsidiary (companies comprising oil bearing properties, three modern refineries, a large fleet of oil carrying vessels, steel and other tankage, pipe lines and distributing stations) was recently made by Mr. Ralph Arnold, one of the foremost experts on oil properties, who reports a valuation of such physical property in excess of $71,500,000, which, after allowing for the bonded debt of subsidiary companies, leaves physical assets of over TWELVE TIMES the face amount of the present issue of bonds.

Mr. Arnold states that he has, in each case, appraised what he deems a very conservative cash value, and he believes that the future potentialities of the Company are at least two or three and possibly many more times the present cash value.

The form of the Bonds and the Trust Indenture have been approved by our counsel, Messrs. Cravath, Henderson & de Gersdorff, New York, who, with Messrs. Gibson, Trask, Dunn & Crutcher, Los Angeles, Cal., will pass upon all legal proceedings on our behalf.

Application will be made to list these bonds on the New York Stock Exchange.

Temporary bonds will be issued pending delivery of engraved bonds.

Having placed a very large amount for permanent investment here and in Europe, we will receive subscriptions for the unsold balance of these bonds, subject to allotment, at 91¼ and accrued interest, yielding about 5¾%

and recommend them as a very desirable investment.

CROP CONDITIONS HELPED BY RAINS

Corn Belt Gets a Drenching; Spring Wheat Enjoys Cool Growing Weather.

FOREIGN GRAINS EASY.

Oats Are Lower, but Rains Too Late; Provisions Are Languid; Prices Lower.

The government report for wheat was not published until after the close, but traders were of the opinion that it would be moderately bearish and the final figures were ⅝@1c lower. There were said to be office deliveries made of about 250,000 bu on July contracts. Cash sales were practically nothing.

There was a change of attitude on the part of the professional element today and after they had digested the early news telling of from fair to heavy rains over a good part of the corn belt bullish sentiment seemed to disappear and the market displayed decided weakness and followed a similar situation in the coarse grains. Cooler weather was also reported in the northwest, which also helped values on their downward course. Lower foreign cables and large world's shipments were also factors not only in improving sentiment generally but in bringing prices downward from their speculative altitudes. The private wire houses were the persistent sellers, while some of the leading longs were fairly heavy buyers direct and through commission houses, on resting orders. The movement of new wheat was enormous to all winter wheat centers. The southwest received 914,000 bu, against 381,000 bu a year ago. St. Louis received 1 car of No. 1 red, which tested 66 lbs to the measured bushel. The country continued to sell wheat heavily to arrive. The foreign markets were weak on more favorable crop outlook. Berlin declined 2½c and Budapest was 2c lower, and Liverpool showed losses of 1⅛@1¼d. According to semi-official reports the outlook for winter wheat crop is middling in Russia.

Liverpool Is Easier.

Liverpool markets were easier on the lower American cables and a generally better crop situation in continental Europe. The world's shipments of wheat to the United Kingdom were less than expected and La Plata offerings were firmer, but these were offset by selling by prominent interests on the very small demand for both cargoes and parcels and freer Russian offerings. European advices continue favorable with the exception of parts of Russia, where the general outlook is improving. There was a disposition in Liverpool to await the announcement of the American government report before making further commitments.

Corn States Get Rain.

Final prices for corn were 1⅛c to 1⅝c lower. The great amount of damage which has been reported for the last fortnight was to a large extent confirmed by the government report, which showed a heavy loss in acreage, although it indicated that a large crop will be raised.

Heavy and general rains west of the Mississippi over Sunday and the steady progress of the storm southeastward over the balance of the corn belt yesterday was the influence which made for lower corn prices. The longs had feared such a condition and sold out pretty generally on Saturday, thus the break was not as severe as probably would have occurred if they had still been in the market. However, many of the professionals reinstated their lines on the early break and caused a moderate rally from the bottom. The Ohio state report made the condition 89, as compared with 83 a year ago. Many private reports indicated the condition splendid in the leading states and that the rain was all that was necessary to make it continue so.

No Feature to Oats.

In the late dealings commission house longs sold oats for profits and looked for possible surprises when the government report was issued. The final level was unchanged to ⅛c lower. The estimate of the government indicated a large loss in acreage and condition.

This grain followed the same course as corn. There was a revision of the upward movement and also many of the former crop estimates. There were plenty of oats on sale on a scale up. There was a good general trade with scattered commission house selling early, but the pressure after the first hour was only moderate. Crop reports continued bullish, and thrashing returns from Illinois indicated yields of nine to twenty-four bu and light in the best sections.

Provisions Irregular.

Provision prices at the close ruled 2½c lower to 10c higher. The extreme nervousness of the grain list caused a small demand for products. Trading was mostly of a scattered sort, not particularly active and changes were irregular. The packers were sellers of small amounts of lard and ribs, which, with the selling by scattered longs brought about the concessions in prices. What support there was came chiefly from local shorts. The run of hogs in the west was 94,150 head, against 72,950 head last year and 66,067 head two years ago. The average weight of hogs here last week was six pounds lighter than the preceding week and fifteen pounds lighter than a year ago, but two pounds heavier than two years ago.

Better Call for Rye.

There was a good call for rye and prices were well maintained. No. 2 sold at 84c and new No. 2 for this week's shipment closed at 82c bid; No. 3 was quoted at 78@82c, and No. 4, 65@75c. Receipts estimated at 1 car.

Barley was unchanged. Malting was quoted $1.00@1.15; feed, 65@75c, and screenings, 30@65c. Receipts were estimated at 26 cars.

Duluth flax closed unchanged to 5c lower; July, $2.08; September, $2.05, and October, $1.97. Receipts, 1 car. Minneapolis, 1c lower; cash on track, $2.07. Receipts were 2 cars.

Timothy seed was 50c higher; August, $14.40 bid; September, $13.40 bid; October, December, year and March, $13.25 bid. Cloverseed, 25c higher; October, $16.00 nominal.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE.

Crop Expert Lyle wired Chapin from Des Moines: "The more I see of Iowa the more favorably am I impressed with her crop conditions. Have been in the state a week and have traveled 1,000 miles in observation. It is my judgment at this time there is a possibility for the largest corn crop ever raised in the state. I take it the chances are now in favor of relief, for all dry periods have an ending. There is no bad corn, and there is no corn damaged beyond repair. If any damage more than usual, it is not apparent. In height, color, and general advancement, and appearance, I cannot recall that I ever saw a better promise. It will take water to bring full result. The plant continues in good fighting trim for another ordeal. There is no evidence of early exhaustion. The more I see of oats, the more I raise my expectation. There is a fairly good crop. If any failure in Iowa's corn crop, it must come from ills after this time. All right to date."

Bartlett-Frazier had the following from Springfield, Ill.: "Up to the first of July do not think we have had a better prospect for corn in many years. Since that time the condition is lower and we find a good many fields showing the effects of the intense heat. It is fortunate the corn was not in the tassel or the damage would have been heavy. It is now coming into tassel fast and much will depend on the weather in the next few weeks. Continued hot and dry will bring out serious complaints and, we think, real damage. The demand is urgent for all offerings of old corn."

King of Toledo, the Ohio state crop report: "Ohio July corn condition 89; last July, 83. November 84, when crop was 145,000,000 bu. Acreage 2,986,000. Wheat condition 84, with par fifteen bushels. June, 88; last July, 93. Area plowed up, 2 per cent against two years ago. Oats condition 78, par thirty bushels; June, 76; last July, 104, when crop was 65,000,000 bu. Rye condition, 86; June, 85."

Broomhall special Russian cable reads: "In the southwest and southeast the crops are generally fair, the weather is changeable. In the south center the crops are favorable to good. In the Volga region there are further complaints of crop damage as a result of intense heat, in the northwest the weather is unfavorable for the oats crop."

Ledgewood, N. D., wired: "Sunday was a bad day on what little wheat we had left. Hot winds, with 102 in shade. There is no crop to speak of in this vicinity except flax and corn. South and southwest it is all gone and some has been plowed up. In the northwest the wild oats are bad; quite a lot have been cut for hay."

According to a semi-official report the outlook for the winter wheat crop is middling in Russia. Rye about an average crop. The outlook for oats, spring wheat, and barley are satisfactory, but the crops in the eastern section are beginning to deteriorate as a result of drought.

Bartlett Frazier & Co., have the following from Hall-Baker Grain Co., Kansas City: "Our representative covering best corn sections of Kansas reports this morning irreparable damage—40 per cent, mostly from tassel firing. Corn going backward daily."

Wheat supplies on ocean passage decreased 1,880,000 bu last week, making the total 43,832,000 bu, compared with 29,704,000 bu the corresponding week last year. Corn supplies increased 941,000 bu and are 12,688,000 bu, compared with 14,952,000 bu last year.

Stocks of wheat at Liverpool decreased 200,000 bu last week, making the total 1,392,000 bu, compared with 5,534,000 bu the corresponding week last year. Corn stocks decreased 51,000 bu and are 1,105,000 bu, compared with 856,000 bu last year.

A letter from Seley Earle Grain Co., of Waco, Tex., says: "The entire corn crop of Texas will not average one bushel per acre of good merchantable corn. Thousands of cars of corn are being shipped into the state weekly. We have never seen this before."

Rollin E. Smith wired from Williston, N. D., that there is little likelihood that North Dakota will repeat last year's failure. Believe possibility for fair to good crop yield depending on weather of next ten days.

Bids on the call for wheat to arrive were ½@1c lower; corn, ¼@1½c lower; oats, ½c higher to 1½c lower, and rye, 1@2c lower. Sales were: 5,000 bu standard oats or better, 10 days shipment, 47c Illinois proportional.

C. E. Lewis, Minneapolis, wired: "St. Paul road reports good rains over entire system, particularly in southwestern Minnesota and eastern South Dakota wheer it was needed most."

Lowell Hoit & Co., received the first car of new oats today from Monticello, Ill. The oats graded No. 3 red rust proof, tested 30 lbs and sold at 44⅝c.

Hogs Rally After Weak Opening; Packers Take More Liberal Share than Usual.

Quality counted for a whole lot in the market for live stock at Chicago yesterday. While fat beeves, prime hogs, and fancy lambs sold at steady to firm prices, inferior grades that had been marketed prematurely, on account of lack of moisture and insufficient feed in the country, sold at unevenly lower figures and were hard to move. Fat beeves sold up to $7.00 and all those good enough to make $6.25 and higher were fully steady. Plain quality, grass fed, and half fat steers sold at a decline of 10@15c and closed at the bottom.

Hogs opened on a basis weak to 5c lower than on Saturday. Shortly after the opening hogs of choice quality rallied to a steady basis, while inferior kinds weakened to 5@10c lower than at the close last week. The top for the day was the same as Saturday's, at $6.87½, while the average dropped 4c to $6.63. Lambs topped at $7.00, with Oregon range wethers at $4.60.

CATTLE.

Export and shipping orders, combined with a fairly active local packer demand, sufficed to keep the market for steers, valued at $6.50 and higher, on a firm basis, and little change was reported on the $6.15@6.35 class, but short fed and grassy steers at $6.00 and lower were easily 10@15c off for the day and they met with an unreliable demand at the decline. Exporters paid $6.15@6.35 for the bulk of their steers, while a Boston buyer and a packer paid up to $7.00 for fancy beeves. Packers took the bulk of the lightweight, short fed steers at $5.40@6.00.

Corn fed cows and heifers held on a fairly steady basis, but buyers discriminated against plain quality, grassy offerings and bought them at a decline of 10@15c. These are expected to sell at a steadily increasing discount under the fat, corn fed lots. Bulls held last week's bulge, while calves sold steady at the decline recently enforced. Stock and feeder trade was more active, but there was a liberal supply of thin steers on the market and prices held stationary. Quotations:

Beef steers, medium good to choice	5.50@6.25
Beef steers, common to medium	4.60@5.50
Beef cows, plain to choice	3.25@5.50
Fat heifers, good to choice	4.00@5.50
Heifers, selected	5.50@6.00
Canners and cutters	2.00@3.00
Calves, common to choice heavy	3.00@4.65
Good to prime veals	6.75@7.50

Feeding steers	4.00@5.25
Bulls	3.00@5.25

Cattle at six western markets, 56,700, against 36,000 a week ago, 57,400 a year ago, and 22,300 two years ago. Total for 1911 to date, 3,780,000, against 3,676,000 the same period in 1910.

HOGS.

Posting of receipts of 40,000 head gave the market a weak start and prices of plain and medium hogs showed steadily increasing weakness in the later trade, although the run was reduced to 35,000 shortly after the opening. General quality was less desirable than on any previous Monday in several weeks, and shippers and packers were forced to pay relatively firmer prices for a sufficient number of good hogs to fill their orders. The trade was lacking in vim throughout the session and 7,000 hogs were left unsold at the close. Few of the latter were of attractive quality, however, and packers appeared willing to pay full prices for the right class of stock.

Shippers took a total of 8,000 hogs, buying up a more liberal share of the offerings than usual. Packers took 21,800 head, with stability in the market for provisions and a broad demand for fresh pork products encouraging good purchases at the prices. The market closed in a weakened condition, but this was largely due to the inferior quality of the offerings and expectations that the Tuesday supply would not be much more attractive. Quotations:

Common to good mixed	6.35@6.60
Fair to choice medium weight	6.45@6.70

Pigs	6.00@6.50

Average price of hogs at Chicago, $6.63, against $6.67 Saturday, $6.74 a week ago, $9.00 a year ago, and $7.79 two years ago.

Eleven markets received 102,900 hogs, against 88,100 a week ago, 83,000 a year ago, and 74,900 two years ago. Total for 1911 to date, 13,311,000, against 10,193,000 the same period in 1910.

Hog purchases for the day: Armour & Co., 4,200; Swift & Co., 3,000; Anglo-American, 1,500; Hammond, 1,600; Morris & Co., 2,300; Boyd-Lunham, 1,200; Sulzberger & Sons, 3,000; Boore & Co., 400; Roberts & Oake, 800; Western Packing company, 1,500; Miller & Hart, 700; Independent Packing company, 700; Brennan Packing company, 700; butchers, 200; shippers, 8,000; total, 29,800; left over, 7,000.

SHEEP.

Although receipts fell far short of expectations, the demand for sheep and lambs was slow and uneven, with prices resting at the big decline enforced last week. Packers confined their operations early in the session to good quality lambs, weighing 70 lbs and more, and sellers had as much difficulty disposing of light culls at $3.00@3.50 as they had a week ago, when the same class of stock brought $4.00@4.50. A big string of Missouri lambs averaging 68 lbs, sold at $4.50 and sales of 54@68 lb lambs at $4.00@5.00 were numerous. The $7.00 lambs averaged 71 lbs, and the bulk of the good killers at $6.50@6.85 were of 66@76 lb weights.

Prime fat native ewes were quoted up to $4.30, but $4.25 bought most of the strictly fancy offerings here and good killers cleared at $4.00@4.25. Idaho range ewes made $3.75, with yearlings at $5.25. Oregon range wethers sold at $4.60. Western fed offerings made the same price and a few natives reached $4.75. Receipts were placed at 21,000 head, against estimates of 27,000 head. Quotations:

Shorn ewes	$3.00@4.35
Shorn western wethers	4.00@5.00
Cull sheep	2.00@3.00
Bucks	2.00@3.50

FORCE DOWN 1911 POTATOES

Reports of Sunday Rains Bring Attack on Tubers' Prices.

SPRING CHICKENS MOVE UP.

General Promise of Moderate Weather Settles Market.

Potato buyers at Chicago yesterday, encouraged by reports that Sunday's rains had been of sufficient volume to be of great benefit to the growing crop, stood out for lower prices and succeeded in getting supplies of this year's potatoes at a decline of 25c a barrel.

They could not induce holders of old crop potatoes to make concessions, however, and sales were made at up to $1.30@1.40 a bushel, with the absence of fresh receipts and the limited available supplies placing the market at the mercy of a few holders.

Spring chickens met with a broader demand than on any previous Monday in many weeks and sold at an upturn of 2c a lb. Old chickens were off ½c a lb. Butter and egg prices held stationary, but sentiment was less bullish than during the hot spell last week, and buyers looked for the market to ease off a little. Fresh fruits and green vegetables met with a broad call at steady to strong prices.

EGGS.

Sentiment is not so strong, but moderate offerings enable sellers to support values on a steady basis. Receipts, 11,390 cases. Quotations:

NEW "FLUNK" SUMMER SCHOOL OPENS WITH BIG ATTENDANCE.

Two Hundred and Twenty-five at First Day's Session—Pupils Must Work, Says Principal.

"Pupils have entered the new 'flunk school' supposedly to work and they are going to work," said James J. Armstrong, principal of the Wendell Phillips summer high school, at the close of the first session yesterday.

The school was organized to help along pupils who failed in less than four studies during the year that they might be fitted to rejoin their old classes in the fall. The session opened with 225 in attendance, the boys predominating.

Pupils of the Wendell Phillips, Lake, and Hyde Park schools were present in large numbers, and foes of the secret society system claim that pupils at schools where the sororities and fraternities were particularly active were "flunked" in greater numbers than elsewhere.

To this Dr. J. B. McFatrich, former Ald. Frank I. Bennett, and others who were not signally hostile to the societies, raised protest, and they are joined by Principal Armstrong.

SALARY LOANS.

SALARY LOANS—
Every person in Chicago getting a salary kindly call at our office and get all the money you want on your OWN NAME without security; a written guaranty will be given you not to enforce payment through your firm.
WE MUST GET OUR MONEY OUT,
so everybody come and get it. Our rates are the lowest in the city. You can pay us back in easy weekly and monthly payments at your own convenience.
NO ONE REFUSED MONEY.
Whether you borrow or not, come and get our rates first; honorable, fair, and just treatment accorded to all.
Present this ad.; it's good for money. You get the money the day you call; all we ask is to investigate our special rates first.

BANKERS TO SALARIED PEOPLE,
105 W. MONROE-ST., ROOM 502,

I APPRECIATE ACCOUNTS OF HONORABLE people [men employed or in business, ladies with allowances from their husbands or income from other sources], who, while not in a position to borrow money from a bank, realize that exorbitant interest charged by professional money lenders is high and extortionate. I am connected with the Indiana Loan, Credit and Trust Company of Chicago, co-partners, 4303 Grand-blvd., and, having private means of my own, I am willing to loan money with or without security and at a consideration but a trifle above bank rates, and never more than the interest legalized by the states of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, the precise rate being determined by the amount loaned and risk assumed. My location [15 minutes from loop district via South Side elevated] assures a privacy not possible to those who deal with brokers in downtown office buildings, where lenders congregate. Always best to telephone Drexel 54 for private appointment. Ask for MR. S.

MONEY FOR SALARIED PEOPLE—IF YOU hold a permanent salaried position we will loan you any reasonable sum from $10 upward WITHOUT security or knowledge of employer or friends. Our rates are LOW, payments easy. REBATE if paid before due. QUICK SERVICE; long time if desired; no red tape; no extra charge; nothing taken out of loan in advance. Office hours 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. Will receive courteous treatment whether you borrow or not.
